CARRANZA DEFIES PAN-AMERICAN PEACE EFFORT

Indiana State Library

SERVES NOTICE ON STATE DEPARTMENT

PROMPT MOVE BY PAN-AMERICANS EXPECTED

Washington, Aug. 11.—General Carranza, through his Washington agents today notified Secretary Lansing that "the Mexican people view with displeasure," any attempt to frustrate the success of Carranza's armed forces.

Carranza's message referred to the pan-American conference, and was taken as plainly signifying he would not agree with its action toward Mexican affairs.

Carranza also has sent a similar notification to the diplomatic representatives of all three Latin-American republics participating in the Mexican conference saying that any attempt between them and the American government to solve the internal situation of Mexico "would involve an act which could not be looked upon with levity, as it would mean on the part of the Latin-American nations the acceptance of the precedent that they can take part in any international affairs of a sister nation with the co-operation of the United States, something absolutely undesirable, not only insofar as it may affect the relations between the Latin-American nations themselves, and also, because it might involve the moral support of any future decisions which grow out of similar conferences."

Amounts to Defiance.

Carranza's communication delivered on his behalf by his Washington agent, Elesio Arredondo, was regarded as little less than a defiance of the United States in its effort to bring all the Mexican factions into a conference for peaceful settlement of Mexican affairs.

What the next move of the pan-American conference in session in New York today would be in the face of Carranza's warning that he intended to brook no outside interference in Mexican affairs was eagerly awaited.

In a letter to Secretary Lansing, Arredondo expresses surprise that a pan-American conference had undertaken to devise a plan for the pacification of Mexico and says reports to that effect "have caused the constitutional government to feel justly alarmed." He declared he had been instructed by Carranza to communicate to the secretary on the subject.

What the Letter Says.

"Mr. Carranza and the persons who co-operate with him," says the letter to Secretary Lansing, "are of the profound conviction that if the American government would know the true situation in Mexico, it would understand that the only possible, just and acceptable solution would be to leave the revolution to follow its natural course until the complete victory of the party representing greater necessities and popularity.

"The constitutionalist government represented by Mr. Carranza abstains from passing any comment on the conferences that are being held, because it has no knowledge of their character, and of the conclusions which may have been reached, and because it does not want to afford the supposition that they tacitly consented to it; but at the same time it considers it its duty to inform the American government of the displeasure with which the Mexican government and people would view any act which would tend to frustrate the success practically accomplished against the reactionary factions by the constitutionalist army, representing the hopes and ideals of the Mexican people."

The Carranza agency also announced that Gen. Carranza had sent notes to Argentina and Chile protesting against their participation in the pan-American conference and apparently having been misinformed that Brazil refused to join the conference, has dispatched a note to Rio De Janiero expressing his gratification for what he understood to have been Brazil's action.

BATTLESHIPS PUSH AWAY.

Louisiana and New Hampshire Steaming for Vera Cruz.

Washington, Aug. 11.—American warships today were steaming at full speed for Vera Cruz, presumably under orders from President Wilson to protect foreign interests which have been endangered there. Responding to an urgent appeal from Commander McNamee, senior American naval officers at Vera Cruz, the battleships Louisiana and New Hampshire sailed from Newport, R. I., last night as a result of anti-foreign demonstrations at the Mexican port. The warships will reinforce the fleet of American gunboats in Mexican waters.

Officials continued their reticence today concerning the dispatch of the warships. It was feared that if it became known in advance that the war vessels were on their way to Vera Cruz it might increase the tenseness of the situation there.

Officials endeavored to make it plain, however, that the movement was purely a precautionary step and had no bearing whatever upon the pan-American conference which was resumed in New York today to complete plans for ending the Mexican revolution. Confirmation of the report of Commander McNamee regarding conditions at Vera Cruz has been received, although details were lacking. The new reports have been forwarded to President Wilson at Cornish, N. H.

NOW MEET IN NEW YORK.

Pan-Americans Agreeing on Final Details of Peace Move.

New York, Aug. 11.—Diplomatic representatives of Brazil, Chili, Argentina, Bolivia, Guatemala and Uruguay and Secretary Lansing met here today to act identically in a plan which has for its aim the restoration of peace in Mexico.

An appeal to Mexicans of all factions to subordinate personal and selfish interests to the national welfare of Mexico has been prepared. Both President Wilson and Secretary Lansing have given it their approval and after today's conference on details of phraseology, and the length of time in which it should be indicated that replies were hoped for, the communication will be distributed throughout Mexico to leaders and officials, civil and military. The situation that has arisen at Vera Cruz, where anti-foreign demonstrations are reported, gave the diplomats some concern, but they were confident that when the appeal is made public the misconstruction of their purposes, which evidently had been spread in some parts of Mexico, would be removed.

The conference probably will adjourn late today after the appeal is finally approved and a committee of the conference appointed to consult with Secretary Lansing in Washington from time to time on various details of the peace plan.

WOODMEN LEAVE FOR TRI-STATE MEETING

Several members of Company F, Thirteenth regiment, and the band, of the Fort Wayne camp, Woodmen of the World, left Wednesday for Milwaukee, Wis., to attend the tri-state annual encampment to be held there from August 11 to 14, inclusive.

Baptain Ellis, accompanied the band, and Captain Wolf was in charge of the regiment. H. T. Drew, is the regiment commissary.

GASOLINE STOVE EXPLODES.

A gasoline stove at 333 Madison street, exploded at 11:30 o'clock Wednesday morning, filling the entire kitchen with flames. E. S. Vananda, who occupies the house, sent a call to the department, which arrived in double quick time and saved the house from further damage. Mr. Vananda luckily escaped without a burn.

SIX INDICTED FOR DISASTER

GRAND JURY AT CHICAGO ACTS

Four Officers of Company Hit With Boat Captain and Engineer.

Chicago, Aug. 11.—Indictments charging manslaughter and criminal carelessness were returned before Judge Kersten in the criminal court today in connection with the Eastland disaster. The captain and engineer and four officers of the St. Joseph-Chicago Steamship company, owners of the boat, are named as follows:

Wm. H. Hull,, vice-president and general manager.

W. C. Steele, secretary-treasurer.

Joseph M. Erickson, engineer.

Bonds were placed at $20,000 each for the company officials and $10,000 each for Pedersen and Erickson.

The last named are charged with criminal carelessness and the officials with manslaughter. Separate bills were returned against the captain and the engineer while the four officials were named in a joint indictment.

Against the Officials.

1—That they knew the Eastland was unseaworthy and had no stability.

2—That they permitted 2,500 passengers aboard the vessel, which is more than its carrying capacity.

3—That they were negligent in hiring an incompetent engineer who, because of his lack of skill, was unable to control the boat properly.

4—That the crew did not number enough hands to manage and control the Eastland properly.

5—That the ballast tanks were allowed to be out of repair and were not filled.

Against Captain Pedersen.

Against Captain Pedersen these charges were brought:

1—That he permitted aboard the boat a larger number of passengers than she could safely carry.

2—That he neglected to warn the passengers to leave the ship when it became apparent to him that she was about to overturn.

3 and 4—That he was negligent in not seeing that the ballast tanks were in repair and were properly filled.

5—That he was negligent in not seeing that the chalk holes and gangways were closed when the ship was loaded.

Counts in the indictment against Erickson are in essential similar to those against Pedersen. The report of the grand jury finds that the disaster was caused by "instability under conditions of loading, and states that the instability was due to one of three main causes, or any two, or all of them," as follows:

The construction of the vessel.

The report says that the Eastland began loading passengers without water ballast, and belated efforts to fill the tanks failed of success.

"That the instability of the boat was not corrected years before we regard as indicating criminal carelessness of [illegible]

THREATENS AN OPTION FIGHT

WAR TALK HEARD IN CITY COUNCIL

Mills Anti-Screen Ordinance Defeated, But is to Come Up Again.

"Saloonists have in opportunities to co-operate with movements like this a chance to save their business, but if they are going to oppose reasonable measures, I warn them to look out. We will go to work and vote this town dry. We believe we can do it. The men of Fort Wayne mean business."

With these words Prof. Francis M. Price, president of the Men's Christian League of Fort Wayne, concluded a brief address to the city council, Tuesday evening, just before that body took the vote that sealed the present fate of the Mills anti-screen ordinance, flouting a petition signed by 2,356 legal voters of Fort Wayne.

The words of the league president evoked a tremendous storm of applause from the three hundred men who were jammed into the public reservation of the chamber and crowded out into the corridors, making one of the largest lobbies that has ever attended a meeting of the Fort Wayne council.

A moment later the council voted on a motion to adopt the majority report of the rules, regulations and ordinances committee that the anti-screen measure do not pass and the ordinance received the death sentence by a vote of 11 to 4.

Big Lobby There.

The great delegation of the Men's Christian League had assembled early in the evening at Grace Reformed church on Washington street and in a body marched to the council chamber, which they completely filled. All the seats were occupied and the aisles were crowded, the assembly overflowing into the main corridor outside the chamber. There were a few saloonkeepers present and some representatives of the breweries. The zeal and enthusiasm of the temperance forces were marked from the moment of their arrival and they overlooked no opportunity to applaud.

REPEATERS SWEAR OFF ON POLITICS

Terre Haute Men, Securing Release, Say They've Had Enough of It.

Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 11.—The majority of nineteen Terre Haute poll fraud conspirators, released from the Marion county jail today after serving their sentences of four months, asserted that they would never again dabble in politics. These included some of the most expert repeaters and vote manipulators rounded up by the federal government in the Terre Haute case.

Five others whose sentences expired today, were not released because their fines or the costs in the case had not been paid. Ten other Terre Haute prisoners sentenced in the vote conspiracy case, remain at the jail, their stay having been fixed at six months by Judge Anderson.

Those released today were: Thomas Brady, Elza Brooks, Will Bunkley, Walter Coordes, Elmer Conover, Dow Finleyson, Dave Hanna, Enno Harms, Dean and Earl Jeffers, Joe Kelly, Robert Lloyd, Ed Merritt, Henry Rochelle, Thomas Ross, Bert Tosser, Earl Demint, Ad Rogers and Charles Yakel.

INSISTS ON RIGHT TO SELL MUNITIONS

Washington, Aug. 11.—The United States government has dispatched to Vienna a reply rejecting the Austro-Hungarian views recently set forth in a note contending that the great scale on which war munitions are being exported from America to enemies of the Germanic allies "is not in consonance with the definition of neutrality."

The note was cabled to Ambassador Penfield, who probably will present it to the Vienna foreign office Thursday. It may be made public later by agreement between the two governments.

Though framed in diplomatic language and entirely friendly in tone the reply is understood to repudiate flatly the suggestion that the United States has permitted violations of neutrality and to stand firmly upon the right of American exporters to send war supplies to belligerents able to purchase and receive them. The United States always has held that this is an unquestioned right under international law and high officials have pointed out that to prevent such shipments to one country because another was not in a position to receive them would be [illegible]

WILL RETURN TO WASHINGTON SOON

Cornish, N. H., Aug. 11.—President Wilson was preparing today to leave the summer capital for Washington to discuss the Mexican and other foreign questions with Secretary Lansing and other members of his cabinet. In anticipation of leaving Cornish the president did not play golf this morning, but remained in his study working on official business received from Washington. He paid particular attention to the Mexican situation, but would make no comment for publication.

Most of the morning hours were spent by the president in writing on his typewriter. An announcement on Mexico is expected soon after his return to Washington. The president will be accompanied back to Washington only by Dr. Cary T. Grayson, a stenographer, and secret service men. Members of his family will remain here.

ALL BROTHERS WILL RETURN EXCEPT ONE

Information has been given out that all the Brothers of the Holy Cross who taught last year at the Central Catholic High school, Lewis and Calhoun streets, will return this year to assume their regular duties with the exception of one. Brother Nicholas, who has been here several years, will not come back, and his successor has not been appointed.

Brother Daniel, C.S.C., will again serve as Brother Superior, and the others who are to return are: Brother Epriam, C.S.C.; Brother Gregory, C.S.C.; Brother Exupere, C.S.C.; Brother Anthony, C.S.C.

The graduation class this year will consist of thirteen members at the opening of the term, and if none drop out, it will be the largest class to graduate from the school. According to present indications the school will be crowded this year, and the increase in number of scholars will be larger this year than in any previous one.

NARROW ESCAPE IN STRANGE ACCIDENT

Samuel Bedford, a baker, residing at 1038 Forest avenue, had a narrow escape from serious injury or death in a singular accident that befell him about 6:45 Wednesday morning at Columbia and Lafayette streets. He was driving into the city when an East Main street car's trolley-pole jumped and struck the guy wire that supports the trolley circuit. That jarred a wooden pole that carried the guy wire with such force as to break it off at the ground and the pole fell upon Mr. Bedford's head. He was struck only a glancing blow and was not seriously injured. His wagon suffered considerable damage. The pole that fell is said to have been greatly weakened by decay where it entered the ground.

SUSPEND BUSINESS AS ACT OF TRIBUTE

In tribute to the late Dr. George A. Barry, who was well known and held in high esteem by everyone who knew him, all places of business on Fairfield avenue, between the Wabash railroad and Creighton avenue, closed Wednesday afternoon during the time of the funeral of the physician. This action on the part of the business men was brought about through the efforts of J. C. Alleger, who operates a feed store at 1921 Fairfield avenue.

Funeral services for their departed friend and neighbor were held at 1:45 o'clock at the residence, Rev. H. C. Hadley officiating, and at 2:30 at the Scottish Rite cathedral. The Odd Fellows had charge of the services at Lindenwood. The services were attended by hundreds of people.

ALLIES LAND 50,000 MEN

But Already Suffer Heavy Loss in New Legions, Says Enver Pasha.

BENJAMINOW IS TAKEN BY GERMANS

Today's War News Given in Summary.

About 50,000 men were landed by the entente allies in their recent operations in the Dardanelles, according to an estimate made in Constantinople by Enver Pasha, the Turkish minister of war. Enver Pasha declared the Turks were well prepared to meet the new offensive and already had inflicted heavy losses on the forces last landed.

German attacks on Kovno, an important point in the Russian line of defense in the north, have been pressed so vigorously that preparations for the possible evacuation of the fortress are reported to be under way.

Elsewhere along the fighting front in the east the Teutonic pressure is still being strongly exerted and except at isolated points the Russian retirement is indicated by the official reports to Berlin.

Quiet prevailed for the most part along the front in France. The Paris war office reported cannonading and bomb operations in the Artois district. The only other activity noted was in the Argonne where the Germans violently bombarded the French positions east of the road from Vienne-le-Chateau to Binarville.

Constantinople, Aug. 9.—(Via Berlin, Aug. 11.)—Enver Pasha, the Turkish minister of war, declared today that according to his information the entente allies in their latest operations at the Dardanelles had landed three divisions of troops, comprising about 50,000 men. The losses among them, however, he asserted, already had been very heavy.

Enver Pasha's statement was made in an interview with a correspondent of the Associated Press. The Turkish war minister said:

"I am fully confident that we will be able to keep the allies in check on the Gallipoli peninsula, even if other large reinforcements are coming. We knew that the allies' action of two days ago was due, and we prepared for it, with the result that we were not caught napping.

"According to my information the allies landed three divisions, about 50,000 men. No doubt part of them no longer count, considering the heavy losses they sustained in attacks incident to the new offensive. The allied losses have been very heavy so far in this new attempt to force the Dardanelles."

BENJAMINOW IS TAKEN.

Germans Win New Success Northwest of Warsaw.

Berlin, Aug. 11.—The German war office announced today the occupation of the fortress of Benjaminow, which lies to the east of Novogeorgievsk, the Russian stronghold on the Vistula northwest of Warsaw.

RUSSIANS ARE REASSURED.

London, Aug. 11.—Discussing the possibility of an attempt by the Germans to reach Petrograd, in view of their activities in the Kovno and Dvinsk regions, the correspondent of the Evening News at the Russian capital says:

Hope New Reply Will Settle Frye Dispute

Washington, Aug. 11.—Administration officials today were hopeful that the American reply to the last German note regarding the sinking of the American ship William P. Frye, dispatched to Berlin last night, would result in a settlement of the dispute growing out of the incident. The communication probably will be given out for publication Saturday.

The United States, it is said, agrees to arrange payment for the Frye on [illegible] 1828. Acceptance of the commission method makes an appeal to arbitration at The Hague unnecessary.

Germany stipulated that payment was not to be regarded as satisfaction for violation of American treaty rights, while the United States, it is understood, accepts provided no treaty rights are waived.

The United States claims that article 13 of the treaty in question specifically provided the Frye from being [illegible] [illegible]

$52,000,000 HAS ARRIVED

New York, Aug. 11.—A special train carrying $52,000,000 worth of gold and securities which had been shipped by the Bank of England from London by the way of Halifax, N. S., to this city, arrived here today. The train was composed of several steel cars and was guarded by forty armed men. Of the total shipments, $35,000,000 was in gold, and was believed to be in the form of American double eagles. The weight of the gold shipment was about twenty-five tons. It was said to be the largest single shipment of gold ever sent across the Atlantic ocean in one vessel.

Battleship Brought It.

It was brought over in a British battleship which was convoyed through the war zone and across the ocean by a cruiser and a flotilla of torpedo boat destroyers to guard against an attack of German submarines. The cost of transferring it from London to New York was estimated today to have been $250,000.

It was said that the British battleship brought over not only the $52,000,000 in gold and securities for New York, but also a shipment of gold destined for Canada, whose treasury recently sent gold amounting to $135,000,000 to New York.

Secrecy Is Maintained.

Secrecy was maintained in sending this great shipment of gold, and precautions were taken to prevent the German secret service from discovering the plan or route of forwarding it. At Halifax it was delivered into the custody of the American Express company, and when the armed train left that city it was preceded by a pilot engine for the purpose of testing bridges and to frustrate any attempt to wreck the train by the use of dynamite.

This precaution was suggested by the exploit of Werner Horn, the German reservist, who attempted to blow up the St. Croix river bridge on February 2 to stop shipments of munitions to the allies. The route over which the train proceeded from Bangor, Me., to New York, was kept secret. Robert E. M. Cowie, general manager of the American Express company, said the transfer was the greatest risk ever taken by an express company.

Eight policemen were sent to meet the train here and guard the gold until it was delivered at the subtreasury. J. P. Morgan & Co., of this city, were the consignees. The purpose of the transfer of gold was understood to be to reinforce British credit here and to improve the exchange situation as the English pound sterling has depreciated of late. The securities are presumed to be American bonds, to be used as the basis for further advances to the British government.

FORMER FORT WAYNE GIRL IS AN HEIRESS

I. G. Hughes, of Scott, O., is a visitor in Fort Wayne in search of his daughter, Alice Hughes Dubois, whom he says is named as one of the beneficiaries in the will of the late Elizabeth Treon, of Miamisburg, O., who died recently of cancer, leaving a big estate. According to the father his daughter is one of the ten heirs of the deceased.

Hughes was unsuccessful in his search for his daughter. He learned, however, that she had worked in the Banner and Troy laundries in this city, but is believed to have gone to Muncie from here some weeks ago. The is 32 years old and has two children, a boy and a girl, by a former marriage, who are now living with their grandparents in Waterloo, Ind.

HURL FURIOUS BLOWS AT THE DARDANELLES

London, Aug. 11.—Recognition of the imperative importance to the allies of forcing the Dardanelles, as the shortest road to retrieving Russian reverses and regaining the initiative now in the hands of Germany, is demonstrated amply by the sudden landing of British forces in the vicinity of Karachali, north of the gulf of Saros, and resumption of the offensive both at the southern end of the Gallipoli peninsula and north of Gaba Tepe. The Australians and New Zealanders recently have been strengthening their positions at Gaba Tepe.

The new landing place on the gulf of Saros, being on the flank and rear of the Bulair lines, if developed, would menace the strong Turkish defenses across the neck of the peninsula. Coming at this time, when there is so much discussion whether Germany will attempt to crush Serbia preparatory to locking forces with Turkey by way of Bulgaria, these developments at the Dardanelles assume a special importance.

As yet there is no proof that the Germans have withdrawn or are preparing to withdraw any considerable proportion of their forces from the eastern front. On the contrary, the offensive which led to the fall of Warsaw has not been relaxed and the position of the retiring Russians is still perilous.

Partial dismantling of Vilna, preparatory to evacuation, as reported from Petrograd, is somewhat puzzling to British commentators, inasmuch as the Russians assert they have repulsed German attacks around the fortress of Kovno, which is sixty miles northwest of Vilna.

The Zeppelins reported yesterday over Holland, sailing in the direction of the Scottish coast, have not been heard from.

The British steamer Rosalie, of 2,725 tons net, which sailed from Shields on August 10, for San Francisco, has been beached. Her crew was saved.

The Russian bark Baltzer, 343 tons gross, has been sunk. A small boat, in which were the captain and seven men, has reached land safely. The Baltzer, which was owned in Riga, was last reported as having sailed June 15 from Gulfport for Cork.

The grand duke of Mecklenburg, according to the Athens correspondent of the Star, has been appointed commander in chief of the Turkish forces in the Dardanelles, succeeding Field Marshal Liman von Sanders.

GIVE IDEA OF PEACE TERMS.

Berne, Aug. 11.—The Tagwacht prints the text of a manifesto issued by a group of German professors and intellectuals enumerating their idea of the only acceptable peace terms. These, according to the manifesto, must insure the free expansion of German culture, industry and commerce. Belgium for military and commercial purposes must be subject to Germany. France must cede to Germany all territory north of a line from Belfort to the mouth of the river Somme and pay a large indemnity. Russia must cede Poland and the greater part of the Baltic provinces with other territory in lieu of indemnity which she could not pay.

The manifesto is signed by Professors Meincke, Seeberg and Schaefer, of Berlin university; Oncken, of Heidelberg; Schumacher, of Reichenau; director of Kiroduin, of the Gelsenkirchen mines, and Imperial Minister von Schweerin, mayor of Frankfort-on-the-Oder.

RESENT ATTACK ON CHANCELLOR.

Liberal Leaders Say Bethmann-Hollweg Deserves Full Confidence.

A meeting last night of the leaders of the national liberal party in Berlin expressed unanimous condemnation of intrigue against Chancellor Bethmann-Hollweg. It was declared that the attitude of opposition to the chancellor, as expressed recently in certain party circles, does not represent the opinion of the party as a whole. The chancellor's public statements, it was said, give no reason to suppose that he is conducting a weak illusionist policy. The meeting declared that his policy deserves full confidence.

NYCE IS CANDIDATE.

He Wants to Be State Senator from Allen and DeKalb Counties.

James Nyce, prosecuting attorney for DeKalb and Steuben counties, is expected to announce his candidacy in a few days for state senator on the democratic ticket, representing DeKalb and Allen counties. Nyce's friends have been urging him to make the race and announcement that he will throw his hat into the ring is expected soon.

When a candidate for prosecuting attorney Nyce succeeded in carrying Steuben county by a good majority, notwithstanding the fact that Steuben county is normally from 700 to 1,000 republican. He is well known in northern Indiana, and it is believed he will make a strong candidate.

VERY NEARLY EVEN BREAK IS RESULT

Western Roads Get Some Freight Rate Advance; Others Denied.

Washington, Aug. 11.—The interstate commerce commission today gave its decision in the western freight rate case, allowing advances in bituminous coal, coke, fruit and vegetables and denying increases on grain, livestock, packing house products, fertilizers and broom corn. The decision allows some of the increases asked and denies almost an equal number.

The commission summarized its decision as follows: "Proppsed increased car load rates on grain and grain products considered as one commodity, not justified.

"Proposed increase from 30,000 pounds to 40,000 pounds in the minimum car load weight of grain products, justified.

"Proposed increased car load rates on live stock, not justified.

"Proposed increased rates on bituminous coal, except as to South Dakota points, justified. The rates on coke here proposed, which are the same as on coal, justified.

APPROVES PRESIDENT'S STAND.

Gary, Ind., Aug. 11.—A letter announcing the formation of the John Hus league of Slav Free Masons, formed "to annually commemorate the burning at the stake of Bohemia's great martyr," John Hus, in 1415, and to do humanitarian work, has been sent to President Wilson. The letter approves the president's position toward the belligerent nations of Europe and declares that the members of the organization are true Americans, ready to take up arms if necessary in defense of [illegible]

FEAR NO SPREAD OF THE CATTLE PLAGUE

Authorities Say They Can Control New Outbreak in Illinois.

Chicago, Aug. 11.—State and federal veterinarians investigating the new outbreak of foot and mouth disease in Illinois yesterday reported that the Henry Pearsons farm in Wheeling township was the only place where traces of the malady could be found, although a thorough investigation of all surrounding farms and herds had been made.

All the stock on the Pearsons farm, 124 hogs and four cattle, was killed and the carcasses buried. The work was done under the supervision of Dr. W. C. Harrold, in charge of the federal inspectors in Wheeling township, at the direction of Dr. J. S. Jenison, inspector in Chicago of the Chicago branch of the United States bureau of animal industry.

To prevent any possible spread of the disease eight townships surrounding Wheeling were placed under close quarantine by State Veterinarian O. E. Dyson. This measure was taken to prevent the moving of stock from Wheeling to neighboring townships.

At the Chicago stockyards traders were notified that while it had been practically decided that trading in stock and feeding cattle will be resumed on August 23, it will now be necessary to wait until full reports are recived from investigators in Illinois before any definite date can be set for the resumption. In the meantime no check is to be placed on the shipping of live stock for immediate slaughter from the Chicago yards.

TOADSTOOLS; NOT MUSHROOMS.

Valparaiso Man Dead, Others Very Ill as Result of Mistake.

Valparaiso, Ind., Aug. 11.—Solomon Ramsey, 62, a well known citizen, died here this morning after eating toadstools, thinking they were mushrooms. Prosecuting Attorney Thomas Heard, County Clerk Bornholt and George Wernekes, other members of the party are also very ill from eating the toadstools.

Old Ladies' Congress Robison Park, August 18th.

The annual Congress of Old Ladies will be held at Robison park on Woman's Day, Wednesday, August 18th. One hundred and forty-eight old ladies attended the Congress last year. The oldest woman, Mrs. Catherine Reuille, of New Haven, was 92 years old. Three ladies were 91 years of age, five were 90, while 63 old ladies had passed the 85 year mark. Eighty-five of those present were between 75 and 85 years of age. The combined ages totalled over 12,000 years. A shoulder shawl was presented as a souvenir to each member of the Congress. Deep fringed white Newport scarfs, eight feet long, with lavender borders will be given to those attending the Congress this year. The oldest woman present on Woman's Day will be the park's special guest of honor. She will ride in a coach in the Old Ladies' Parade at 2 p. m. and will receive a special gift. Let everyone view the Old Ladies' Parade with marked respect and be reverend in its presence. Let every man who reveres his mother, uncover his head, in her memory, as the old ladies pass him by. They have been the real miracle workers, the inspiration and guide to countless other lives. Love and patience have been their working tools. Their master work is the transformation of countless youths into thinking men and women, equipped with the findings of eternal strength. Surely, the old Ladies' Congress is the park's most reverend event. 8-9-11-14-17

NEWS OF FORT WAYNE'S NEIGHBORS

SMALL BOY REGAINS MEMORY.

Mind Became Blank on All He Had Known Previous to Accident.

Decatur, Ind., Aug. 11.—Adrian Elzey, aged 11 years, adopted son of Mr. and Mrs. Fay Young, residing east of this city, has regained his memory, after three weeks of total lapse that was the consequence of injuries to his head when he was thrown from a buggy. The lad was brought to this city yesterday afternoon by his foster parents and examined by a local physician, who is much interested in the case. The boy was, previous to the accident, as intelligent and bright as the average of his age, but following the injury, could not find his way from one room to another in the house, nor could he remember the people with whom he lived and sat watching his foster parents till they feared that his memory was not merely gone, but that his mind was affected. A week ago Sunday, the family entertained at dinner and the occasion was one of real trouble to the boy, who attempted to eat with his fork from his cup and drink from his plate. A few days ago Adrian was taken to Toledo, O., and an operation restored his memory. He then remembered everything up to the time of his accident, but the succeeding days were a blank. The child's former home was in this city. About six years ago he was adopted by Mr. and Mrs. Young. His mother was formerly Mary Thomas Elzey, who passed away about ten years ago and who also made her home in this city.

YOUNG PHYSICIAN IS BURIED.

Van Wert, O., Aug. 11.—Private funeral services were conducted here today over the remains of Dr. Wilbur H. Clippinger, a former resident of this place. Rev. Jesse Swank, of the First M. E. church, officiated, the funeral being held at the home of F. L. Webster, an uncle of the deceased. Dr. Clippinger was born in Van Wert thirty-eight years ago and spent most of his life here, where he was one of the city's best known young men. He was graduated from the local high school, of Startling medical college in Columbus, and of Hahnemann medical university in Chicago. After practicing in Van Wert, Mercer and other places he gave up his profession to enter commercial pursuits in the piano and automobile lines. His death occurred suddenly in Detroit. His mother and four sisters survive.

WELL KNOWN HORSEMAN DIES.

Huntington, Ind., Aug. 11.—John S. Young, a pioneer farmer and widely known horseman of this city, was buried today after funeral services at the Union church in Union township. Rev. Frakes, of Roanoke officiated. Mr. Young died at his home a half-mile east of the Antioch church, in Union township. He was born in Warren county, Ohio, in 1837, and came to the farm on which his life was spent in this county in 1865. In 1862 he married Elva E. Ward and to them five children were born, Mrs. Ida Taylor, Zanesville, being a daughter. His first wife died in 1885 and he later married Frances Smith, who survives him. As a breeder of fine horses he had a wide repute.

MARRIED HALF CENTURY.

Auburn, Ind., Aug. 11.—Fifty years ago yesterday Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Link became man and wife, and it was this occasion that they celebrated at their home on North Main street Tuesday. Only a few of the immediate friends of the family were invited to share in the remembrance besides the family, for it was the wish of the Links to make the occasion as homelike as possible. About twenty sat down to the dinner that was served at the noon hour. Mr. and Mrs. Link are two of the oldest settlers in this county, coming here in the early 50's and raising their family here. The children who were present were: Dr. C. E. Link and wife, of Chicago, Ill.; Miss Maud Link, of Sioux City, Ia., and from this city, Judge D. M. Link and family and Alva Link.

WILL MEET THE TAXPAYERS.

Van Wert, O., Aug. 11.—At a preliminary meeting of the county budget commission, called for the purpose of organizing and mapping out the work which will result in the definite fixing of the tax rate, County Treasurer H. A. Mohler was elected president; County Auditor William Klein, secretary. Prosecuting Attorney Clark Good is the other member of the commission. The commission will meet with the officials and taxpayers of the several taxing districts in accordance with a schedule. This will enable the taxpayers to be heard at a light expense to the individuals and will, at the same time, greatly expedite the work of the commission.

EXPECT IMMENSE CROWDS.

Goshen, Ind., Aug. 11.—All arrangements for the annual Mennonite Brethren in Christ camp meeting have been completed. An attendance of 5,000 persons is expected. The big gathering is scheduled for the Simon Fetters grove, seven miles southwest of Goshen from Thursday, August 12, to Sunday, August 22. Rev. S. Lambert, of Greenville, O., will be the chief speaker. Members of the ministerial body of the Indiana district will assist. Rev. C. A. Wright, of Atlanta, Ind., will direct the song services.

TWICE, JUST TO MAKE SURE.

Montpelier, Ind., Aug. 11.—Riley Green, employed at the Sam Pugh barber shop, met with an accident while cleaning a .22-calibre rifle. He had just finished cleaning the gun when he raised the stock, and a shell exploded and the bullet struck in the kitchen over the stove. Mr. Green then pulled the pump to be sure that it was not loaded and the second shell went off, lodging in the little finger of the left hand.

WATCH FOR BLIND TIGERS.

Hartford City, Ind., Aug. 11.—Although the officers in this city are keeping a close watch for "blind tigers," none of the illegal places where liquor is dispensed, have as yet been found. When the officers make a raid on the home of Monk Craig, where they suspected that there was a tiger in operation, they found one case of beer, but no conclusive evidence that Craig was violating the law. There was an incident occurred while the officers were there, however, which led them to believe that their suspicions that a blind tiger existed, were correct. An automobile filled with men drove up to the house, but as soon as the officers were sighted, the men "beat it."

FAMILY REUNIONS COMING.

Montpelier, Ind., Aug. 11.—The Worster family reunion will be held at the Warren fair grounds next Sunday. Several members of the family reside in this city. The McKonkey family will meet at Matter's park, Marion, August 22, for their twelfth annual reunion. The Schwartzkopf-Long family will meet at the Schwartzkopf home, August 15, and the Jackson families at the Andrew Jackson home, southeast of this city. The Templeton-Kelley families will meet for their annual reunion in the Frank Kelley grove near Roll, on Sunday, August 15.

HOSPITAL FOR BLUFFTON.

Bluffton, Ind., Aug. 11.—Dr. Fred Metts has rented from J. A. McBride as new quarters the residence property located the first door south of the McBride store on South Main street, and will move from his present office quarters in the Walmer & Engeler block as soon as the McBride property is remodeled for his use. In the remodeling of the McBride property it will be fitted up as a modern physician's quarters, with a fully-equipped operating room and with several bedrooms for use as hospital rooms where Dr. Metts will be able to take care of several patients with every hospital convenience, with a trained nurse in charge all the time.

GETS HER SON IN BLUFFTON.

Bluffton, Ind., Aug. 11.—Mrs. Charles Huffman, of Ashland, Ky., formerly Mrs. George Jones, of Nottingham township, this county, was before Judge Eichhorn here Tuesday morning, to petition for the restoration to her care and custody her son, Oscar Leroy Lindsey, aged 14, who was made a ward of the juvenile court here on May 22, 1908, and who has been furnished a good home with the Henry Schlaugenhauf family, east of Bluffton. Mrs. Huffman has been residing with her present husband at Ashland for two years. Judge Eichhorn granted her request and she and her son left for Kentucky.

RETURNS TO THE ASYLUM.

Columbia City, Ind., Aug. 11.—Edward Haas, the Thorncreek township farmer who is at the Longcliff hospital for treatment, and who made his escape from the institution a few days ago, voluntarily returned to the hospital Monday evening, and the family has been notified by the superintendent. It was a great source of satisfaction for them to get the information and they are greatly relieved. The fact that Mr. Haas returned to the hospital would indicate that his condition is improved. Mr. Haas is a very conscientious man and would think it wrong to leave the hospital permanently without notifying the officers.

HOWE HAS ANOTHER BID FOR FIRE.

Kendallville, Ind., Aug. 11.—The town of Howe had another close call from a conflagration, when the gasoline tank of a Saxon car caught on fire. The machine was standing in a livery barn, in a well-settled portion of the business district, and but for the timely assistance of several eye witnesses of the explosion, a serious fire would have resulted. The car, enveloped in flames, was pushed from the barn. The fire was extinguished after some little time. Considerable damage was done to the car.

LIGHTNING DESTROYS BARN.

LaGrange, Ind., Aug. 11.—A large barn belonging to Josiah J. Miller, two miles south and a half mile west of Shipshewana, in Newbury township, was struck by lightning, and burned to the ground, together with all its contents, including twenty-five loads of hay, some farming implements, etc. The barn had recently been moved to its location at that point and remodeled and was without insurance at the time of the fire. The residence of Christian Hostetler, west of LaGrange, was also struck during the same storm and was slightly damaged but not burned.

ELKHART MAN LONG MISSING.

Elkhart, Ind., Aug. 11.—Stephen Zimmerman, who left Elkhart for Benton Harbor last June where he intended to pick berries, has not been heard from since. His son, John Zimmerman, of Warsaw, has asked the Benton Harbor police to help locate his father. Before leaving Elkhart the aged man told a friend that he intended to go to the Michigan town to secure employment during the berry season. He immediately went to his room, secured his clothes and disappeared and nothing has been heard of him since.

BIG YIELD OF WHEAT.

Auburn, Ind., Aug. 11.—George Boren, living at Feagler's corners in Richland township, threshed his wheat Monday, and it averaged 45½ bushels to the acre. In all there were 910 bushels, he having 20 acres out. This is an unusually large yield, and is, perhaps, the largest in the country. Who can beat it?

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED.

Auburn, Ind., Aug. 11.—A very enjoyable party was given Monday evening by Miss Ruth Smurr at the home of her mother, Mrs. Sarah Grate, on Indiana avenue, at which the approaching marriage of Miss Ruth to Jay Olinger, who lives west of Auburn, was announced. There were sixteen of her friends present, and light refreshments were served.

VAN WERT PASTOR GETS CALL.

Van Wert, O., Aug. 11.—At a meeting of the official board of the First Christian church of Greensburg, Ind., a call to the pastorate of that church was extended to Rev. F. Z. Burkette, who, during the past year, has served as pastor of the First Christian church, this city. The announcement came as a shock to the membership of the local church, as Rev. Burkette has become popular with his people and it is with keen regret that they see him leave to serve another pastorate.

WASHED FROM A TRAIN.

Ligonier, Ind., Aug. 11.—A strange man, supposed to be Matthew Brown, from a paper found on him, is unconscious here and believed to be dying from a fractured skull and other injuries received when he was washed from a New York Central train when the locomotive took water between this city and Millersburg. He was found lying on the track by Walter Smalley, an employe at the pumping station, and was brought here. The locomotives take water while running at high speed from a scoop tank and it is believed the water dashed up behind the tender, where the man was riding, and washed him from his position.

SMALL BOY IS DROWNED.

Cromwell, Ind., Aug. 11.—David, 6-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Honeywell, residing on a farm a short distance west of this place, was drowned in Turkey Creek ditch, in Mineral park, near Lake Wawasee, and his body was discovered lying face upward by his little sister, whose hysterical screams to her dead brother to come to her, brought bystanders to the scene, and the body was taken out. How the lad got into the water is not known. Turtles and fish had already begun to eat the flesh from the little victim's face. The boy had been absent from home some hours and his mother sent the little girl to search for him.

WHITLEY PIONEER WOMAN DIES.

Columbia City, Ind., Aug. 11.—The funeral of Mrs. Elizabeth Evans Albright, wife of former County Commissioner Samuel B. Albright, will be held this afternoon at the United Brethren church, in South Whitley, Rev. McCoy, the pastor, officiating. Death occurred at her home, two miles northeast of South Whitley and was due to heart trouble. She was born in Ohio sixty years ago and came at the age of two years with her parents, who settled five miles from Pierceton. She was married in 1873 to Mr. Albright, four of five children born to them surviving with the husband.

WARSAW'S HEALTH OFFICER.

Warsaw, Ind., Aug. 11.—The resignation of Dr. C. C. DuBois, city health officer, was handed to Mayor Richardson last evening. The resignation was accepted and Dr. C. W. Burket, now serving as county health officer, was appointed to take the place. In all probability the health board of this city will be reorganized and Dr. C. W. Burket will be elected as secretary.

BIG CROWD AT OAKWOOD PARK.

Syracuse, Ind., Aug. 11.—Nearly 1,500 delegates are now at Oakwood park, Lake Wawasee, to attend the Indiana conference of the Evangelical association. The branch conventions which were in session all last week closed Sunday to give way to the general conference which will close Sunday, August 15.

GYPSY WOMAN IS FINED.

Portland, Ind., Aug. 11.—Four gypsy women were arrested here charged with violation of the state law prohibiting the soliciting of fortune telling. When one paid a fine and costs totaling $12.45 all were released on a promise to leave the city at once.

ELEVEN WERE GRADUATED.

Bluffton, Ind., Aug. 11.—Eleven members of the teachers' training class of the Christian Sunday school at Linn Grove, were graduated in elaborate exercises conducted under the auspices of the Wells county Sunday school organization.

CONTINENTAL'S CHAUTAUQUA.

Continental, O., Aug. 11.—This village is now in the midst of its first chautauqua. The week's program began Sunday and there has been a good attendance at all of the entertainments and much interest in the affair.

MAY BE ALL RIGHT FOR FATHER ADAM, BUT EDEN'S NO PLACE FOR BASHFUL MAN.

Yonkers, N. Y., Aug. 10.—If the cows didn't look so surprised, and the flies didn't bite so hard, and the grass tickle so much, William Leary wouldn't mind living in Woodland Grove, even as Father Adam lived in Eden.

But as it was, when Leary woke up one morning and found the wind had blown his tent and his clothes away, he decided that he wouldn't offend the cows and he wouldn't feed the flies, and he wouldn't spoil his complexion with the grass, so he bargained with a cow herder to remove his extra pair of overalls and to loan him a quarter, and he wired to Yonkers: "Wind blew clothes away. Send help; I need it." And it came.

The Hard Times Parade that afforded so much wholesome fun to the participants and that proved so attractive to thousands of the park's guests last year will be repeated on Woman's Day on Wednesday, Aug. 18th. The line-up will begin at 4 p. m. in front of the pavilion. When ready for the parade, go to the Bijou building in the grove, where Miss Cora Basteus will provide each participant with a numbered tag. The tag should be worn on the left breast in full view of the judges. Prizes will be awarded by numbers. Any other method would be difficult as it is absolutely impossible for the judges to keep in mind so many and so varied costumes as are worn in the Hard Times Parade. There will be ten grand prizes and it will be the judges' difficult task to select the ten grand prize winners. In addition to the above, the souvenirs that have been on exhibition all summer in the pavilion will be awarded the costumes. It is not the object of the Hard Times Parade to wear either new or expensive material. "Stick to the text" and appear in a hard times costume. The dressing rooms at the theater will be open and those who do not wish to dress at home for the parade may use the theater the same as last year. 8-9-11-14-16

THE SENTINEL'S DAILY SCRIPTURE READING.

Mark 5:1-15.

1 And they came over unto the other side of the sea, into the country of the Gadarenes.

2 And when he was come out of the ship, immediately there met him out of the tombs a man with an unclean spirit,

3 Who had his dwelling among the tombs; and no man could bind him, no, not with chains:

4 Because that he had been often bound with fetters and chains, and the chains had been plucked asunder by him, and the fetters broken in pieces: neither could any man tame him.

5 And always, night and day, he was in the mountains, and in the tombs, crying, and cutting himself with stones.

6 But when he saw Jesus afar off, he ran and worshipped him,

7 And cried with a loud voice, and said, What have I to do with thee, Jesus, thou Son of the most high God? I adjure thee by God, that thou torment me not.

8 For he said unto him, Come out of the man, thou unclean spirit.

9 And he asked him, What is thy name? And he answered, saying, My name is Legion: for we are many.

10 And he besought him much that he would not send them away out of the country.

11 Now there was there nigh unto the mountains a great herd of swine feeding.

12 And all the devils besought him, saying, Send us into the swine, that we may enter into them.

13 And forthwith Jesus gave them leave. And the unclean spirits went out, and entered into the swine: and the herd ran violently down a steep place into the sea, (they were about two thousand;) and were choked in the sea.

14 And they that fed the swine fled, and told it in the city, and in the country. And they went out to see what it was that was done.

15 And they come to Jesus, and see him that was possessed with the devil and had the legion, sitting, and clothed, and in his right mind: and they were afraid.

The Council and the Mills Ordinance

The action of the city council Tuesday evening in dealing a death blow to the ordinance introduced by Councilman Mills, of the Sixth ward, providing for the removal of screens and other obstructions in order to provide a free view of places where liquors are sold in Fort Wayne, will come as no shock of surprise to the public. It has been clearly apparent from the outset that a majority of the councilmen were personally opposed to any such regulative enactment, and none knew that fact better than did the men who led a sturdy though losing fight for the measure.

The vital phase of the situation is not the present defeat of the Mills measure, for that can be reintroduced, and Mr. Mills has declared that he will renew his fight for it. The point of chief public interest is the decision to flout the well-defined expression of desire upon the part of so large a proportion of Fort Wayne citizens whose servants the city councilmen are presumed to be. In the present instance it was evidenced by a petition bearing some 2,500 signatures, by endorsement of the Womans' league and by the presence of a lobby of some hundreds of representative citizens of the city who came to lend the moral force of their presence for the side of moral cleanliness and civic betterment. The situation was almost identical with that of a few weeks ago when in the face of a petition signed by more than 3,000 citizens asking the appointment of a woman on the school board the council summarily declined to countenance any such suggestion.

There will be no disposition to contend that all the people in Fort Wayne are in favor of the elimination of screens from saloon doors and windows. That it had opposition—aside from the majority of the city council—is not to be doubted, but so far as was disclosed in the fight it was not organized opposition. Perhaps, knowing the view of the councilmen, the opposition did not consider it necessary to come out in the open and oppose the Mills ordinance. Public sentiment, so far as it was given crystalization in definite expression, was clearly in favor of the measure. We do not believe, either, that even the opposing councilmen will be disposed to challenge either the numerical strength or the very high standing of citizenship represented by those who were urging the passage of the Mills measure. The fact remains, however, that the majority of the council deliberately elected to turn a deaf ear to the appeal and to line itself up against another wholesome proposition that would have meant a cleaner and a better Fort Wayne. Toward this sort of stewardship the people may be depended upon to register their decisive disapproval at the earliest opportunity that presents itself to make it count effectively.

Announcement is made that General Goethals has tendered his resignation as governor of the Panama canal zone and has asked to be relieved of duties there on November 1, though he will still retain his commission in the United States army. General Goethals has spent seven years in Panama and has accomplished a work that will stand as an enduring monument to his force and his ability to accomplish big things. If any man has earned the relief of release from big cares and great responsibilities, that man is General Goethals.

And now Ex-President Taft is placed in the grandfather class by the arrival of a son at the home of Robert Taft, at Bar Harbor, Maine. This new dignity was denied Mr. Taft somewhat longer than to another of our distinguished ex-presidents, but Mr. Taft is gradually speeding up to the pace of popular attention so long enjoyed almost exclusively by his gingery predecessor in the presidential chair who had hankerings to be Mr. Taft's successor as well.

It now develops that an Ohio man is more than likely to be the successor of George E. Downey, of Indiana, who has just been advanced from Controller of the United States treasury to a place as associate justice of the United States court of claims. Perhaps the Ohio man in politics is not so numerous as aforetime, but be it known that his race is not entirely extinct.

Equal suffragists in Illinois find cause for elation in the decision of the state board of administration which has just decided that women employed in the state institution shall receive the same pay as men where they do the same work. And as a matter of simple justice, why shouldn't they receive it?

There is always this compensation in the Mexican situation: It keeps Uncle Sam from dwelling too long or too deeply on his other troubles.

(Indianapolis Star.)

Calculations have been made showing that Indiana has an automobile to every 35 of its population, while the proportion of cars to the general population of the United States is one to 50. This showing as to Indiana indicates two things—that its citizens are awake to the importance of individual rapid transit as a business proposition, for the automobiles in the state are by no means bought for pleasure alone; and that a prosperity prevails greater than that enjoyed in many other sections of the country.

It has been said complainingly that the extensive purchase of cars takes too much money out of the state, but this is hardly fair, for a large number of the machines in use are the product of Indiana factories, all of these being now crowded with orders from buyers in the state. Moreover, the outside sales of these home factories fully offset the purchase by Indianians of cars made elsewhere, with a corresponding equalization of the money balance.

The coming distribution in Indiana of approximately $2,000,000 by Henry Ford in fulfillment of his promise of from $40 to $60 rebate to each purchaser of one of his cars in the 1915 season, in case the total sales from the factory equaled 300,000, is a return of outgoing funds in another form. Two million dollars is a great deal of money to put into general circulation at one time, and scattered over the state, as it will be, among farmers and business men of all classes, it is a financial item of interest and importance.

Incidentally the fact that out of 45 states so large a proportion of the Ford rebate comes to Indiana is another proof of the appreciation by its citizens of the fact that automobiles are coming to be necessities of life.

AMERICA'S PART BEST.

With business brightening, money moving and credit unimpaired, the United States is playing a comfortably prosperous part in the world tragedy. From a commercial point of view that is her logical role. It was to be expected of the United States.

It is now more gratifying to know that she is doing a finer work—too fine to be measured by commercial standards. The Americanization of the treatment of disease in Servia and the Americanization of hospital methods practically has cleared up one of the most pitiably tragic situations that even war could devise. It is reliably said that there were in Servia but a comparatively short time ago, 300,000 cases of typhus fever. Today some of the hospitals in that land are being closed temporarily for want of patients. In one hospital a few months ago there were 1,400 cases of the fever. Today there are but three or four. The work has been centralized under the extraordinarily efficient direction of Dr. Richard P. Strong of Harvard. The inoculation of thousands against cholera, with a proficiency and a rapidity unknown in the previous annals of disease, also has been under the direction of this American.

It is a large and splendid role which this nation can continue and will continue to play in the world war. To do something to lighten the load of inevitable suffering is greater than to fatten comfortably in the process of filling warlike needs.

It is perfectly obvious that where there is a market America will sell. Let it be equally true that where there are broken bodies and broken lives America will do her utmost to heal.

What The Sentinel Had to Say About Persons and Events Twenty-Five Years Ago.

A. C. Katt and Ed O'Connell left today for an outing at Clear Lake.

Mr. and Mrs. H. N. Ward left this morning for an extensive eastern trip.

M. J. Clear, a photographer of Bluffton, was in the city over Sunday, the guest of M. L. Jones.

Dr. I. M. Rosenthal has received a letter from his son, Dr. Maurice Rosenthal, who is now in Berlin.

Mr. and Mrs. F. R. Barrows have gone to Washington, D. C., where Mr. Barrows will attend the national convention of photographers.

Louis Hirsch has resigned his position with Louis Wolf & Co. to accept one with Victor Wolf and will have charge of the cloak department.

County Recorder Milton M. Thompson is one of the veterans who has gone to Boston to attend the national encampment of the G. A. R.

The members of the popular Crow club had a picnic at the Swift resort, on the St. Joe river, north of the city, yesterday. The trip both ways was made in a coach.

Four imprisoned horses were terribly burned and tortured in a burning freight car of a Wabash train at Aboite station yesterday. They were brought here for treatment at the Fred Myers livery stables, on East Wayne street.

The erection of the new Odd Fellows' building at Wayne and Calhoun streets, has been considerably delayed by the non-arrival of a massive pillar of Georgia marble that is to stand at the corner of the structure. It has been lost in transit.

Clinton P. Ferry and daughter, May, of Tacoma, Wash., are in the city to visit his mother, Mrs. Caroline P. Ferry, of 119 East Washington street, and his sister, Mrs. R. D. Boyles, of Miner street. In his home city he is known as the "Duke of Tacoma."

TO PALE, THIN PEOPLE

Druggists Meyer Bros. Co. Offer to Pay for Samose if it Does Not Make Thin People Fat.

Pale, thin people are simply suffering from want of nourishment. They may eat enough, but their food is not properly digested and does them no good.

Samose, the remarkable flesh forming food, should be used by all who are pale, weak and thin. It mingles with the food and aids assimilation, so that when taken for a short time, Nature will soon assert her normal powers, and the food that is eaten will give strength and good flesh.

Weigh yourself before you commence the use of Samose, and you will notice a steady gain. Samose is a scientific flesh-forming food that restores the thin and scrawny to their proper weight and fills the weak and debilitated with vigor and vitality.

Such remarkable results have followed the use of Samose that Druggists Meyer Bros. Co. is willing to pay for the treatment if it does not give the desired results. They make this offer generally and want all who are thin, weak and out of health to get a box of Samose from them on those terms.—Adv. Aug. 6-11

HISER ROAD HOUSE DESTROYED BY FIRE

Loss is Estimated at $4,000 —Crossed Wires Given as Cause.

What has long been known as the Hiser road house, three miles north of the city on the Goshen road, was destroyed by fire shortly after midnight, Tuesday night, resulting in a loss estimated at $4,000. The property was insured for about one-half its value, it is understood.

No one was around the place when the fire broke out, and it had a good start when it was discovered by Clifford South, who lives nearby. South's attention was called to it by the reflection from the flames shining through his bed room window. He immediately gave an alarm, and the auto chemical from No. 3 engine house, in charge of Captain John Stalhut responded, but nothing could be done. In an hour and a half after the fire was discovered the road house was in ashes.

The property had been leased sometime ago from George D. Hiser by Saben Smith, who, with his family, had gone to the northern lakes for a few days' vacation. Smith was recently arrested and fined on the charge of operating a blind tiger.

The cause of the blaze is not known. When South reached the house the entire dance hall was in flames, with the section around the electric piano burning the brightest. This gives rise to the belief that the fire was caused by crossed electric wires.

The flames from the building leaped high into the air, and could be seen for miles around.

AL JENNINGS SAYS:

"There is no honor among thieves. I found that out, for I have been in the legislature, and I'd trust a burglar much quicker than a politician."

* * *

"I've got a lot of sympathy for the burglar and the bandit and the outlaw. I'd like to help them to a better sort of life."

* * *

"I've often said I'd rather steal than go hungry or beg. And I still say so. I don't think I am an anarchist, either."

(By Gertrude M. Price.)

"You bet I obeyed that 'hands up' order, just like the rest of 'em, only I did it quicker!

"I wasn't afraid at all, but mighty sorry for the fellow with the gun, because I know some day he'll get caught and pay. They all do!"

* * *

We were standing in front of the cosy Jennings bungalow at Hollywood. He was telling me what his sensations were when he had the tables turned on him, and two masked bandits held up an electric car, recently, in which he was one of the victims.

"The Rev. Mr. Troy and I had been holding special meetings in Pomona that night," he told me. "I had taken the collection and dropped it into a paper sack. Strange thing for me to say, maybe, but I had a premonition that we were going to be 'held up.'

"It was around 10 o'clock and we had traveled along about a mile. The car stopped, suddenly. I knew in a second by the queer rush of silence and odd expectancy that we were in for it.

"I heard one of the men speak to the conductor. There was that metallic sound in his voice which belongs to the man who has made up his mind and will not be answered 'No.'

"In the brief interval it took him to come in and give the order 'Hands up!' I slipped my paper bag under the seat. When he spoke my hands went up, and I think they were up quicker than anyone's else in that car."

"How did it feel to look down the business end instead of the handle end of a gun?"

"Well, it looked natural, and I didn't take much time to think how I felt. I was too busy obeying directions. I know from my own experiences that when a man goes into that sort of business, he has made up his mind to use the gun he carries, if he finds it necessary to his plan.

"There is a strange sequel to that 'holdup' incident and because of its humanness I'll have to tell you about it.

"A night or two ago a package was sent to me. It contained the little purse which had been taken from me by the two masked men.

"I was glad because it contained a brief note from my old-time friend, O. Henry, and a clipping of a funeral service which I preached over a little girl in Colorado.

"I was mightily touched by that action, for it showed there is some good in the man who sent it back. I have been speaking at a little church down at Ocean Park since the 'holdup' and I think those two men must have been in the audience some night. I honestly believe they will make themselves known to me. I truly hope so. I want to help them."

Al Jennings as he looks today.

She pilots an automobile carrying large parties of tourists between San Diego and Los Angeles.

Automobiling is the greatest sport in the world, Miss Grace thinks. It is her belief that many more women might turn to this industry for a livelihood.

"It takes cool-headedness and nerve, sometimes," she affirms. "But women have often demonstrated their possessions of each.

"Confidence and common sense are the two best weapons for a woman whether she be running an auto or yielding the broom."

Miss Jean Grace.

Miss Grace attends to all the ordinary "tinkerings" necessary to the machine. And she can change a tire if occasion demand.

This girl stage driver doesn't make any attempts at record runs. But she does more than many of the men drivers on the same route. She gets there on schedule time!

COMMITTEE NAMED TO EXTEND INVITATIONS

Scott Brewer, secretary of the state association of real estate dealers, was again present at the regular weekly meeting of the Fort Wayne Real Estate exchange, Tuesday evening, at the Commercial club. He was present for the purpose of aiding in the perfecting of plans for the state convention to be held in Fort Wayne October 20 and 21.

There is much work to be done in arranging for the coming convention, which promises to be the biggest and most largely attended in the history of the state association. Arrangements were made to extend an invitation to real estate men in various towns and cities in Indiana by word of mouth and not depend entirely upon printed invitations. The following committee was named: Louis Moore and Louis F. Curdes will call on the Evansville real estate men; J. S. Peddicord will go to Gary; Clint R. Willson to Kokomo; Frank H. Hilgemann to Elkhart and South Bend, and Eugene Fitch to Lafayette.

Messrs. Cotton, of New York, and S. D. Rider, of South Bend, were present as representatives of the Fort Wayne Morris Plan company and explained in detail the plan under which the company will work.

The exchange went on record as in favor of the St. Joe river dam, which will provide a waterway about six miles long for boating, fishing and bathing. Louis Moore explained that the proposition is not a money making scheme, but a plan by which those who could not go to the lakes can be afforded the same pleasures here at home.

The meeting followed a banquet which was served at 6:30 o'clock. A large attendance was present.

Only 6,000 Europeans are included in the population of the island of Ceylon, which totals well over 4,000,000.

Systematic Canvass on Flood Prevention

Citizens of Fort Wayne who have accepted membership on the ward committees have begun a systematic canvass to procure signatures to the flood prevention petition. At the booster meeting Monday night more than 100 public-spirited Fort Wayne citizens representing every ward of the city pledged themselves to do everything in their power to boost the movement for flood protection. Thus the campaign will be a spirited one until the required number of signatures are procured.

Gentlemen identified with the organization assert that within the next three weeks the petition or powers of attorney will be presented to every freeholder in the city of Fort Wayne and that a very large majority of them will readily sign.

The movement for flood prevention is country-wide. It countenances neither politics, race nor creed. It involves only the best interests of every taxpayer in the community. Everybody realizes that something must be done to protect our city and county from flood water. Few realize, however, that nothing can be done until there is established a flood prevention district. The circulation of the petition and powers of attorney is tantamount to a referendum vote on the question: "Shall we or shall we not take steps to solve the flood problem in the county?" What is your answer, Mr. Freeholder?

Retail Merchants' Officers Plan Long Booster Trip.

Anderson, Ind., Aug. 11.—Ralph W. Clark, of this city, president of the Indiana Retail Merchants' association, today announced that the officers and directors of the association would begin a tour of the state from this city, Monday, September 7. The party will travel by automobile.

A wheat production meeting will be held at the Scipio church, in Scipio township, on Tuesday evening, August 18, at which time J. D. Harper, of Purdue university, will be the principal speaker.

(By Nixola Greeley-Smith.)

New York, Aug. 11.—I went "up the river" the other day, but unlike the 1,760 other human beings who had taken the gloomy journey to Sing Sing prison, I could and did come back to tell you of the most wonderful experiment in prison reform which has ever been undertaken in this country.

A year ago Sing Sing prison was a human zoo—a menagerie of hopeless men, whose cages were smaller, whose fare was less choice, whose physical well-being was less looked after than if they had been lions and tigers of the jungle—for lions and tigers are worth money—much more money than convicts—and admission can be charged to see them when they are caged.

Today though the physical conditions of Sing Sing are unchanged, that house of despair has become a hospital of hope! Thomas Mott Osborne, the warden, is responsible for this great change.

Mr. Osborne has done so many things for Sing Sing that it is difficult to enumerate half of them in one brief article.

He has abolished the prison pallor; he has silenced for all time the prison whisper—the dreadful talking through motionless lips which convicts had invented to be able to communicate with each other in spite of rules.

Mr. Osborne did this by permitting the men to talk at all times and by allowing them two hours daily recreation in the prison yard from 4 to 6 and by giving the freedom of the yard all day Sunday and on every holiday. Formerly the men were locked in their death-dealing cells from Saturday night to Monday morning and Sunday was for them a day of torture.

He has done away with guards in the shops and in the mess hall. And these places, less than two years ago, scenes of riot and anarchy, today hum with industry and conversation. I stood in the knitting shop the other day and watched the men at their looms working and talking pleasantly together.

"You cannot prepare men to resume life in a democracy by making them live under a czar while in prison," the warden said.

"Prison is not a place of punishment or revenge. It is a place of restraint, of cure, of regeneration. It is liberty alone that fits men for liberty as Gladstone wrote when it was said that the Irish were not ready for home rule.

"The old prison system endeavored to make men industrious by driving them to work, to make them virtuous by removing temptation; to make them farsighted by allowing them no chance to exercise foresight; to make them more fit for struggle as individuals by treating them not as individuals, but as large groups without individuality; in short, to prepare them for a successful return to society by compelling them to live under conditions as unlike real society as they could possibly be made."

As we walked from one room to another here and there a convict would leave his loom or abandon the mat he was making to slip a note into the warden's hand. One of these notes was from "Johnny" McFarr, a young fellow, who has just invented a method by which his loom would turn out five mats a day in the time consumed formerly in making one. As the convicts are paid one cent and a half a day for their work, this invention of "Johnny" McFarr must be taken as the triumph of inventive genius over self-preservation. "Johnny's" note thanked the warden for an award of $20 which had been made to him for his invention.

"It is the first money I have had since I came to prison," the convict wrote.

This sum came from a fund of $100 contributed by Adolph Lewisohn for such purposes. Another $20 was given to George Faber, a third termer and the hero of the hour at Sing Sing today.

Sing Sing prisoners doing fancy work. Some of them have become experts at weaving and embroidery. Notice the lack of prison stripes and prison gloom.

On July 3, George Faber was placed outside the walls of Sing Sing to catch stray balls from the baseball game going on in the prison yard. All George had to do to escape was to leap into the Hudson river, then thronged with boats.

And George did leap into the river, but it was to save the lives of a young girl and a boy whose boat had capsized. The third term convict dragged the young people ashore and then went around to the prison gate and rang the bell.

"Let me in," he said, "I got to go to my cell and change my clothes."

Three men have escaped from Sing Sing since the honor system was inaugurated, but in the search for these men fifteen or twenty convicts were turned loose outside the prison without guards to hunt for them and every man came back each time.

Today in Sing Sing men may write as many letters as they wish to their wives and sweethearts. If their behavior is good they may receive visitors without intervening screens. They may kiss the women they love in greeting and in good-bye. They may wear their own shirts and collars and neckties. They may receive boxes of food from home, tea, coffee, anything practically that does not come in a closed tin. All these are little things, perhaps, but taken altogether they constitute a great experiment—a splendid hope.

and fair and that he was going to fight for it. If it met defeat at this time, he wanted to warn the council that it would be brought in again at the end of six months, and yet again if necessary.

Strong Minority Report.

The minority report of the committee, signed by Robert John, councilman from the Fifth ward, embraced a strong statement recommending that the ordinance be passed. It was greeted with hearty applause. Councilman Korte, of the Tenth ward, moved that the majority report, signed by Councilmen Jacob Hartman and Frank J. Schlebecker, be concurred in. On this motion the debate was inaugurated and sustained.

Mr. Mills, the author of the ordinance, spoke at some length in support of his measure. He said that public sentiment was for it, as shown by the big petition brought, almost twenty-four hundred names having been procured in a few days. The women were for it, he said, and evidenced the resolutions of the Woman's League, endorsing the ordinance. He said:

"The women don't have any vote on this thing now, but in ten years or less they will. If they could vote they would be for this measure. This measure is not radical or untried. If the saloon business is a fair business there is no reason why it should not be put on a fair basis. Why does it not open its interior to the public view, if all that goes on inside is fit and proper conduct? Why not have the windows open like the confectionery stores and restaurants. There is evil behind these screens as the saloon men know, you know it and I know it."

Mr. Mills quoted some facts from a letter he had received from the police commissioner of the city of Boston, where the anti-screen ordinance has been effective for thirty-five years. The law had worked well there and the commissioner said no one ever proposed making a change in it.

Wanted Colleagues to Uncover.

"I hope the gentlemen of this body will pass this ordinance, but if those who are against it want to be fair they should tell why they are against it. I believe we ought to know the reasons why they vote down so good a measure as this, which means a lot to better moral conditions in Fort Wayne—a lot to our boys and girls, who are growing up. It will do good all round—to the saloon men as well as anybody. And the saloon men have something to look out for. In ten years they will all be out of business, but they can make the end come more quickly if they oppose good measures of regulation like this."

Mr. Mills' prediction of the end of the liquor business within a decade brought loud applause from the lobby.

Rev. Nipper Pleads For Ordinance.

Rev. James A. Nipper, superintendent of the Fort Wayne Rescue Mission and secretary of the Men's Christian league, was the first outsider to be given the privilege of speaking and announced that he spoke for the league with its membership of over 700 men and for the almost 2,400 citizens who had signed the petition.

"We are not here in any hostile spirit," said Mr. Nipper. "We are not here to attempt to make Fort Wayne dry. We are here to urge the passage of this ordinance, because when it is passed, it will be a good thing—good for the saloonkeepers as well as the people of this city. Take down the saloon screens and let those outside see what is going on inside. If there had been no screens the recent scandals relating to Churubusco boys, with which our newspapers have been filled, would not have taken place. If there had been no screens those boys would not have gone into those places; they would not have been allowed in the Hof Brau and the Edwin. This ordinance will be a good thing—fair to the saloonkeepers and fair to the people and the people want it. We have here the situation of the class and the mass—some 200 saloonkeepers on the one hand, opposed to the measure, and 2,400 citizens whose names are on this petition asking for this measure. Whose voice ought to be heard, whose voice heeded?"

Bayer Speaks For Majority.

President W. A. Bayer, of the council, was the only member to speak at any length for the adoption of the majority report. "It is not in the saloons, the barrooms, from which you want to remove the screens, that you find the girls and the women," said Mr. Bayer. "You find them in the cafes, the cabarets, the winerooms and the annexes, where walls and not screens conceal them. That is what you want to get at, and that condition is up to the mayor and the police who have power to deal with it and abolish it. I do not believe the business men of Fort Wayne want this ordinance," and at this point he was interrupted with cries of "Look at the petitions; there are many of the best business men in Fort Wayne there and right near the top, too." Resuming, President Bayer said he knew many good men who went into the saloons and were not ashamed to have it known, "but they do not want to be put on exhibition when they go in to take a glass of beer."

Councilman Mills replied that President Bayer "does not know everything that is going on. There are a good many things that he doesn't know about." The author of the measure then gave his declaration of war:

"I want to say that if this ordinance is defeated tonight, that will not be the last of it. It is everlastingly right and ought to be passed. I am going to fight for it as long as I am in this body. I will bring it up in six months and again in another six months if necessary. I am not going to quit."

Fred E. Todd, chairman of the Christian League's committee on petitions for support of the measure, spoke briefly, and declared that the men of Fort Wayne were getting tired of what was going on in the saloons of the city behind the screens, and he warned saloonkeepers and their friends to have a care.

President Price Starts Something.

President F. M. Price, of the Men's League, begged the floor for a moment, and said he had been repeatedly informed that the anti-screen ordinance had no chance because the saloons controled the council. "I did not believe, I do not believe that booze is in control of this body of men who represent the people of Fort Wayne in their home government," declared Mr. Price. "We have had the declaration that the Brewers' association of this state was in favor of a law abolishing screens and throwing the saloons open to the gaze of the world. We have taken them at their word, and are here to help them get such a law for Fort Wayne."

Mr. Price concluded his brief address with his declaration that Fort Wayne is getting ripe for a war of extermination against the saloons, and declared further, that if the saloonkeepers would not take the opportunities offered to make their business better and to make it secure, appeal would be made to the voters of Fort Wayne at an option election and "the whole traffic wiped out here."

During the speeches in behalf of the ordinance there was frequent applause of a hearty kind, but when Mr. Price made his threat of an appeal to the voters there was a veritable storm of it.

Vote on Report Decrees Death.

The ayes and nays were then called on Korte's motion to concur in the majority report against the ordinance and the vote was as follows:

Nays—John, Lepper, Mills, Ofenloch—4.

In voting for the report to kill the ordinance, Councilman Charles E. Welch, member-at-large, explained that he believed to remove the screens would mean only to "drive the drinking upstairs."

"We will take care of that," was cried [illegible]

DO YOU WANT TO GET FAT AND BE STRONG?

The trouble with most thin folks who wish to gain weight is that they insist on drugging their stomach or stuffing it with greasy foods; rubbing on useless "flesh creams," or following some foolish physical culture stunt, while the real cause of thinness goes untouched. You cannot get fat until your digestive tract properly assimilates the food you eat.

There is a preparation known to reliable druggists almost everywhere, which seemingly embodies the missing elements needed by the digestive organs to help them convert food into rich, fat-laden blood. This preparation is called Sargol and much remarkable testimony is given as to its successful use in flesh building. Sargol, which comes in the form of a small non-injurious tablet, taken at meals and mixing with the digesting food, tends to prepare its fat, flesh and muscle building elements so that the blood can readily accept and carry them to the starved portions of the body. You can readily picture the transformation that additional and previously lacking flesh-making material should bring with your cheeks filling out, hollows about your neck, shoulders and bust disappearing and your taking on from 10 to 20 pounds of solid healthy flesh. Sargol is harmless, Inex-Dreier Drug Co., D. & N. Pharmacy, Family Drug Store and other leading druggists of this vicinity have it and are authorized to refund your money if weight increase is not obtained as per the guarantee found in each package.

NOTE:—Sargol is recommended only as a flesh builder and while excellent results in cases of nervous indigestion, etc., have been reported care should be taken about using it unless a gain of weight is desired.

NUDE WOOD NYMPH CAUGHT.

Wisconsin Miss, Sheltered by Horse Blanket, is Brought Into Town.

Lacrosse, Wis., Aug. 11.—The mysterious wood nymph has been captured. She drove into Sparta today in the custody of Sheriff Boss and Humane Officer George Manuel. Her bizarre costume of an expansive smile and a beribboned boudoir cap was supplemented by a horse blanket provided by the sheriff.

The officers refuse to give any details of her capture, nor will the girl. She is now in the care of the sheriff's family and has been properly clothed. There are hints that she is a member of a prominent Lacrosse family and has been having the time of her young life in her daily and nightly excursions. She is a decided blonde, with an immense wealth of golden hair. According to the officers, she is very pretty and has a figure that would get her into the first row of any chorus in the country.

NOT A BRICKBAT AT ALL.

Daly—Dowling.

A beautiful wedding of Wednesday morning at 8:30 o'clock at St. John's Catholic church at New Haven, was solemnized in the marriage of Miss May Cecelia Dowling, the charming and accomplished daughter of Mrs. Mary Dowling and the late Mr. B. W. Dowling, of New Haven, and Mr. Dennis Francis Daly, of this city. Rev. Father Weideau, pastor of St. John's, presided over the marriage ceremony and Rev. Father Lane, of LaSalle, Ill., sung the nuptial high mass. The church was prettily decorated with a large number of ferns and huge bunches of golden glow, and with the lighted altar candles made a pretty scene. Members of the bridal party were Mrs. John C. Dowling, of this city, sister-in-law of the bride, who acted as matron of honor. Her dress was made of cream white lace and she carried a bouquet of pink tinted roses. Mr. Dowling attended the groom. The bridesmaids were Miss Julia Falvey, of Fort Wayne, and Miss Mary A. Young, of Sidney, Ohio. Their gowns corresponded and were of white lace over pink messaline and they wore pink hats. Mr. Tom C. Dowling gave the bride away in marriage and Mr. Will Dowling and Mr. Bart Dowling, also brothers of the bride, acted as ushers. The bride's gown was a handsome creation of Brussels lace. She wore a veil of white tulle, caught with orange blossoms and carried a shower of white rose buds. A former choir of which the bride was a member, furnished the music for the mass, with Miss Maud Dell Capes at the organ. Miss Helen Loos, of Fort Wayne, sang the Ave Marie at the offertory, with Miss Helen Clifford accompanist. Lohengrin's wedding maren announced the approach of the bridal party. The church was filled with admiring friends of the bride and groom, both from New Haven and this city. An informal reception was held at the home of the bride and the wedding dinner was served at 1 o'clock to about seventy-five guests. The bridal table was decorated with pink and white gladiolas and smilax. The color scheme in the living rooms was entirely pink and white. Later in the afternoon the bride and groom left on their honeymoon, which will include New York city, Boston and Washington and many interesting side trips, with a trip up the Hudson. After October first they will be at home in Woodlawn avenue, Fort Wayne. The bride's going away gown was a blue tailored suit with black and white hat. Mrs. Daly is very popular both in this city and New Haven, where she is very widely known. Her marriage has been preceded with a number of enjoyable prenuptial affairs. She was graduated from St. Augustine's academy and is an efficient officer of the Hibernians. The groom, formerly of Warsaw, but for a number of years a resident of Fort Wayne, has long been with the G. R. & I. Railway company as conductor. He is a member of St. Patrick's parish and is popular with a large circle of friends in this city and employes of the company, with whom he is associated.

Where Man Also Takes Daily Hint.

(By Betty Brown.)

The high waist line in the new fall coats is what the man fashion designer calls attention to today. This high line is well above the normal waistline and it has just the right curve to give a becoming "swing" from the waist down. Patch pockets with flaps are another new fashion wrinkle, and still another is to leave the last button of the coat open and it's equally good fashion form to leave the last button of the new low cut waistcoat open. A fawn color felt hat with a colored band is a nobby top piece worn by men who study styles

MARY HAD A LITTLE LAND—AND THIS IS WHAT SHE DID WITH IT.

Mary's little [illegible], In the days that have gone by Caused many kinds of trouble and made the teacher sigh.

The lamb we most admire
In these days of heat and worry,
Is the lamb that's on the fire

UNUSUAL WAYS OF COOKING AND SERVING LAMB.

(By Caroline Coe.)

A hind quarter of lamb of good size is an economical purchase. The chops should be cut off and with the kidney may be broiled and served with fried peaches.

Wash firm peaches and wipe with a coarse towel to remove as much of the "fuzz" as possible. Cut the peaches in half, remove the stone and place the peach, stone side down, in skillet that has a little hot, butter in it. Fry until golden brown, being careful not to burn. When brown turn the peach and dust the browned side with a little sugar. Fry the peaches until tender, but not soft enough to lose their shape. Have chops broiled and serve on platter with fried peaches around them. Try it; it's fine.

LEG OF LAMB WITH CURRANT JELLY PASTE.

Wash and wipe a leg of lamb, rub teaspoonful of salt and a dash of pepper into the meat. Put the lamb into a baking pan, turn over it one-half cup of boiling water and set in hot oven and roast, allowing twenty minutes for each pound of meat. When half the time necessary for cooking has passed take the roast from the oven and cover with paste made of one glass of currant jelly mixed with one heaping tablespoonful of flour. Spread the paste all over the lamb and return to oven. Baste the lamb every ten minutes during the rest of the cooking, so as to secure a golden-brown glaze over the meat. Serve on hot platter and turn the contents of the pan over the lamb.

This meat is just as delicious when served cold.

ROAST LAMB COOKED IN MINT SAUCE.

Roast the lamb as usual and the last twenty minutes required for cooking add baste with the following: Pick off leaves from twelve stalks of mint and bruise a little; add three tablespoonfuls of sugar and mix to a pulp, and two tablespoonfuls of vinegar and turn over roast lamb. Return to hot oven and baste every three minutes.

Remove roast to hot platter, make a gravy by adding a spoonful of flour that has been thoroughly blended with a little cold water. Boil the gravy five minutes and serve in gravy boat.

LAMB CUTLETS WITH APPLES.

Take a neck of lamb, divide it into cutlets, trim them neatly and season with salt and pepper. Put them in oven in casserole. Peel and slice six apples; peel and chop three small onions, and put onions and apples over the cutlets. Allow all to cook in the oven three-quarters of an hour or until thoroughly cooked.

Serve in dish in which they were cooked.

CURRY OF LAMB.

Cut into pieces two pounds of lamb from the fore-quarter and roll pieces in one tablespoonful of barley flour. Put pieces in deep sauce pan and with one onion chopped fine and just enough stock or water to barely cover. Set over slow fire and cook slowly till meat is tender; add one teaspoonful of curry powder, allow to heat three minutes and serve with cooked rice.

LAMB HASH WITH PEPPERS.

Use the remnants from the leg for hash. Put the meat through the meat grinder, chop cold boiled potatoes and to each cup of lamb used add two cups of chopped potato.

Seed and chop two small sweet peppers for each three cups of hash. Put the chopped pepper into skillet with two tablespoonfuls of butter. Cook the peppers two minutes but do not brown. Add meat and potatoes and one-half cup of lamb broth or any gravy you have left. Bake in moderate oven an hour—do not brown.

AN INJUDICIOUS LIAR.

"An injudicious lie is often as bad as the truth" is a bit of philosophy Mark Twain has given us, and well might have he had in mind Bill Fuller, the title character in the laughing farce comedy, "Hello Bill," which the Paycen stock players are presenting to record business this week at the Temple. Bill (Mr. Maurice Jenkins) is nothing if not a prolific liar, but at times he becomes injudicious, for instance when he attempts to tell Miss Dare (Miss Renee Noel) that "her Ned" (Mr. McLain Gates) is dead. That was over-reaching the mark a bit, as she had just seen "her Ned" alive a couple of minutes before and Bill's story of his heroic death in Cuba three weeks before, spills the beans. Bill you see had been masquerading as General William Fuller, just back from Cuba to explain his absence from his bride, for Bill had been caught in a gambling raid, and, fearing that the judge would give him the usual three months, had prepared his alibi in advance.

AT THE NEW PALACE

HERE'S CHARLIE CHAPLIN.

The funniest man in the world, Charlie Chaplin, the man who nightly makes millions laugh at his absurd antics, will be at the New Palace Thursday and Friday in another sensational revue of his matchless farce comedies. The repertoire for this week's revue includes "Dough and Dynamite," "His Trysting Place," "Caught in a Cabaret," "The Masqueraders" and "The Rounders." Eight films of Chaplin. That's an entertainment.

Tonight the distinguished actor, William Faversham, will close a two days' engagement in Sir Gilbert Parker's great story, "The Right of Way." Mr. Faversham, who is making his debut before the camera, is being supported in this production by Miss Jane Grey and a superb company of principals.

AT THT EMPRESS

Saturday afternoon will see all the burlesque fans out to see the famous Star and Garter show, which opens at the Empress. That the Empress is going to give the best that can be had in this line of amusement is only one-half of what will be said after the patrons witness the first show, as they will see the famous Star and Garter show, which will also be the first real Columbia wheel show that has ever played this city. The seat sale opens Thursday morning at 10 o'clock. The attraction will be one of the season's real events when Izzy Weingarten will present his all new fashion plate organization, the "Star and Garter show," in a Marathon mixture of melody, mirth and merriment, entitled "At Saratoga Springs," which is divided into two parts, the action of which occurs at Saratoga, a summer resort, adjacent to New York, and on the boulevard of that "Gay Paree." This season's company is composed exclusively of favorites of the first grade.

AT THE JEFFERSON.

"SOLD," A TRIUMPH.

The stirring five-part photoplay will make an indelible impression on the minds of all who witness it. Absolutely true to life, with all of life's little sorrows and gladnesses, hopes and despairs, convincingly expressed, "Sold" becomes more than a drama—it is a dramatic preachment, a slice of life cut out of the world of today and placed on the screen.

All the feminine emotions, with which the characterization teems, and of which Miss Frederick is so completely mistress, are presented on the screen with such force and realism as can come only from histrionic perfection and well-balanced situations and incidents. Carefully produced, with skillfully timed climax and denouement, "Sold" will never be forgotten, both for the intrinsic charm of the subject and the unsurpassable emotional ability of Miss Frederick.

Thursday and Friday, the Jefferson has secured for projection the much-discussed "Island of Regeneration," starring Edith Storey and Antonio Moreno.

AT THE ORPHEUM.

Harry D. Carey, Renowned Broadway Actor at Orpheum Tomorrow in "Just Jim."

Harry D. Carey, idol of New York playgoers, and one of the most gifted actors who ever strode the classic boards of the speaking stage, has fallen—like a good many other idols, only in this case we avoid the literal conception of the meaning, for Mr. Carey has only succumbed to the omnipotent "movies," and has deserted the vocal drama long enough to create the heart touching title role in a brilliant picture-drama of his former great success, "Just Jim."

Mr. Frederick Hughes, the tenor soloist, who has created such a sensation with his beautiful singing, will be heard in selected vocal contributions. The Orpheum also wishes to call attention to the fact that the admission price for tomorrow and Friday will be raised to 10 cents in view of the importance of the attractions running on those days. On Friday the Orpheum has arranged to return "Scandal," the epochal morality drama which created so much discussion when shown a few weeks back.

YOUR NEW FALL HAT.

(By Betty Brown.)

If it's white patent leather and sailor size it's correct and up to the last minute in style.

* * *

The small white satin hat with upcurling brim is one of the leading fall models. A "Tipperary" tilt over the right eye adds to its sauciness.

Yarn effects in flowers and ornaments will decorate many new fall "bonnets." Doesn't sound good, but the milliners say they are very effective.

* * *

The white hats of fall will be followed by velvet and silk hats of rather quiet shades. Belgrade purple, Carpathian green, Garibaldi red and negre, or brown are the colors the milliners are studying.

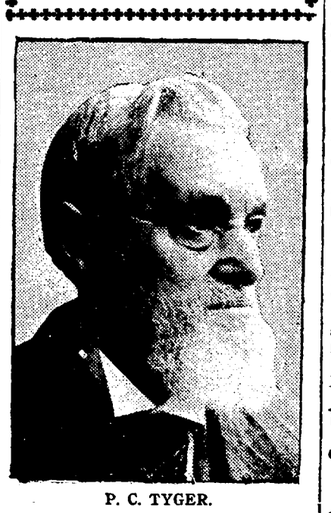
Friends Celebrate His 82d Birthday.



P. C. TYGER.

In commemoration of his 82d birthday a party of friends of P. C. Tyger, of 1326 Cass street, gave him a pleasant surprise Monday evening. In speaking of the event Mr. Tyger said that he knew that he was 82 years old, but knew nothing of the fact that his friends were going to give a party in his honor until they came rushing into his home.

Mr. Tyger, although advanced in years, has maintained a youthful appearance and seems yet as spry as he was thirty years ago. He keeps well posted on the affairs and happenings of the day, and can converse understandingly on any subject.

Mr. Tyger was born on August 6 in Papack, Somerset county, New Jersey, but came to Fort Wayne when he was 23 years of age, and has resided here since that time. He was employed by the Pennsylvania railroad for many years in the capacity of an engineer, but retired over twenty years ago. He formerly resided on East Lewis street.

He was united in marriage to Miss Louise Bashlier on February 1, 1866, and both are still living and enjoying good health. Plans will be made for the celebration of their golden wedding anniversary for next year.

(By Betty Brown.)

A tennis girl whose up-to-date sport clothes attract attention at Chicago country clubs is Miss Laura Johnson, whose favorite tennis suit is made of white tricot or Italian silk. The coat is made Norfolk style, pockets, belt and all, and the rather full skirt is finished at the bottom with square scallops about two inches deep. It's not at all an impracticable suit, as the silk "washes like a handkerchief" and wears very well. The saucy little satin hat takes its name—Chin-Chin hat, from its oriental model, the cap of the East Indian soldier.

DECATUR LINE WILL BE SOLD THURSDAY

Another Effort Will Be Made to Dispose of the Property.

Another effort will be made Thursday at Decatur to sell at receiver's sale the Fort Wayne and Springfield traction line, now operating between Fort Wayne and Decatur.

It is understood that there will be two bidders for the property, Fred A. Dolph, of Chicago, and the stockholders of the company.

A meeting of the stockholders was recently held in Decatur, at which time it was decided, it is understood, to buy in the property and as soon as possible extend the line to Richmond, passing through Geneva, Berne, Bryant, Portland, Ridgeville, Winchester, Lynn and Fountain City. It is believed that if this is done the line can be made a paying proposition.

Niagara Falls Excursion.

Sixty-six tickets were sold out of Fort Wayne for the Niagara Falls excursion Wednesday morning, conducted by the Ohio Electric. Nine tickets were sold at points along the Fort Wayne and Northern Indiana traction line. Excursionists from points along the Union Traction company will arrive in Fort Wayne at 3:50 p. m. to be transferred to the Ohio Electric.

Traction Notes.

Chief Dispatcher Howell, of the Ohio Electric, with headquarters in Lima, O., was a visitor in Fort Wayne Wednesday.

Officials of the Fort Wayne and Northern Indiana Traction company have been asked to assist in advertising the second industrial exposition to be held at Kokomo from September 20 to 26.

Miss Marie Telley, stenographer in the purchasing agent's office, has gone to Winona Lake to spend her vacation.

FASHION FORECAST.

(By Betty Brown.)

Almost all the new gowns I saw in a tour of the shops the other day were made in one piece. Some of them were girdled and some of them slightly bloused, but almost all of them had the direct, straight line extending from neck to skirt hem—and what can you call the straight line gown but a princess.

* * *

The redingote with its long, straight lines is also noticeable among the new gowns. The coat costume is a very economical garment as it's a dress and coat in one, and may be worn with only a flounced petticoat.

HOUSEHOLD HELPS.

When food burns quickly seize the kettle or pan from the fire and set into a larger pan of cold water. This will cause the steam to escape from the outside, instead of passing upward through the food.

* * *

A good way to wash the bottoms of pots and pans that have to set over the fire is to rub soap all over them before placing them on the fire. They will then wash clean with very little trouble.

* * *

Litttle Coats for Early Autumn Days

(By Betty Brown.)

For early autumn wear before Jack Frost puts a nip in the air, tailored suits short of coat and wide of skirt will be very popular.

I saw a stunning little "creation" of navy blue gabardine voile in the work rooms of Mme. Hosac, of the Fashion Art League of America, recently which is intended for mid-September wear. The severely plain little coat has the postillion back and in the front it's cut in two sharp points. It's semi-fitted at the waist.

FIGHTING TO GAIN HIS OWN CHILDREN

Wm. Langhor Begins Habeas Corpus Suit Against Bess Griebel.

In a legal battle to regain possession of his own children—Gertrude, aged 13, and Catherine, aged 8—William Langohr has begun habeas corpus proceedings in the superior court, charging that the defendant in 1910 forcibly and unlawfully took possession of the little ones and now has them at 415 Pearl street. He charges that she is unlawfully and without right depriving them of their liberty and is keeping them from the custody of the plaintiff. He also alleges that she is without means to properly support them, is not living in a neighborhood that gives the children a good environment, and is not a proper person to have charge of them. Attorney Edward L. Siebold filed the complaint.

She Wants a Divorce.

Agnes E. Davis has brought suit in the superior court against Homer A. Davis for a decree of divorce, alleging cruel and inhuman treatment. She says he called her vile and indecent names and swore at her and gave her no reasonable degree of support for two years. She says she has had to keep boarders to make a living for herself. The defendant is a non-resident. H. Waveland Kerr appears as attorney for the plaintiff.

Does Not Support Her.

Emma Dunlap, through Attorneys Sommers & Kennerk, has begun suit in the superior court for divorce from Cal Dunlap. They were married in 1899 and have been separated for eleven years. She says that he did not support her for two years prior to the separation and left her with little upon which to get along and she has had to support herself.

Notes of the Courts.

In the superior court, in the suit of Abraham Greenbaum vs. Charles Gruber, judgment has been rendered for the plaintiff on the findings previously made.

The superior court has entered judgment for the defendant in the suit of Dee Weaver vs. the city of Fort Wayne and Frank J. Rahe for $20,000 damages for personal injuries, according to findings by the jury. Before the trial was concluded the court dismissed the complaint as making the city defendant and the trial proceeded only against the defendant Rahe. Weaver was a youth employed in the city forestry department as a tree trimmer and fell from a tree in Lakeside, fracturing his skull. The defendant Rahe had the contract for the work. The jury held that he was in no wise responsible for the accident.

The divorce suit of Arthur Baker vs. Emma Baker has been dismissed from the superior court.

Judgment has been rendered in the superior court for the defendants in the suit of the First National bank vs. Grodrian and Middleton.

The superior court has granted a divorce to Florence Lesh from Emmett Lesh, given her the custody of a child and allowed her $10 a month for its support.

SAFETY FIRST; BEAT TO PORT.

Somewhere south of Fort Wayne County Commissioners James D. Butt, William C. Schwier and Albert J. Black, Commissioner-elect H. A. Wetzel, County Councilman Valentine Shaffer and County Auditor Will Johnson are stormbound en route home from New Castle, to which place they went Tuesday to inspect the buildings on the state's epileptic farm. In automobiles not of the seagoing kind they made the trip and the rains that began in the early morning Wednesday probably caused them to beat in to some friendly harbor to await abatement of the weather. The party left New Castle for Muncie Tuesday evening and spent the night there, expecting to start for home at 5 o'clock Wednesday morning. They had not arrived at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon and the anxious opinion about the court house was that no milder fate had befallen the party than being marooned in Muncie for the day.

The members of the party were the guests Tuesday of Dr. Van Nuys, superintendent of the state farm for epileptics, and they inspected the buildings of the institution, with which they were much impressed. They will submit a report to the county council recommending that buildings of similar type be erected on the new Allen county farm north of the city.

RUNS AWAY FROM EUROPEAN WAR

Ivan Vladimar Declares He Has Had Enough of Carnage.

San Francisco, Aug. 11.—Ivan Vladimir, nineteen years old, survivor of the European battle front, a soldier, an orphan, a fugitive and finally a man without a family, friend or country.

elder brothers farmed at Minsk. When war was declared, urged by the elder Vladimir, all volunteered.

"We went to Kiev, were accepted and while the men cheered and the women wept we drilled," said Ivan. "Then, as the Prussians were making their great drive into Galicia we were sent to the front. I was separated from my family, my father and two brothers going in one regiment, my other brother in another and myself in a third—the eighteenth. We were among the first to enter the fighting, and it was the deadliest then—at least for the Russians. They put us on the side of a hill to dig trenches.

"For two weeks we worked at this. Shells were bursting around us and I got my first sight of death. Sometimes the shells would strike near us, sometimes far up on the hillside or on the plain in front of us. Further forward there was rifle fire. Thousands of wounded were carried back to the hospitals through our line.

"We were finally ordered into the foremost positions to relieve other regiments.

"For a week I spent my days in the trenches and my nights in little dugouts. And I saw many killed.

"One night I heard from the regiment my father was in. It had been almost wiped out, and I learned that all three had been killed. At first it made me sick and then I think I went mad for a time, for before daylight I had torn my uniform blouse from me and started back toward Kiev. I was through with fighting.

"I was now a deserter and decided to come to America. I went back to our farm and got some money which my father had kept hidden for years. Then I made my way 6,000 miles across Siberia.

"I told nobody where I was going and sometimes I pretended I wanted to go to war and sometimes I told people I was a trader. Most of the way I rode. And always there was the fear they were after me.

"It was February when I finally got to the city of Harbin and crossed over the line into China. I had just money enough left to get to Shanghai. There a Russian shopkeeper befriended me, got me a job, and I saved enough money to get to San Francisco."

RUEF'S PARDON SOUGHT.

Petition in Behalf of San Francisco Politician Is Presented.

San Francisco, Aug. 10.—A petition for the parole of Abraham Ruef, former political leader, who was convicted of offering a bribe to a San Francisco supervisor and is now serving a fourteen-year sentence in San Quentin prison, is again before the board of prison directors, it was announced today.

Ruef has served four years and five months, which, with credits for good behavior, constitutes half his sentence. His last petition was denied on the ground that it was against the board's rule to parole a prisoner until he has served at least half his sentence.

THE WEATHER.

OFFICIAL FORECASTS.

Forecast till 7 p. m. Thursday:

For Ohio: Showers tonight; Thursday partly cloudy; probably showers east portion.

WEATHER CONDITIONS.

High pressure overlies the northern districts and there is another high off the north Pacific coast. A trough of low pressure covers the western slope of the Rockies and a moderate storm area is centered in the central Mississippi valley. Fair weather has attended this distribution of pressure in the north and west and rains in the extreme northeast, on the central eastern slope, in the gulf and south Atlantic states and central Mississippi and Ohio valleys. Except in a few localities the changes in temperature during the last twenty-four hours have been unimportant. Practically normal temperature conditions prevail this morning. In the north and west temperatures are somewhat above normal, while in the central valleys there is a slight deficiency in temperature. In central Texas the deficiency is about 10 degrees.

Present conditions indicate unsettled weather in this vicinity tonight, with showers. Thursday will be fair. The changes in temperature will be slight.

WILL CONFER AGAIN ON GARBAGE ISSUE

Board of Works and City Council Committee to Meet Thursday.

The board of works and President W. A. Bayer and Councilmen Agnew, Keller, Welch and Schlebecker, the city council's special committee on a new garbage plant will hold their second conference Thursday evening at the city hall. The members of the committee remain steadfast to the council's resolution that a consulting engineer be employed to survey the situation here and make recommendations. There is likely to be submitted to the conference by the committee a new proposition as a substitute for the board's proposal to purchase land in the extreme southwest part of the city as the site for a new garbage crematory. Plans for a central location are under consideration by the councilmen. It is believed that the board and the council will be able to get together on both the issues—the question of location and the employment of an engineer.

APPROVES GARBAGE RESOLUTION.

Mayor Hosey Did Not Veto as Some Expected He Would.

Mayor Hosey notified the city council Tuesday evening that he had given his signature of approval to the resolution passed at the last meeting requesting the board of works to employ a competent engineer for consultation on the best course to pursue in solution of the garbage problem. It had been in some quarters predicted that his hostility to the resolution was such as would actuate him to veto it.

Aside from the fight on the Mills anti-screen ordinance, which was defeated, the session of the council was without special incident and little time was consumed in dispatch of the routine business. The ordinances appropriating the funds for the 1916 budgets and tax levies as prepared by the city comptroller were presented and referred to the committee of the whole, which will be called to meet next Tuesday night to thrash out the financial problems. Mayor Hosey sent in a special message embracing suggestions by following which the council can procure enough money to motorize fire station No. 1, which will require $14,500, and at the same time not necessitate cutting the track elevation levy from 10 cents to 7 cents, as is proposed in the comptroller's estimates. The mayor recommends elimination of the garbage plant levy of 3 cents and cutting down the proposed appropriation of $4,000 for fireproof quarters for the electric fire signal station, which he says motorization of the No. 1 house equipment will make unnecessary.

The rules were suspended and the council passed an ordinance transferring $4,000 from the garbage collection account to the street repair account and also passed the ordinance appropriating $1,000 from the general fund to the new streets intersection account to pay the city's share of paving Wayne trace from New Haven avenue to the Pennsylvania right of way.

Councilman Korte's ordinance fixing a minimum wage for city employes, resurrected from the table two weeks ago, was read a second time and referred to the committees on fees and salaries and finance. It fixes the minimum wage at 25 cents an hour and a nine-hour day. All employes on salary shall receive not less than the equivalent of the minimum.

The council passed an ordinance ratifying a contract with the Dunn Coal company for 1,200 tons of coal for the garbage plant and referred the comptroller's semi-annual report to the committee on finance.

Mayor Hosey sent a communication saying he had approved the weed ordinance, the ordinance appropriating $250 to the contingent account of the legal department, the ordinance appropriating $40 a month from the track elevation funds to pay for additional clerical help in the board of works office and the ordinance ratifying the board of works resolution for grade separation at Coombs street and the Nickel Plate railway.

CONFIRM ASSESSMENT ROLLS.

Park Board Acts on Boulevard Matter at Adjourned Meeting.

At an adjourned meeting of the board of park commissioners, held Wednesday morning, on adjournment from Tuesday afternoon, when a quorum was not present, the assessment rolls for the grading of Anthony boulevard from the Maumee river to State boulevard were confirmed. The final estimates for cement sidewalks on the same boulevard from Lake avenue south were approved and the primary assessment rolls were ordered. The board decided to change the time of its regular meetings from Tuesday afternoons at 3:30 o'clock to Monday afternoons at the same hour and the new schedule will be inaugurated next week. Commissioner Abe Ackerman left immediately after the meeting for a business trip to Cleveland. Commissioneer Louis Dorn returned Tuesday afternoon from a vacation trip.

VINDICATION OF EVE JOY TO SUFFRAGISTS

New York, Aug. 11.—There was rejoicing in all New York suffragist camps yesterday over the dispatch from Philadelphia to the effect that Old Man Noah, who marched the animals into his ark two by two, was the original sinner, instead of Mother Eve.

"I always suspected that Garden of Eden story, anyway," said Miss Florence M. Harmon, organizer for the Political Equality association. "It sounds too much like the way men talk today. The other night a man said that most of the men in prisons were there because of women, and he mentioned Eve. Now anti-suffragists who lean on the Bible have lost their chief prop."

"Always Suspected Noah."

Miss Laura Ryan, suffragist, said: "I always suspected Noah. Eve was a lady, and is the mother of all the good people in the world. But if you have ever read the ninth chapter of Genesis you will remember that Noah, after the flood and his getting off the water, became a husbandman, planted a vineyard and got drunk on his own vintage. Most of the misery in the world comes through drink, and, if I remember right, Noah was the first person mentioned as liking wine parties."

Miss Clara Savage of the National Women's Suffrage association said: "The suffragists have been expecting for years that Eve would be vindicated, and now that motto they have been flinging at us for so long 'Cherchez la Femme' ('Hunt for the Woman') is disproved by this."

Truth Hidden 5,000 Years.

Mrs. Flora Gapen Charter of the New Jersey equal suffrage committee said: "When I read that dispatch I thought of the awful burden of blame that Eve and her daughters have borne down the centuries. You must give her and them the credit of bearing it smilingly for the most part. Now that women are coming into their own this discovery comes at an opportune time. But to think of the truth being hidden for 5,000 years!"

ANNUAL MEETING OF PIONEERS THURSDAY

Several Fort Wayne people will attend the twenty-first annual meeting of the Elida Pioneer society, to be held in Crites grove, one mile east of Elida, O., Thursday. Dr. C. B. Stemen, of this city, is president of the society, and has presided at each meeting for the past six years.

Governor Frank B. Willis, of Ohio, will be the principal speaker. Dr. Stemen is also on the program for a short address.

The committee in charge announces that there will be excellent speakers, splendid music, plenty of cool shade and an abundance of good cool water.

Two entertainments of beautiful appointment have been given this week to honor Mrs. Reuben S. Patterson, of Los Angeles, who is spending the summer in the city. On Tuesday Mrs. Harry Fletcher gave a garden party which afforded much pleasure to nearly thirty ladies who took their sewing, visited as they sat in the yard or on the porch and sewed, and were served tempting things for refreshment by Misses Katherine Keep, Harriet Lind and Dorothy Fletcher, all of Coldwater, Mich., who are guests at present of Mr. and Mrs. Fletcher. At 1 o'clock today Mrs. Charles E. Crall gave a luncheon for Mrs. Patterson, to which intimate friends were invited to meet her.

SUB-DISTRICT RALLY.

Epworth League Meeting at Union Chapel Saturday, August 14.

A splendid program with games, stunts and lunch will be the features of the sub-district Epworth league rally to be held next Saturday afternoon and evening at Union chapel, south of the city on the Bluffton interurban line. All those who care to attend are asked to take the 3 o'clock car and get off at stop 10. Walk east to the first grove. Another car leaves Fort Wayne at 5 o'clock.

This is the first of the quarterly rallies to be held during the year and at this time the sub-district officers will be elected. This district includes the five Epworth leagues of this city and those at Coesse, Harlan, Hoagland, Monroe, New Haven, Union Chapel and Woodburn.

EXCAVATION IS FINISHED.

Work is Progressing Rapidly on Trinity Lutheran Church.

The work on the building of the church edifice for the Trinity Lutheran congregation on Huffman street is progressing rapidly and the excavation of the basement has been finished. Masons have begun work on the laying of the foundation and if the weather permits, carpenters will begin their part of the work before the end of the week. It is the plan of the contractors to have the building under cover before winter weather sets in. Architect Riedel, who drew the plans, is on the ground daily superintending the construction.

BANK TELLER ADMITS ROBBERY TALE FAKE

Cedar Rapids, Ia., Aug. 11.—According to the police, Leo Perrin, paying teller of the Cedar Rapids National bank which was robbed of $21,300 a week ago today confessed that he committed the robbery.

At the time of the robbery Perrin said that he had been held up by a robber who compelled him to hand over the money and then locked him in the bank vault. Perrin was found in the vault in apparently hysterical condition and taken to a hospital. Later the police took him in custody.

BASEBALL GETS INTO PUBLIC SCHOOLS; PUPIL TO BE TAUGHT HOW TO UMPIRE.

I KNOW TEACHER! MAKE OUT HIS WILL AND TAKE POISON BEFORE THE CROWD COMES!
THE CLASS WILL NOW PRACTICE ON DODGING POP BOTTLES, CUSHIONS, BULLETS, ETC !
E. Ahern

(By Brown Holmes).

Baseball classes as part of a public school course, diplomas for graduates and instructors paid by the school board, just like other teachers, and the whole thing sanctioned by the school superintendent.

The first class, to start Oct. 1, will be for pupils who want to be umpires. They will be taught by Billy Hart, who just resigned as an umpire in the National league, and Billy Carpenter, who was an indicator man in the Southern league several years.

That proposition looks so good plans are on for public school courses for managers and players, with major and fast minor league players as instructors.

In the umpire class boys who have had some experience must attend the school one year before receiving diplomas. Beginners must attend school for one year, then get a season's experience in games and return to school for finishing touches before getting diplomas.

The course will last twenty weeks and one lesson will be given each week. Then the pupils must pass examinations.

The school, according to Renshaw's ideas, will serve two purposes. It will solve the problem of getting competent umpires for amateur games, which are increasing in number every year, and will serve as a stepping stone to boys who want to break into the professional umpiring game where men like Hank O'Day, Billy Klem and Billy Evans are earning big salaries.

The classes are expected to fit boys for the business of umpiring just as manual training schools fits them for other trades.

This Renshaw, originator of the scheme, is a live wire. He found amateur baseball in Cincinnati in bad shape, organized an amateur association with leading citizens as officers, formed a national commission to decide all disputes over amateur games, took the rowdyism out of the pastime, divided teams into age classes and made amateur games so fast and attractive, owners of the Cincinnati National league club began to say that if it were not for Renshaw their turnstiles would do more clicking.

The Clerk Guaranteed It.

"A customer came into my store the other day and said to one of my clerks, 'have you anything that will cure diarrhoea?' and my clerk went and got him a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, and said to him, 'if this does not cure you, I will not charge you a cent for it.' So he took it home and came back in a day or two and said he was cured," writes J. H. Berry & Co., Salt Creek, Va. Obtainable everywhere.—Adv.

RAIN JIMS TERRE HAUTE GAME TUESDAY

Following the long stretch of lovely weather extending from Sunday to Wednesday, it rained in Terre Haute yesterday and the Terre Haute-Fort Wayne game had to be called off. The local crew was all set to hand Gilbert's bunch a wallopping, but was required to forego the pleasure till Wednesday. It is hoped that a double-header can be played off this afternoon for this will be the last opportunity to get to Gilbert's Terriers.

Mrs. Clyde Cromwell, who has been ill at her home, 1529 Spy Run avenue, for the past ten days, was taken to Hope hospital Tuesday afternoon where she will undergo an operation.

FOOTBALL HAS ARRIVED.

First football practice of the year has been started at the United States naval academy at Annapolis. Sixty-five athletes are at work under Lieut. Ingraham, new head coach. The middies will be on a cruise later and are compelled to get in their practice early.

SHE'S GOING TO BE A BIRD.

Ruby Rutledge of Seattle and her plane.

She's twenty years old, has made twenty-two flights, and her name is Ruby Rutledge.

"I made my first flight a year ago with Aviator T. T. Maroney. I don't remember very much of it. It was over so suddenly that I hardly realized what had happened. Mr. Maroney asked me if I wanted to take a ride and I jokingly answered 'Yes.' When I found he really meant it I couldn't refuse."

Since her first flight she has been studying the subject of aviation.

"It isn't always smooth sailing," she said, "and sometimes we get some hard jolts.

"When you get up five or six thousand feet, air currents sometimes come from different directions and the plane gets rocked around some."

IT'S ALL IN THE FIGHTING TOOLS

One of the main reasons some of the big men who are going into the fighting game these days fail to stick is that they have little or no idea of how to care for their hands. Most of them are sent into the ring as soon as someone discovers they are big and strong and they are not given time to learn how to hit. They swing like wild men, trying to land the wallop that will bring notoriety, and crushed bones in their hands are the result.

A fighter with all the knockout steam in the world isn't worth a nickel if his fighting tools are so bunged up he can't put steam into his punches.

Jim Coffey has about as good a chance as anyone for a mill with Jess Willard, the champion, but carelessness is liable to prevent him from punching his way to the top. After Coffey's recent joust with Jim Flynn his hands were badly swollen and several small bones broken.

Willard, on the other hand, has one of the finest pairs of fists ever worn by a tingster. He punches out straight and doubles up his fist properly before landing a punch. Coffey swings wildly, and evidently does not hold his hands the right way.

In the bare knuckle days the old gladiators pickled their hands in brine for several weeks before a bout. Even in later days fighters made it a point to learn how to keep their working tools in good shape. In these "get rich quick" days among the big fellows that important point is being overlooked and the career of many a good prospect is being thrown away.

OH, FOR GOODNESS SAKE, NO!

President Clarence Archibold Geist, of the Seaview golf club of Atlantic City, one of America's wealthiest clubs, draws himself up to his full 5 feet 4 and remarks:

"We must have greater privacy, for we are a very exclusive set. There will be no open house tournaments or matches and absolutely nothing concerning our play will be published. You know an open tourney brings to the club a certain undesirable element that it is painful for our aristocratic members to associate with." Aw, Clarence, go chase yourself.

The Ladies Co-operative society will give a pedro party Thursday afternoon at the hall on Harrison street. Other amusements will be provided and a good time is assured.

An ice cream social will be given by the Lady Maccabees on Thursday evening, Aug. 12.

BOXER LIKES BASEBALL AS TRAINING STUNT.

"Baseball keeps a fellow on his toes and is great training for the eyes," said Clabby. "Batting makes a fellow a fine judge of distance, and that's important in a ring bout.

"Baseball practice has done me as much good as anything else in my training for bouts."

HEINIE PEITZ MAY BE INDIANA COACH

In looking about for a baseball coach for 1916 the authorities of Indiana university have under consideration Heinie Peitz, a veteran of the American league and the American association. Peitz was in the Central league this season as an umpire but illness compelled him to give up this work. He formerly was a catcher for the Reds, and played with the St. Louis Nationals in the nineties. He then became manager of Louisville and later was assistant manager of Kansas City. He spent several years in the capacity of coach of pitchers for the Cardinals. His varied experience has taught him a world of baseball and he is able to teach it.

LABOR DAY RACE MEET.

The Fort Wayne Amateur Driving club will stage its best races of the season at the Centlivre park track on Labor day, in connection with the Fort Wayne Federation of Labor celebration that will be held at the park. The fastest of the horses that have developed on the local track this season, in addition to the old favorites, will be contenders.

REDS ARE VICTORIOUS.

Three members were initiated Tuesday evening at the regular meeting of Anthony Wayne court, Court of Honor. In the contest for new members the Reds, captained by E. M. Buchanan, were successful. Miss Emma Driskel, recorder, was awarded a silver set by Mr. Buchanan for securing the most members. The Blues, who were defeated in the contest, was captained by Mrs. Letitia Patton. She yill give a gold watch to the winner on her team. The lodge will hereafter meet only on the second fourth Tuesdays in each month. The next booster meeting will be held at the Buchanan home, 639 Anderson avenue.

Polarine

"Standard Oil" science, experience and facilities have eliminated the faults of poor motor oils! Thus thousands of motors which were once troublesome and expensive have been made smooth in operation and economical in upkeep.

Polarine maintains the correct lubricating body at any motor speed or temperature.

In seven years the demand for it in the Middle West alone has increased from 1,100 gallons to nearly 7,000,000!

Why experiment longer, when you can get Polarine? Polarine is dependable. It is on sale everywhere at less price than asked for oils that fall short of Polarine in efficiency.

TURN HAIR DARK WITH SAGE TEA

If Mixed With Sulphur It Darkens so Naturally Nobody Can Tell

The old time mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur for darkening gray, streaked and faded hair is grandmother's treatment, and folks are again using it to keep their hair a good, even color, which is quite sensible, as we are living in an age when a youthful appearance is of the greatest advantage.

Nowadays, though, we don't have the troublesome task of gathering the sage and the mussy mixing at home. All drug stores sell the ready-to-use product called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound" for about 50 cents a bottle. It is very popular because nobody can discover it has been applied. Simply moisten your comb or a soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also produces that soft lustre and appearance of abundance which is so attractive; besides prevents dandruff, itching scalp and falling hair.—Adv.

FEW HOUSES HAVE NOT BEEN WRECKED

Gallipoli Peninsula, July 25.—Correspondence of the Associated Press.—There are few houses on the Gallipoli peninsula that have not been wrecked by the severe bombardment incident to the landing of the allied troops last April and there are no houses that are now inhabited.

There are wheat fields waiting for the reaper and vineyards and olive groves where work might be done. In the villages the few remaining shops stand idle. From the harbors along the Dardanelles and Gulf of Saros the boats have vanished, and the nets of the fishermen have dried in the hot sun a long time.

Out on the fields the crude plows and harrows lack oxen. The windmills are ruins or have had their canvas sails stripped by shot and shell.

Town, village and countryside have been deserted by their populations. The picturesque civilian garb of Turk and Greek has disappeared and instead everywhere the dull olive drab and hardly brighter khaki uniform of the Turkish soldier.

This is the Gallipoli peninsula today.

The British and French ships have thrown tens of thousands of heavy shells on the narrow strip of land. Maidos and Noulain have been razed. Kirthia is a heap of ruins and Gallipoli stands as a monument to what modern artillery may do. To these must be added every other town, village, and hamlet on the peninsula, and they are by no means few in number.

The expenditure of artillery and aeroplane ammunition of the British and French has been enormous, and wasteful. This morning a British cruiser threw into the town of Gallipoli, exactly 101 shells—a sort of salute to Czar Mars, because there is nothing in Gallipoli to call for such an extravagance with the taxpayers' money. At another point, nearby, ninety-eight shells were hurled. Both bombardments resulted in a bag of one shepherd wounded.

But the bombardment was a fine exhibition. For the greater part of an hour it kept the echos of the Gallipoli hills busy. Then the cruiser steamed to other parts—to one of the islands in the Aegean, where its crew may be enjoying a good rest at this moment.

Not a square foot of ground on the peninsula is safe against the British ship artillery fire, though dugouts help. The British gunners start early—about 5:15 o'clock in the morning. Why, nobody knows. Light conditions for them would be best late in the afternoon, when the sun illuminates the hills of the peninsula from the southwest, when, in other words, it is behind, instead of before, the gunner. But modern gunnery is not hampered much by such trifles as light conditions, especially when indirect fire, or "map" bombardments make the eye of the cannoneer almost a superfluous thing.

In the conning tower of the bombarding vessel stands an officer with a map and a few other accessories, and puts the higher mathematics, astronomy, and the reports of aeroplane scouts and observers to good use. Astronomy and artillery may seem unrelated, but at a pinch the artillery officer of the bombarding ship can make splendid use of it. If the land marks on the coast do not suit his purposes well enough, he can establish to a fraction of a geographical second just where he is, measure distance between gun and target on his map, shout certain numbers to his crews in the turret and—bang!

The proceeding is simple enough and the landscape of the peninsula, were it a sentient being, would know it. The peninsula gives the impression of a pest of very large and exceedingly active moles having visited it—together with a violent earthquake. Seen from an elevation, located anywhere, the hills, slopes and narrow valleys appear to have broken out in a sort of bad rash.

Daily the rash increases. A few days ago the Associated Press correspondent was waked at 5:15 a. m. by having a shell explode inconveniently close—through the canvas wall of the tent in which he slept, or had slept until that moment. Other shells came and before the British cruiser deigned to be silent over eighty shots had landed both far from, and near to, the tent. But by that time the correspondent lay snug in a bomb-proof.

If it isn't artillery that spoils the Gallipoli landscape it is the busy aeroplanist's bomb. The allies have many fliers and all of them are bent upon making life on the peninsula as precarious as possible. Every day these birds of ill omen come, and they all throw bombs, some explode with one bang, others do the trick in three installments—in a sort of ripping crash that makes the sound of striking lightning a poor imitation of what man can do in that line.

The hole left by the aerial bomb is not large. But the landscape suffers nevertheless. Everything within a generous radius of the explosion goes down. The grass vanishes under the hot, withering breath, and bush and tree are snapped like so many dry twigs.

To the British bombarding ships the Turks pay no heed—for good reasons. The bombardments are carried on from so long a range that the Turkish batteries cannot reach these disturbers of the idyllic peace, but the aeroplane can be given at least a little attention. The hum of its motor is hardly heard when certain batteries get ready. But to get an aeroplane down is largely accident, and the aviator knows it. So on he sails and just to return compliments he drops a bomb when he imagines he is over the offending battery—which he hardly ever is, according to two weeks' experience of the Associated Press correspondent.

What goes in the air must come down again. The law of gravity makes no exception, even in the case of shrapnel. So if the bomb of the aviator has missed you, the fragments of the shrapnel may not. It takes Turkish nerves to stand a sojourn on the peninsula for any length of time.

The Turks do not seem to mind the combination, in reality do not mind it at all. Their fatalism is a splendid thing under such conditions. If "Kader" the supreme fate, wills death by any means enumerated, then, "Kader" willed it thus, so they reason hereabout. Of course, a bomb-proof, is a good thing they admit. But fate may reach anywhere, even in a bomb-proof. So, what is the use of a bomb-proof? Lately, however, the men have been considerate enough of their fortune of war to observe the progress of the yellow birds from under the trees.

Splendid summer weather prevails on the peninsula. The sun is hot enough, but the proximity of two large bodies of water keeps the breeze stirring. There are [illegible] sea and wind to the Mediterranean. It is cool even in the middle of the day under the pines and cypresses, though the shade of the latter is a scant thing and to keep in it one must keep shifting every few minutes. The slender cypress of these parts serves better as the column of a sundial than a parasol. The pine is better, and in addition has the admirable quality of permitting the person resting under its fragrant roof to watch the aeroplanes properly, or at least make sure that the humming noise is not merely that of an industrious, little bumble bee instead of an aeroplane—all of which tends to make life on the peninsula less unattractive.

But nature does not mind a few scars. In the pine brakes the aromatic rosin floors and the needles emit their pungent fragrance at the coaxing of a warm sun. On the crest of the hills and against the gentler slopes yellow wheat fields imitate the blue waters of the Dardanelles and the Aegean is showing waves under the impulse of the breeze. Cypresses sway and sigh as heretofore, the birds sing and the grasshoppers chirp—all tokens that nature at least is in status quo.

There are many nightingales on the peninsula—when the sun has set they begin their songs, generally cut short by a renewal of the fighting.

Every night there is fighting with machine guns, rifle, bayonet, knife, hand grenade and life-destroying chemicals. Now and then somebody springs a mine besides. The noise of this sort of battle is not particularly great even at short distances from the two arenas. It moves over the ancient hills softly—spasmodically. The dull and equidistant raps of the machine guns are followed by the sharp and regular cracks of the rifles, while exploding hand grenades punctuate as it were, the sentences of the paragraph of history that is being written.

Thus passes the night and at cock's crow peace comes and lingers until the man in the conning tower can read his map and establish angles and degrees for his large calibres.

Mrs. Mary E. Hart, Noted Club-Woman and Author, Tells Amazing Story of Being Haunted by Specter of Youth.

(By Jack Jungmeyer.)

San Francisco, Aug. 11.—Dread of a hanged man's ghost prevents Mrs. Mary E. Hart, Alaska's leading woman citizen, from ever returning to Nome.

Weirder story never came out of the northland.

The fact that Mrs. Hart is not a credulous woman, but one trained in a school of harsh materialism along the Yukon, makes her narrative all the more amazing.

She is a big, capable, masterful "sourdough," who has homesteaded, mined, broken trail and mushed in the wildest parts of Alaska for fifteen years. Three times she has represented the north at world's expositions, and is a notable club woman and author.

"Until now I have always been afraid to tell why I can never go back to Nome," she began. "People today can't credit experiences such as I am about to relate.

"It grew out of my unwilling part in the first legal execution in the territory, the hanging of Fred Hardy, a youth convicted of murdering three prospectors at Dutch Flat.

"I was then reporting for a Nome paper and had been assigned to cover the execution and try for a confession from Hardy, although he steadily maintained his innocence.

"Having won his confidence, and all hope for reprieve having gone, I believed Hardy would admit his guilt to me at the last if he was the murderer. He had but a few hours to live when I spoke to him through the bars of his death cell in the old Nome ice house.

"'You are about to die, Fred,' I said. 'I want you to tell me if you did this thing. Such a confession would mean much to me as a newspaper reporter, and could not harm you now because all your chances are gone.'

"Terror, gratitude for my friendship and integrity struggled for mastery in his boyish features while he pondered.

"'No,' he said finally; 'I can't do it, Mrs. Hart. I was going to lie to make a story for you. But it would be false. I am not a murderer. I can't lie on the brink of eternity, not even to do you, my only friend here, a good turn.'

"'Mrs. Hart,' he asked, 'do you believe in life after death; do you think the dead can make themselves manifest to the living?'

"'I do,' he continued, 'and I shall return to tell you about death and about the beyond—if I will be welcome?'

"'Yes,' I stammered with creeping horror, 'yes, you'd be welcome, Fred.' What else could I have said to a boy about to die?"

Mrs. Hart told the rest of her story with manifest effort at self-control.

"I was in my office writing the story of the hanging, which I had witnessed.

"It was quiet and I was alone.

"And then Fred Hardy, whom I had seen dashed into eternity, came back—to haunt me for many hideous weeks.

"I sat rigid in my chair, unable to move or speak. It was as though I were being choked to death; as if I were undergoing what that twenty-one-year-old youth must have experienced during his last moment. I am confident I would have died but for an interruption.

Mrs. Mary E. Hart and a sketch de picting her terrifying experience.

"A girl we knew as 'Sunshine' in Nome knocked at the door, entered, touched me on the shoulder, shrieked, 'My God, Hardy is here!' and fell to the floor, alternately fainting and hysterical.

"She spoke in Hardy's voice, describing death torments—'Sunshine' who had not witnessed the hanging, speaking in Hardy's low, peculiar voice? It was frightful beyond words.

"That almost lethal paralysis left my body at the instant 'Sunshine' touched my shoulder, but from that day until I left Nome I was haunted day and night by that inexplicable presence. It was destroying my health. I had to come away. The obsession did not cease until I was aboard the boat, bound for San Francisco, where at least one other person saw this ghostly presence.

"I make no attempt to explain this ghastly experience. But I shall never return to Nome—because I am afraid."

Woman's Day, Robison Park, Wednesday August 18th.

The annual Woman's Day will be held at Robison park on Wednesday, Aug. 18. There will be a special prize for the oldest woman, a special prize for the tallest woman and a special prize for the heaviest woman. The old ladies will parade at 2 p. m. Beautiful prizes will be awarded the costumes in the Hard Times Parade. The only object of the Hard Times Parade is good, wholesome fun. The imported German work baskets and the exquisite Limoges china plates that have been on exhibition all summer in the pavilion will be awarded this year only to those appearing in the Hard Times Parade. There will also be ten grand prizes for the best ten costumes typifying the hard times idea. All the women employes of Robison park will be dressed in hard time costumes on Woman's Day.

Aug. 9, 11, 13, 16

Hard Times Parade Judges

B. J. Griswold, of the People's Trust building; Mrs. Hugh G. Keegan, of Swinney court, and Mrs. Frank Bond, of West Jefferson street, are the judges who will select the winning costumes in the Hard Times Parade on Woman's day. There will be ten grand prizes for the best ten costumes typifying the Hard Times idea. The beautiful souvenirs that have been on exhibition all summer in the pavilion will also be awarded to those appearing in the Hard Times Parade. The grand total of prizes, therefore, is just one hundred and twenty-nine as there are one hundred and nineteen souvenirs to be distributed. Every one of these will be given away on Woman's day only to those appearing in the Hard Times Parade.

HIS FIRST VISIT AT PENNSY SHOPS

William C. Downing, general superintendent of the Pennsylvania Northwest System, whose portrait appears above, was in Fort Wayne last night and this morning for the first time since his appointment to his present office. He is out on his first inspection trip as general superintendent, and was accompanied over the western division by Superintendent Otto Schroll and the heads of the several departments. Yesterday was devoted to an inspection of the Chicago end of the line and to the shops at Indiana Harbor, coming to Fort Wayne by special train as the second section of No. 8 last night. This morning Mr. Downing inspected the shops and other property of the company in Fort Wayne, leaving at noon for the east.

WILLIAM C. DOWNING.

The special train was abandoned here and Mr. Downing and party went east on a regular train, his private car being attached to No. 40, which left at 12:30 o'clock this afternoon. With Mr. Downing on the inspection trip, in addition to the division officials, are Signal Engineer J. P. Buchanan and Car ervice Man E. W. Parrott, of the general offices at Pittsburg. The local division officials who accompanied Mr. Downing to Crestline were Supt. Otto Schroll, Trainmaster C. L. Hamilton, Division Engineer Guy Scott, Master Mechanic E. E. Griest, Division Operator H. B. Reynolds, Road Foreman of Engines C. R. Colmey and Assistant Road Foreman of Engineers F. E. Wilmore.

PENNSY IS STORING COAL.

Fears Winter Shortage and Is Taking Steps to Meet It.

Altoona, Pa., Aug. 11.—Anticipating a shortage of coal this fall and winter the Pennsylvania railroad is taking steps to protect itself by storing thousands of tons at convenient points along the system. Two big storage stations have been established here.

Since the start of the European war many miners have responded to calls to the colors. As a result coal companies have been obliged to advertise for miners.

One operator in the central Pennsylvania fields stated dealers are making money now for the first time in several years, as the manufacturing of war munitions has created a big demand for coal and most of the mines are working full time.

MANAGERS SAY BUSINESS IS GOOD

The fourteen or fifteen district managers of S. F. Bowser and Company, who represented all sections of this country and who attended the midsummer convention last week, reported good business and good prospects for future business. "We have no complaint to make of the condition of the company's business as a whole," said General Manager S. B. Bechtel. "The district managers made good reports and predicted good business for the future," continued Mr. Bechtel.

MARRIED IN MISSOURI.

A Jefferson City, Mo., paper publishes an account of the wedding in that city of Miss Pauline Roach and Thomas B. Ellis, the latter of the Fort Wayne Electric works, this city. The bride and groom are now at Lake George, spending the honeymoon, and when they return to Fort Wayne they will reside at the residence of F. D. Bond, 1326 West Jefferson street.

EN ROUTE TO ALBANY.

Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Bowser and two children are now well on their way to Albany, N. Y., where they expect to reside for a year or so, Mr. Bowser being interested in the management of S. F. Bowser and Company's branch office. They are making the trip in an automobile. They left at 7 o'clock yesterday morning and expect to reach Albany some time tomorrow.

VISITS OLD COMRADES.

Frank Preutchet, who is conducting a tin and slate roofing business at Springfield, Mass., called at the Pennsylvania shops this morning to see his old friends, of which there are still a few. Mr. Preutchet was employed in the Pennsylvania copper shop twenty-seven years ago. He is now doing a good business at Springfield and has nineteen tinners and slate-roofers at work steadily.

Among the excursionists to Niagara Falls who left over the interurban route today was Miss Mabel Paul, of the printing department of S. F. Bowser and company, who is taking her vacation.

William Hayes, clerk for John Doren, Wabash freight house foreman, is on a vacation and left yesterday for New York to visit his sister. He will later go to Petoskey.

V. W. Colmey, apprentice in the Pennsylvania blacksmith shop, was taken ill soon after starting at work this morning, and had to return home. His condition is not serious.

Mrs. Robinson and Miss Helen Robinson, wife and daughter of C. E. Robinson, of the Pennsylvania blacksmith office, have returned from St. Joseph, Mich., where they visited two weeks.

Chris Starke, a carbuilder; F. S. Anglin, of the car machine shop, and John Wilhelm, of the planing mills, of the Pennsylvania, were unable to get to the shops today on account of sickness.

Before he takes up the duties of his new office in the Pennsylvania erecting shop, Edward Breimeier will spend a few days on a pleasure trip, visiting Detroit, Cleveland and Pittsburg. He left today.

Four show horses belonging to Madame Marentelle, in a specially devised car, passed through the city last night, being delivered to the Wabash by the G. R. & I. The animals were bound for St. Mary's, Kan.

Gerald Leeper, clerk in the Pennsylvania machine shop office, has returned from a vacation trip to Mackinac.

Mrs. R. Cohen and Felix Cohen, mother and brother of Miss Ida Cohen, stenographer at the Wabash store room, left today on a sight-seeing trip and visit with friends at Buffalo, Niagara Falls and Erie. They will be gone two weeks.

Thomas, Edna and Mariam Gordon, children of Samuel J. Gordon, of the shipping department of the Fort Wayne Electric works, are at the summer home of their uncle, Orin T. Bolt, Cedar River, to spend the remainder of the summer.

Passenger Fireman N. E. Nestle, of the Pennsylvania, with his wife and children, left today on a pleasure trip which will cover a period of thirty days. They will spend the greater portion of the time in Denver, Col., and Salt Lake City, Utah.

Mrs. Verweire and daughters, the Misses Dorothy and Nadina Verweire, wife and daughters of Machinist Charles Verweire, of the Pennsylvania shops, have returned from Wayne, N. D., where they spent six weeks with relatives and friends.

General Foreman William Kingmann, of the Bass foundry, returned from Wilmington, Del., today. He went there with W. C. Slater on business for the company several days ago. Mr. Slater went on to New York and will not return until tomorrow on the following day.

L. M. Hadley and Miss Lucy Hadley, father and sister of A. L. Hadley, of the engineering department of the Fort Wayne Electric works, who have been visiting the latter here and at the cottage at Clear Lake, will leave for their home, Decatur, Mass., tomorrow afternoon. They will stop a day or two at Niagara Falls en route to Templeton.

Odowin Doenges, who is walking from Fort Wayne to San Francisco, writes his brother from western Nevada on date of August 4 that he is within 544 miles of his destination and is feeling good and enjoying the walk. He will reach San Francisco within the time limit set when he began the "hike."

Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Poyser, of Kansas City, will be the guest of his brothers, William and George Poyser, in Fort Wayne next week. They passed through the city yesterday, en route to New York, where Mr. Poyser will purchase goods for his store in Kansas City. He formerly resided in this city.

R. W. Evans, assistant foreman of the Pennsylvania blacksmith shop, accompanied by his family and Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Wills, of Altoona, went to the lakes to stay a few days. Mr. Evans has been suffering from rheumatism and hopes to get relief through the rest at the lakes. Mrs. Wills is Mr. Evans' sister.

The automatic parcel locker and toilet system which figured in the original plans of the Baker street station of the Pennsylvania and later abandoned, are to be installed this summer, the American Sanitary Locker company having secured the contract. For the parcel locker the patron will have to deposit a dime in the slot and for the toilet room a nickel in the slot will cover the expenses. The system was to have been installed by August 15, but it will not be in operation until a much later date.

CHICAGO GRAIN AND PROVISIONS

Chicago, Aug. 11.—Rapid harvesting under favorable conditions in the spring crop states caused declines today in all deliveries of wheat except September. That option went to a premium over December for the first time this season. Opening prices, which ranged from a shade to ⅝c lower, were followed by a moderate rally that carried September above last night's level.

The close was nervous, ½c to 1¾@1⅞c net higher.

Corn showed firmness, the result of an expected falling off in receipts. After opening unchanged to ⅛@¼c higher, the market tended to harden a little in addition.

THE DAY ON WALL STREET.

New York, Aug. 11.—Standard stocks were again to the fore at the opening of today's market, yesterday's demand for those issues being resumed. Union Pacific was the prominent feature, its initial sale of 1,500 shares being made at an advance of 1¼ points, while St. Paul, Northern Pacific, Atchison and Louisville and Nashville soon rose one to 1⅝. United States Steel was inclined to react after a moderate advance and some of the war specialties, notably Bethlehem Steel and Crucible, lost two to three points.

Profit taking caused moderate recessions before the end of the first hour in which time sales exceeded 300,000 shares, U. S. Steel being again the most prominent feature. Trading slackened perceptibly later but prices made another advance under lead of Canadian Pacific, which added four points to yesterday's substantial gain. War industrials continued reactionary, Crucible Steel declining over six points. Studebaker and Willys-Overland were exceptions, scoring new high prices. Bonds were strong.

TWO ARE DECLARED GUILTY.

Chicago Jury Convicts Pair in Police Graft Case.

Chicago, Aug. 11.—The jury in "police graft case" found William Egan and Walter O'Brien, former detectives, guilty of accepting bribes from clairvoyants and fixed the penalty at from one to five years. The verdict was arrived at after twenty-four ballots.

The two detectives were charged with having accepted money from Barney Bertsche and James and Frank Ryan, to protect the clairvoyants from prosecution.

The specific charge against Egan was that he captured Frank Ryan's "red book" in a raid and received $500 from Ryan in return for the book.

John Northrup, counsel for O'Brien, made a demand for a new trial and Judge O'Connor intimated he would hear a motion to that effect at the open session.

CHICAGO BACHELOR GUEST OF WILSONS

Chicago, Aug. 11.—Frank E. Compton, a Chicago bachelor of 30, arrived yesterday in Cornish, N. H., for a short visit with the family of President Wilson. He is described as "a friend of Miss Margaret Wilson" in the Associated Press dispatches.

Miss Margaret is the last of the three daughters of the president remaining unmarried. More than a vague hint has been made by friends of Mr. Compton, who is a publisher, that he either is betrothed to Miss Margaret or burningly desires to be.

May Leave Wilson Alone.

In the event that an engagement is announced it will mean that the president soon will be left alone in the white house. Bereaved of his wife shortly after his daughter Jessie married Francis B. Sayre a year ago last November, he saw his daughter Eleanor become the wife of William Gibbs McAdoo, secretary of the treasury, in the following May. Miss Margaret alone of the family of five which came to live in the government mansion at his inauguration will remain with him.

And now, with circumstantial probabilities and Mr. Compton's visit as "a friend of Miss Margaret Wilson," the president's most intimate associate will not be surprised if another announcement soon carries with it the president's third daughter's departure from the home circle.

Mr. Compton is president of the F. E. Compton Publishing company. He has a bachelor residence of unobtrusive front in Glencoe and is a member of Skokie Golf club.

Embarrassed by Report.

He was deeply embarrassed when the report was made known to him shortly before his departure for Cornish.

"Incidentally" was the burden of his explanation regarding his several meetings with Miss Margaret heretofore, which had not attracted public comment.

He agreed that he had met the unmarried Miss Wilson several times "incidentally," knew her "incidentally" and was about to visit her "incidentally."

"But it is a business trip," he hastened to add. "I am going to call on correspondents and representatives of our company in the east."

Denies He's Engaged.

"Are you engaged to Miss Wilson?" was the next blunt query.

Mr. Compton blushed and looked agitated.

"Of course not," he hurriedly answered. "The report is absurd. I am sure it will embarrass Miss Wilson and the president, and, since it has absolutely no foundation of any sort, will you kindly make no mention of it?"

Mr. Compton said he never had met any member of the president's family except Miss Margaret. When asked for details of the first and several meetings with the young white house mistress he said he did not feel free to discuss Miss Wilson's personal comings and goings through the press.

NEW GUARDSMEN ARE IMPROVING RAPIDLY

Indianapolis, Aug. 11.—The practical value of the training given Indiana national guard members was demonstrated beyond dispute at the camp at Fort Benjamin Harrison yesterday, when the men showed marked improvement in parade in the evening. The improvement over the performances of the previous day was so marked that the regular army officers almost without exception congratulated the men on the strides they had made.

Although the men have been at the camp only since early Monday, they have shown a keen desire to increase their military knowledge, and it is to this spontaneous desire to make better records that the advancement is attributed.

The speed with which the men have made improvements in their military appearance is regarded as all the more remarkable because of the fact that about half of the members of the two battalions have had practically no military experience. It was expected that this lack of knowledge would impede the improvement of the troops and the command expects to change within a few days.

tains were surprised to find the men taking to their new work as if they had had long previous training.

The regular army officers were free with words of praise after the parade last evening. It is their prediction that by the time the men disband they will have made wonderful strides toward a higher efficiency in the military work.

FRENCH RED CROSS MAKES A PROTEST

Denounces Alleged Measures of Reprisal Taken by Germany.

Paris, Aug. 11.—The Marquis de Vogue, president of the Central committee of the French Red Cross, has sent a formal protest to Gustave Ador, president of the International Red Cross committee at Geneva, against alleged measures of reprisal taken by the German government against French prisoners of war in retaliation for alleged mistreatment of German prisoners. This protest, dated August 4, is based on a report by Baron Danthouard, the plenipotentiary accredited by the French government to represent the French Red Cross at war prison camps.

Baron Danthouard states that a thousand French prisoners have been taken from camps at Erfurt, Ohrdruff, Danistadt, Friedrichfeld, Munster and Merzburg and sent to the Hanoverian swamps, "a region of notorious unhealthfulness," there to be employed in draining and clearing land. For most of these men, unaccustomed to such work, this is physical and mental torture and killing fatigue in the misery of improvised quarters. This barbarous penalty is cold bloodedly inflicted on innocence with the undisguised purpose to terrorize their families and exercise, through them, moral pressure on French public opinion and government.

the Swiss Colonel Marval, deputed by the Red Cross to examine French camps, wherein Marval says: "Labor conditions surrounding prisoners in both Morocco and France are normal and in conformance with humanitarian laws."

De Vogue says further that the only German prisoners ever interned in Dahomey were those captured in Togoland Kameroun, where the climate is similar to that in Dahomey. All these prisoners, he says, have been transferred to Morocco.

AUTO CRASHES OVER 50-FOOT EMBANKMENT

Cleveland, O., Aug. 11.—One man was killed and five were seriously injured early today when an automobile in which the party was returning from the Griffiths-Sayler fight at Akron, crashed down a fifty-foot embankment after leaping through the rail of a bridge over the Erie railroad tracks several miles southeast of the city. The dead:

George F. Murray, 35, shipping clerk.

Police say Steele lost control of the car and failed to make the turn.

POPE WILL RENEW EFFORT FOR PEACE

Rome, Aug. 10.—(Via Paris, Aug. 11, 3:50 a. m.)—Pope Benedict has determined to make a new appeal for peace according to the newspaper Roma which declares the pontiff is resolved to use every means within his power to bring about the desired result. He will ask the help of the episcopate and, the newspaper asserts, is even considering the convocation of a universal council of the church at Rome.

The Roma which does not give its authority asserts it has been informed that the pope will forbid all representatives of the church in belligerent countries, under pain of excommunication, from offering prayers for victory, from asking blessings for the combatants, or even administering the sacraments to those responsible for a continuation of the war.

The same newspaper claims to have information to the effect that the pope has made a personal appeal to the [illegible] of Germany, Austria, Hungary, Turkey, Bulgaria, the central and South American republics as well as to the king of Spain and the Scandinavian countries asking them to join with him in an effort to obtain at least a truce preparatory to the opening of peace negotiations.

ANDY DONNELLY IS AGAIN IN BASTILE

By grace of the strange circumstances that always heretofore Andy Donnelly, formerly of Baker street, but now of 418 Dawson street, had been arrested for assault and battery or disorderly conduct, it was found impossible to place previous convictions for intoxication against him in the city court, Wednesday morning, and by this fluke of fortune he was spared a long term at the state penal farm. This time he was in on a drunk charge, and the best Judge Kerr could do for him was $5 and costs, and he went to jail for fifteen days. Heretofore Andrew has been in for beating his wife, mauling his daughter, cleaning up on his wife's male boarders or for general deviltry that could be reached by disorderly charges. It fell out, however, that when he was arrested Tuesday evening by Officer Walter Boseker he was merely drunk, though his daughter testified that he had been abusing her and a young lady who stays with her nights since the death of Mrs. Donnelly a few weeks ago. A minute search of the records failed to disclose a previous conviction for drunkenness.

Speeders in Court.

C. W. Wass, an 18-year-old youth residing at 1421 Hurd street, was fined $25 and costs for speeding his motorcycle on Buchanan street a few minutes after the noon hour, Tuesday, when he was hurrying homeward to dinner from the Pennsylvania shops. Motorcycle Officer Dan Kintz, who made the arrest, testified that he had "clocked" young Wass and found he was sailing along at thirty-two miles an hour. Judge Kerr took into account the youth of the offender and abated the rigors of the conventional fine 50 per cent and made it $25.

Andrew Kail, a young man whose home is on DeWald street, was arrested by Officers Boseker and Hecke shortly before 12 o'clock Tuesday night after he had come down the hill on Lafayette street to Wallace street at a speed of twenty-five to thirty miles an hour. He admitted he was going better than twenty miles. Officer Boseker said Kail tried to run away when commanded to stop, and was halted when he threatened to shoot. Judge Kerr continued the case until August 30, and released Kail on his own recognizance.

Right Back In Jail.

John Dolan, who was released from jail Tuesday morning after doing fifteen days for drunkenness, started right in to celebrate the advent of freedom, and, within four hours, was again locked up. He pleaded for one more chance to get out to the rolling mills, where he was sure a job awaited him, and was told he would get to it after the lapse of fifteen days, and, if he didn't, his next time in would ticket him to the penal farm.

MISTAKE $10 FOR $20.

The police have no great expectation of being able to find the young man who made small purchase at the Reed grocery on East Columbia street Tuesday, and tendered in payment $10 gold piece that looked big enough to Arthur Swope, the clerk, to mistake for a $20 disc and change was given accordingly. The customer left and then Swope discovered his error.

POLICE WILL GET OWNER.

The number borne by an automobile that collided with Albert Brudi, 2414 Gay street, who was riding a bicycle when the smash occurred at Washington and Clinton streets was Indiana 11,216, and the police will identify the owner through the office of the secretary of state. Brudi's wheel was damaged and he received some severe cuts about the face and his right hand was dislocated.

MEETING WITH SUCCESS.

Plan to Raise Money for New Commercial Club Building Approved.

The plan of increasing the quarterly dues from $4 to $5, the extra dollar to be placed in a fund for a new building for the Commercial club, is meeting with almost universal favor among the members of the club.

President Van Perrine stated Wednesday that he had received many answers to letters sent out to each member setting forth the plan and asking for their opinion, and out of all the replies only two have answered unfavorably. Several members favor an even larger assessment.

The plant to raise the money was proposed at the last meeting of the board of directors, it being figured that in five years' time a sufficient amount will have been raised to erect a building that will not only be a credit to the club but to the city of Fort Wayne as well.

SPANISH WAR VETS IN ANNUAL REUNION

(Special to The Sentinel.)

Winona Lake, Ind., Aug. 11.—The annual reunion of the One Hundredth and Sixtieth Indiana volunteer infantry, Spanish War veterans was held here today. While weather conditions interferred to some extent with the program arranged for the day, a good time was enjoyed and a good sized crowd was present. Members of the regiment from Fort Wayne arrived this morning. Members also were present from Marion, Warsaw, Lafayette, North Manchester and Bluffton.

Members of the regiment served in the Spanish-American war in 1898-99, participating in the military occupation of Cuba. The regiment was stationed at Maanzas for several months, and was mustered out in the spring of 1899, almost one year to a day from the time it was called into service.

The program for the day included election of officers, selection of a meeting place for next year, army campfire, a sail on the lake and a general good time.

CARRANZA DEFIES PAN-AMERICAN PEACE EFFORT

PROMPT MOVE BY PAN-AMERICANS EXPECTED

Washington, Aug. 11.—General Carranza, through his Washington agents today notified Secretary Lansing that "the Mexican people view with displeasure," any attempt to frustrate the success of Carranza's armed forces.

Carranza's message referred to the pan-American conference, and was taken as plainly signifying he would not agree with its action toward Mexican affairs.

Carranza also has sent a similar notification to the diplomatic representatives of all three Latin-American republics participating in the Mexican conference saying that any attempt between them and the American government to solve the internal situation of Mexico "would involve an act which could not be looked upon with levity, as it would mean on the part of the Latin-American nations the acceptance of the precedent that they can take part in any international affairs of a sister nation with the co-operation of the United States, something absolutely undesirable, not only insofar as it may affect the relations between the Latin-American nations themselves, and also, because it might involve the moral support of any future decisions which grow out of similar conferences."

Amounts to Defiance.

Carranza's communication delivered on his behalf by his Washington agent, Elesio Arredondo, was regarded as little less than a defiance of the United States in its effort to bring all the Mexican factions into a conference for peaceful settlement of Mexican affairs.

What the next move of the pan-American conference in session in New York today would be in the face of Carranza's warning that he intended to brook no outside interference in Mexican affairs was eagerly awaited.

In a letter to Secretary Lansing, Arredondo expresses surprise that a pan-American conference had undertaken to devise a plan for the pacification of Mexico and says reports to that effect "have caused the constitutional government to feel justly alarmed." He declared he had been instructed by Carranza to communicate to the secretary on the subject.

What the Letter Says.

"Mr. Carranza and the persons who co-operate with him," says the letter to Secretary Lansing, "are of the profound conviction that if the American government would know the true situation in Mexico, it would understand that the only possible, just and acceptable solution would be to leave the revolution to follow its natural course until the complete victory of the party representing greater necessities and popularity.

"The constitutionalist government represented by Mr. Carranza abstains from passing any comment on the conferences that are being held, because it has no knowledge of their character, and of the conclusions which may have been reached, and because it does not want to afford the supposition that they tacitly consented to it; but at the same time it considers it its duty to inform the American government of the displeasure with which the Mexican government and people would view any act which would tend to frustrate the success practically accomplished against the reactionary factions by the constitutionalist army, representing the hopes and ideals of the Mexican people."

The Carranza agency also announced that Gen. Carranza had sent notes to Argentina and Chile protesting against their participation in the pan-American conference and apparently having been misinformed that Brazil refused to join the conference, has dispatched a note to Rio De Janiero expressing his gratification for what he understood to have been Brazil's action.

BATTLESHIPS PUSH AWAY.

Washington, Aug. 11.—American warships today were steaming at full speed for Vera Cruz, presumably under orders from President Wilson to protect foreign interests which have been endangered there. Responding to an urgent appeal from Commander McNamee, senior American naval officers at Vera Cruz, the battleships Louisiana and New Hampshire sailed from Newport, R. I., last night as a result of anti-foreign demonstrations at the Mexican port. The warships will reinforce the fleet of American gunboats in Mexican waters.

Officials continued their reticence today concerning the dispatch of the warships. It was feared that if it became known in advance that the war vessels were on their way to Vera Cruz it might increase the tensity of the situation there.

Officials endeavored to make it plain, however, that the movement was purely a precautionary step and had no bearing whatever upon the pan-American conference which was resumed in New York today to complete plans for ending the Mexican revolution. Confirmation of the report of Commander McNamee regarding conditions at Vera Cruz has been received, although details were lacking. The new reports have been forwarded to President Wilson at Cornish, N. H.

NOW MEET IN NEW YORK.

New York, Aug. 11.—Diplomatic representatives of Brazil, Chili, Argentina, Bolivia, Guatemala and Uruguay and Secretary Lansing met here today to act identically in a plan which has for its aim the restoration of peace in Mexico.

An appeal to Mexicans of all factions to subordinate personal and selfish interests to the national welfare of Mexico has been prepared. Both President Wilson and Secretary Lansing have given it their approval and after today's conference on details of phraseology, and the length of time in which it should be indicated that replies were hoped for, the communication will be distributed throughout Mexico to leaders and officials, civil and military. The situation that has arisen at Vera Cruz, where anti-foreign demonstrations are reported, gave the diplomats some concern, but they were confident that when the appeal is made public the misconstruction of their purposes, which evidently had been spread in some parts of Mexico, would be removed.

The conference probably will adjourn late today after the appeal is finally approved and a committee of the conference appointed to consult with Secretary Lansing in Washington from time to time on various details of the peace plan.

WOODMEN LEAVE FOR TRI-STATE MEETING

Several members of Company F, Thirteenth regiment, and the band, of the Fort Wayne camp, Woodmen of the World, left Wednesday for Milwaukee, Wis., to attend the tri-state annual encampment to be held there from August 11 to 14, inclusive.

Baptain Ellis, accompanied the band, and Captain Wolf was in charge of the regiment. H. T. Drew, is the regiment commissary.

GASOLINE STOVE EXPLODES.

A gasoline stove at 333 Madison street, exploded at 11:30 o'clock Wednesday morning, filling the entire kitchen with flames. E. S. Vananda, who occupies the house, sent a call to the department, which arrived in double quick time and saved the house from further damage. Mr. Vananda luckily escaped without a burn.

LAST MINUTE NEWS

LAREDO IS ASKING FOR MORE TROOPS.

Laredo, Texas, Aug. 11.—A request for more troops in the Laredo district because of bitter feelings of some Mexicans over the non-recognition of Carranza was asked the state department today by United States Consul Garrett, of Nuevo Laredo, opposite here.

GRAND JURY AT CHICAGO ACTS

Chicago, Aug. 11.—Indictments charging manslaughter and criminal carelessness were returned before Judge Kersten in the criminal court today in connection with the Eastland disaster. The captain and engineer and four officers of the St. Joseph-Chicago Steamship company, owners of the boat, are named as follows:

Wm. H. Hull, vice-president and general manager.

W. C. Steele, secretary-treasurer.

Bonds were placed at $20,000 each for the company officials and $10,000 each for Pedersen and Erickson.

The last named are charged with criminal carelessness and the officials with manslaughter. Separate bills were returned against the captain and the engineer while the four officials were named in a joint indictment.

Against the Officials.

1—That they knew the Eastland was unseaworthy and had no stability.

2—That they permitted 2,500 passengers aboard the vessel, which is more than its carrying capacity.

3—That they were negligent in hiring an incompetent engineer who, because of his lack of skill, was unable to control the boat properly.

4—That the crew did not number enough hands to manage and control the Eastland properly.

5—That the ballast tanks were allowed to be out of repair and were not filled.

Against Captain Pedersen.

Against Captain Pedersen these charges were brought:

1—That he permitted aboard the boat a larger number of passengers than she could safely carry.

2—That he neglected to warn the passengers to leave the ship when it became apparent to him that she was about to overturn.

3 and 4—That he was negligent in not seeing that the ballast tanks were in repair and were properly filled.

5—That he was negligent in not seeing that the chalk holes and gangways were closed when the ship was loaded.

Counts in the indictment against Erickson are in essential similar to those against Pedersen. The report of the grand jury finds that the disaster was caused by "instability under conditions of loading, and states that the instability was due to one of three main causes, or any two, or all of them," as follows:

The report says that the Eastland began loading passengers without water ballast, and belated efforts to fill the tanks failed of success.

"That the instability of the boat was not corrected years before we regard as indicating criminal carelessness or incompetence on the part of all persons connected with the design, construction, control, operation and inspection of the boat," says the report.

THREATENS AN OPTION FIGHT

Mills Anti-Screen Ordinance Defeated, But is to Come Up Again.

"Saloonists have in opportunities to co-operate with movements like this a chance to save their business, but if they are going to oppose reasonable measures, I warn them to look out. We will go to work and vote this town dry. We believe we can do it. The men of Fort Wayne mean business."

With these words Prof. Francis M. Price, president of the Men's Christian League of Fort Wayne, concluded a brief address to the city council, Tuesday evening, just before that body took the vote that sealed the present fate of the Mills anti-screen ordinance, flouting a petition signed by 2,356 legal voters of Fort Wayne.

The words of the league president evoked a tremendous storm of applause from the three hundred men who were jammed into the public reservation of the chamber and crowded out into the corridors, making one of the largest lobbies that has ever attended a meeting of the Fort Wayne council.

A moment later the council voted on a motion to adopt the majority report of the rules, regulations and ordinances committee that the anti-screen measure do not pass and the ordinance received the death sentence by a vote of 11 to 4.

Big Lobby There.

The great delegation of the Men's Christian League had assembled early in the evening at Grace Reformed church on Washington street and in a body marched to the council chamber, which they completely filled. All the seats were occupied and the aisles were crowded, the assembly overflowing into the main corridor outside the chamber. There were a few saloonkeepers present and some representatives of the breweries. The zeal and enthusiasm of the temperance forces were marked from the moment of their arrival and they overlooked no opportunity to applaud.

Councilman J. B. Mills, of the Sixth ward, author of the measure, in a final appeal to his colleagues declared that the ordinance was right and reasonable

REPEATERS SWEAR OFF ON POLITICS

Terre Haute Men, Securing Release, Say They've Had Enough of It.

Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 11.—The majority of nineteen Terre Haute poll fraud conspirators, released from the Marion county jail today after serving their sentences of four months, asserted that they would never again dabble in politics. These included some of the most expert repeaters and vote manipulators rounded up by the federal government in the Terre Haute case.

Five others whose sentences expired today, were not released because their fines or the costs in the case had not been paid. Ten other Terre Haute prisoners sentenced in the vote conspiracy case, remain at the jail, their stay having been fixed at six months by Judge Anderson.

Those released today were: Thomas Brady, Eliza Brooks, Will Bunkley, Walter Coordes, Elmer Conover, Dow Finleyson, Dave Hanna, Enno Harms, Dean and Earl Jeffers, Joe Kelly, Robert Lloyd, Ed Merritt, Henry Rochelle, Thomas Ross, Bert Tosser, Earl Demint, Ad Rogers and Charles Yakel.

INSISTS ON RIGHT TO SELL MUNITIONS

Washington, Aug. 11.—The United States government has dispatched to Vienna a reply rejecting the Austro-Hungarian views recently set forth in a note contending that the great scale on which war munitions are being exported from America to enemies of the Germanic allies "is not in consonance with the definition of neutrality."

The note was cabled to Ambassador Penfield, who probably will present it to the Vienna foreign office Thursday. It may be made public later by agreement between the two governments.

Though framed in diplomatic language and entirely friendly in tone the reply is understood to repudiate flatly the suggestion that the United States has permitted violations of neutrality and to stand firmly upon the right of American exporters to send war supplies to belligerents able to purchase and receive them. The United States always has held that this is an unquestioned right under international law and high officials have pointed out that to prevent such shipments to one country because another was not in a position to receive them would in itself be a violation of neutrality. Precedents also have been recalled in previous wars showing that Germany and Austria imported arms extensively.

Cornish, N. H., Aug. 11.—President Wilson was preparing today to leave the summer capital for Washington to discuss the Mexican and other foreign questions with Secretary Lansing and other members of his cabinet. In anticipation of leaving Cornish the president did not play golf this morning, but remained in his study working on official business received from Washington. He paid particular attention to the Mexican situation, but would make no comment for publication.

Most of the morning hours were spent by the president in writing on his typewriter. An announcement on Mexico is expected soon after his return to Washington. The [illegible] will be accompanied back [illegible] by Dr. Cary T. Gr[illegible] and secret service [illegible] members of his family will remain h[illegible]

ALL BROTHERS WILL RETURN EXCEPT ONE

Information has been given out that all the Brothers of the Holy Cross who taught last year at the Central Catholic High school, Lewis and Calhoun streets, will return this year to assume their regular duties with the exception of one. Brother Nicholas, who has been here several years, will not come back, and his successor has not been appointed.

Brother Daniel, C.S.C., will again serve as Brother Superior, and the others who are to return are: Brother Ephram, C.S.C.; Brother Gregory, C.S.C.; Brother Exupere, C.S.C.; Brother Anthony, C.S.C.

The graduation class this year will consist of thirteen members at the opening of the term, and if none drop out, it will be the largest class to graduate from the school. According to present indications the school will be crowded this year, and the increase in number of scholars will be larger this year than in any previous one.

NARROW ESCAPE IN STRANGE ACCIDENT

Samuel Bedford, a baker, residing at 1038 Forest avenue, had a narrow escape from serious injury or death in a singular accident that befell him about 6:45 Wednesday morning at Columbia and Lafayette streets. He was driving into the city when an East Main street car's trolley-pole jumped and struck the guy wire that supports the trolley circuit. That jarred a wooden pole that carried the guy wire with such force as to break it off at the ground and the pole fell upon Mr. Bedford's head. He was struck only a glancing blow and was not seriously injured. His wagon suffered considerable damage. The pole that fell is said to have been greatly weakened by decay where it entered the ground.

SUSPEND BUSINESS AS ACT OF TRIBUTE

In tribute to the late Dr. George A. Barry, who was well known and held in high esteem by everyone who knew him, all places of business on Fairfield avenue, between the Wabash railroad and Creighton avenue, closed Wednesday afternoon during the time of the funeral of the physician. This action on the part of the business men was brought about through the efforts of J. C. Alleger, who operates a feed store at 1921 Fairfield avenue.

Funeral services for their departed friend and neighbor were held at 1:45 o'clock at the residence, Rev. H. C. Hadley officiating, and at 2:30 at the Scottish Rite cathedral. The Odd Fellows had charge of the services at Lindenwood. The services were attended by hundreds of people.

Today's War News [illegible] in Summary.

About 50,000 men were landed by the entente allies in their recent operations in the Dardanelles, according to an estimate made in Constantinople by Enver Pasha, the Turkish minister of war. Enver Pasha declared the Turks were well prepared to meet the new offensive and already had inflicted heavy losses on the forces last landed.

German attacks on Kovno, an important point in the Russian line of defense in the north, have been pressed so vigorously that preparations for the possible evacuation of the fortress are reported to be under way.

Elsewhere along the fighting front in the east the Teutonic pressure is still being strongly exerted and except at isolated points the Russian retirement is indicated by the official reports to Berlin.

Quiet prevailed for the most part along the front in France. The Paris war office reported cannonading and bomb operations in the Artois district. The only other activity noted was in the Argonne where the Germans violently bombarded the French positions east of the road from Vienne-le-Chateau to Binarville.

Constantinople, Aug. 9.—(Via Berlin, Aug. 11.)—Enver Pasha, the Turkish minister of war, declared today that according to his information the entente allies in their latest operations at the Dardanelles had landed three divisions of troops, comprising about 50,000 men. The losses among them, however, he asserted, already had been very heavy.

Enver Pasha's statement was made in an interview with a correspondent of the Associated Press. The Turkish war minister said:

"I am fully confident that we will be able to keep the allies in check on the Gallipoli peninsula, even if other large reinforcements are coming. We knew that the allies' action of two days ago was due, and we prepared for it, with the result that we were not caught napping.

"According to my information the allies landed three divisions, about 50,000 men. No doubt part of them no longer count, considering the heavy losses they sustained in attacks incident to the new offensive. The allied losses have been very heavy so far in this new attempt to force the Dardanelles."

BENJAMINOW IS TAKEN.

Germans Win New Success Northwest of Warsaw.

Berlin, Aug. 11.—The German war office announced today the occupation of the fortress of Benjaminow, which lies to the east of Novogeorgievsk, the Russian stronghold on the Vistula northwest of Warsaw.

RUSSIANS ARE REASSURED.

London, Aug. 11.—Discussing the possibility of an attempt by the Germans to reach Petrograd, in view of their activities in the Kovno and Dvinsk regions, the correspondent of the Evening News at the Russian capital says:

Hope New Reply Will Settle Frye Dispute

Washington, Aug. 11.—Administration officials today were hopeful that the American reply to the last German note regarding the sinking of the American ship William P. Frye, dispatched to Berlin last night, would result in a settlement of the dispute growing out of the incident. The communication probably will be given out for publication Saturday.

The United States, it is said, agrees to accept payment for the Frye as proposed by Germany, the amount to be fixed by a German-American commission, although it reiterates the destruction of the vessel was in contravention of the Prussian-American treaty of 1828. Acceptance of the commission method makes an appeal to arbitration at The Hague unnecessary.

Germany stipulated that payment was not to be regarded as satisfaction for violation of American treaty rights, while the United States, it is understood, accepts provided no treaty rights are waived.

The United States claims that article 13 of the treaty in question specifically protected the Frye from being sunk, although not protecting a contraband cargo. Germany, however, contends that the treaty only obligates her to pay damages. The new American note, it is said, rejects this contention.

$52,000,000 HAS ARRIVED

New York, Aug. 11.—A special train carrying $52,000,000 worth of gold and securities which had been shipped by the Bank of England from London by the way of Halifax, N. S., to this city, arrived here today. The train was composed of several steel cars and was guarded by forty armed men. Of the total shipments, $35,000,000 was in gold, and was believed to be in the form of American double eagles. The weight of the gold shipment was about twenty-five tons. It was said to be the largest single shipment of gold ever sent across the Atlantic ocean in one vessel.

Battleship Brought It.

It was brought over in a British battleship which was convoyed through the war zone and across the ocean by a cruiser and a flotilla of torpedo boat destroyers to guard against an attack of German submarines. The cost of transferring it from London to New York was estimated today to have been $250,000.

It was said that the British battleship brought over not only the $52,000,000 in gold and securities for New York, but also a shipment of gold destined for Canada, those banks recently sent gold amounting to $135,000,000 to New York.

Secrecy Is Maintained.

Secrecy was maintained regarding this great shipment of gold and precautions were taken to prevent the German secret service from discovering the plan or route of forwarding it. At Halifax it was delivered into the custody of the American Express company, and when the armed train left that city it was preceded by a pilot engine for the purpose of testing bridges and to frustrate any attempt to wreck the train by the use of dynamite.

This precaution was suggested by the exploit of Werner Horn, the German reservist, who attempted to blow up the St. Croix river bridge on February 2 to stop shipments of munitions to the allies. The route over which the train proceeded from Bangor, Me., to New York, was kept secret. Robert E. M. Cowie, general manager of the American Express company, said the transfer was the greatest risk ever taken by an express company.

Eight policemen were sent to meet the train here and guard the gold until it was delivered at the subtreasury. J. P. Morgan & Co., of this city, were the consignees. The purpose of the transfer of gold was understood to be to reinforce British credit here and to improve the exchange situation as the English pound sterling has depreciated of late. The securities are presumed to be American bonds, to be used as the basis for further advances to the British government.

FORMER FORT WAYNE GIRL IS AN HEIRESS

I. G. Hughes, of Scott, O., is a visitor in Fort Wayne in search of his daughter, Alice Hughes Dubois, whom he says is named as one of the beneficiaries in the will of the late Elizabeth Treon, of Miamisburg, O., who died recently of cancer, leaving a big estate. According to the father his daughter is one of the ten heirs of the deceased.

Hughes was unsuccessful in his search for his daughter. He learned, however, that she had worked in the Banner and Troy laundries in this city, but is believed to have gone to Muncie from here some weeks ago. She is 32 years old and has two children, a boy and a girl, by a former marriage, who are now living with their grandparents in Waterloo, Ind.

HURL FURIOUS BLOWS AT THE DARDANELLES

London, Aug. 11.—Recognition of the imperative importance to the allies of forcing the Dardanelles, as the shortest road to retrieving Russian reverses and regaining the initiative now in the hands of Germany, is demonstrated amply by the sudden landing of British forces in the vicinity of Karachali, north of the gulf of Saros, and resumption of the offensive both at the southern end of the Gallipoli peninsula and north of Gaba Tepe. The Australians and New Zealanders recently have been strengthening their positions at Gaba Tepe.

The new landing place on the gulf of Saros, being on the flank and rear of the Bulair lines, if developed, would menace the strong Turkish defenses across the neck of the peninsula. Coming at this time, when there is so much discussion whether Germany will attempt to crush Serbia preparatory to locking forces with Turkey by way of Bulgaria, these developments at the Dardanelles assume a special importance.

As yet there is no proof that the Germans have withdrawn or are preparing to withdraw any considerable proportion of their forces from the eastern front. On the contrary, the offensive which led to the fall of Warsaw has not been relaxed and the position of the retiring Russians is still perilous.

Partial dismantling of Vilna, preparatory to evacuation, as reported from Petrograd, is somewhat puzzling to British commentators, inasmuch as the Russians assert they have repulsed German attacks around the fortress of Kovno, which is sixty miles northwest of Vilna.

The British steamer Rosalie, of 2,725 tons net, which sailed from Shields on August 10, for San Francisco, has been beached. Her crew was saved.

The Russian bark Baltzer, 343 tons gross, has been sunk. A small boat, in which were the captain and seven men, has reached land safely. The Baltzer, which was owned in Riga, was last reported as having sailed June 15 from Gulfport for Cork.

The grand duke of Mecklenburg, according to the Athens correspondent of the Star, has been appointed commander in chief of the Turkish forces in the Dardanelles, succeeding Field Marshal Liman von Sanders.

GIVE IDEA OF PEACE TERMS.

Berne, Aug. 11.—The Tagwacht prints the text of a manifesto issued by a group of German professors and intellectuals enumerating their idea of the only acceptable peace terms. These, according to the manifesto, must insure the free expansion of German culture, industry and commerce. Belgium for military and commercial purposes must be subject to Germany. France must cede to Germany all territory north of a line from Belfort to the mouth of the river Somme and pay a large indemnity. Russia must cede Poland and the greater part of the Baltic provinces with other territory in lieu of indemnity which she could not pay.

The manifesto is signed by Professors Meinecke, Seeberg and Schaefer, of Berlin university; Oncken, of Heidelberg; Schumacher, of Reichenau; director of Kirdolin, of the Gelsenkirchen mines, and Imperial Minister von Schwerin, mayor of Frankfort-on-the-Oder.

RESENT ATTACK ON CHANCELLOR.

A meeting last night of the leaders of the national liberal party in Berlin expressed unanimous condemnation of intrigue against Chancellor Bethmann-Hollweg. It was declared that the attitude of opposition to the chancellor, as expressed recently in certain party circles, does not represent the opinion of the party as a whole. The chancellor's public statements, it was said, give no reason to suppose that he is conducting a weak illusionist policy. The meeting declared that his policy deserves full confidence.

NYCE IS CANDIDATE.

He Wants to Be State Senator from Allen and DeKalb Counties.

James Nyce, prosecuting attorney for DeKalb and Steuben counties, is expected to announce his candidacy in a few days for state senator on the democratic ticket, representing DeKalb and Allen counties. Nyce's friends have been urging him to make the race and announcement that he will throw his hat into the ring is expected soon.

When a candidate for prosecuting attorney Nyce succeeded in carrying Steuben county by a good majority, notwithstanding the fact that Steuben county is normally from 700 to 1,000 republican. He is well known in northern Indiana, and it is believed he will make a strong candidate.

VERY NEARLY EVEN BREAK IS RESULT

Washington, Aug. 11.—The interstate commerce commission today gave its decision in the western freight rate case, allowing advances in bituminous coal, coke, fruit and vegetables and denying increases on grain, livestock, packing house products, fertilizers and broom corn. The decision allows some of the increases asked and denies almost an equal number.

The commission summarized its decision as follows: "Proposed increased car load rates on grain and grain products considered as one commodity, not justified.

"Proposed increased rates on bituminous coal, except as to South Dakota points, justified. The rates on coke here proposed, which are the same as on coal, justified.

APPROVES PRESIDENT'S STAND.

Gary, Ind., Aug. 11.—A letter announcing the formation of the John Hus league of Slav Free Masons, formed "to annually commemorate the burning at the stake of Bohemia's great martyr," John Hus, in 1415, and to do humanitarian work, has been sent to President Wilson. The letter approves the president's position toward the belligerent nations of Europe and declares that the members of the organization are true Americans, ready to take up arms if necessary in defense of their adopted land.

FEAR NO SPREAD OF THE CATTLE PLAGUE

Authorities Say They Can Control New Outbreak in Illinois.

Chicago, Aug. 11.—State and federal veterinarians investigating the new outbreak of foot and mouth disease in Illinois yesterday reported that the Henry Pearsons farm in Wheeling township was the only place where traces of the malady could be found, although a thorough investigation of all surrounding farms and herds had been made.

All the stock on the Pearsons farm, 124 hogs and four cattle, was killed and the carcasses buried. The work was done under the supervision of Dr. W. C. Harrold, in charge of the federal inspectors in Wheeling township, at the direction of Dr. J. S. Jenison, inspector in Chicago of the Chicago branch of the United States bureau of animal industry.

To prevent any possible spread of the disease eight townships surrounding Wheeling were placed under close quarantine by State Veterinarian O. E. Dyson. This measure was taken to prevent the moving of stock from Wheeling to neighboring townships.

At the Chicago stockyards traders were notified that while it had been practically decided that trading in stock and feeding cattle will be resumed on August 23, it will now be necessary to wait until full reports are received from investigators in Illinois before any definite date can be set for the resumption. In the meantime no check is to be placed on the shipping of live stock for immediate slaughter from the Chicago yards.

TOADSTOOLS; NOT MUSHROOMS.

Valparaiso, Ind., Aug. 11.—Solomon Ramsey, 62, a well known citizen, died here this morning after eating toadstools, thinking they were mushrooms. Prosecuting Attorney Thomas Heard, County Clerk Bornholt and George Wernekes, other members of the party are also very ill from eating the toadstools.

Old Ladies' Congress Robison Park, August 18th.

The annual Congress of Old Ladies will be held at Robison park on Woman's Day, Wednesday, August 18th. One hundred and forty-eight old ladies attended the Congress last year. The oldest woman, Mrs. Catherine Reuille, of New Haven, was 92 years old. Three ladies were 91 years of age, five were 90, while 63 old ladies had passed the 85 year mark. Eighty-five of those present were between 75 and 85 years of age. The combined ages totalled over 12,000 years. A shoulder shawl was presented as a souvenir to each member of the Congress. Deep fringed white Newport scarfs, eight feet long, with lavender borders will be given to those attending the Congress this year. The oldest woman present on Woman's Day will be the park's special guest of honor. She will ride in a coach in the Old Ladies' Parade at 2 p. m. and will receive a special gift. Let everyone view the Old Ladies' Parade with marked respect and be reverend in its presence. Let every man who reveres his mother, uncover his head, in her memory, as the old ladies pass him by. They have been the real miracle workers, the inspiration and guide to countless other lives. Love and patience have been their working tools. Their master work is the transformation of countless youths into thinking men and women, equipped with the findings of eternal strength. Surely, the old Ladies' Congress is the park's most reverend event. 8-9-11-14-17

Mind Became Blank on All He Had Known Previous to Accident.

Decatur, Ind., Aug. 11.—Adrian Elzey, aged 11 years, adopted son of Mr. and Mrs. Fay Young, residing east of this city, has regained his memory, after three weeks of total lapse that was the consequence of injuries to his head when he was thrown from a buggy. The lad was brought to this city yesterday afternoon by his foster parents and examined by a local physician, who is much interested in the case. The boy was, previous to the accident, as intelligent and bright as the average of his age, but following the injury, could not find his way from one room to another in the house, nor could he remember the people with whom he lived and sat watching his foster parents till they feared that his memory was not merely gone, but that his mind was affected. A week ago Sunday, the family entertained at dinner and the occasion was one of real trouble to the boy, who attempted to eat with his fork from his cup and drink from his plate. A few days ago Adrian was taken to Toledo, O., and an operation restored his memory. He then remembered everything up to the time of his accident, but the succeeding days were a blank. The child's former home was in this city. About six years ago he was adopted by Mr. and Mrs. Young. His mother was formerly Mary Thomas Elzey, who passed away about ten years ago and who also made her home in this city.

YOUNG PHYSICIAN IS BURIED.

Van Wert, O., Aug. 11.—Private funeral services were conducted here today over the remains of Dr. Wilbur H. Clippinger, a former resident of this place. Rev. Jesse Swank, of the First M. E. church, officiated, the funeral being held at the home of F. L. Webster, an uncle of the deceased. Dr. Clippinger was born in Van Wert thirty-eight years ago and spent most of his life here, where he was one of the city's best known young men. He was graduated from the local high school, of Startling medical college in Columbus, and of Hahnemann medical university in Chicago. After practicing in Van Wert, Mercer and other places he gave up his profession to enter commercial pursuits in the piano and automobile lines. His death occurred suddenly in Detroit. His mother and four sisters survive.

WELL KNOWN HORSEMAN DIES.

Huntington, Ind., Aug. 11.—John S. Young, a pioneer farmer and widely known horseman of this city, was buried today after funeral services at the Union church in Union township. Rev. Frakes, of Roanoke officiated. Mr. Young died at his home a half-mile east of the Antioch church, in Union township. He was born in Warren county, Ohio, in 1837, and came to the farm on which his life was spent in this county in 1865. In 1862 he married Elva E. Ward and to them five children were born, Mrs. Ida Taylor, Zanesville, being a daughter. His first wife died in 1885 and he later married Frances Smith, who survives him. As a breeder of fine horses he had a wide repute.

MARRIED HALF CENTURY.

Auburn, Ind., Aug. 11.—Fifty years ago yesterday Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Link became man and wife, and it was this occasion that they celebrated at their home on North Main street Tuesday. Only a few of the immediate friends of the family were invited to share in the remembrance besides the family, for it was the wish of the Links to make the occasion as homelike as possible. About twenty sat down to the dinner that was served at the noon hour. Mr. and Mrs. Link are two of the oldest settlers in this county, coming here in the early 50's and raising their family here. The children who were present were: Dr. C. E. Link and wife, of Chicago, Ill.; Miss Maud Link, of Sioux City, Ia., and from this city, Judge D. M. Link and family and Alva Link.

WILL MEET THE TAXPAYERS.

Van Wert, O., Aug. 11.—At a preliminary meeting of the county budget commission, called for the purpose of organizing and mapping out the work which will result in the definite fixing of the tax rate, County Treasurer H. A. Mohler was elected president; County Auditor William Klein, secretary. Prosecuting Attorney Clark Good is the other member of the commission. The commission will meet with the officials and taxpayers of the several taxing districts in accordance with a schedule. This will enable the taxpayers to be heard at a light expense to the individuals and will, at the same time, greatly expedite the work of the commission.

EXPECT IMMENSE CROWDS.

Goshen, Ind., Aug. 11.—All arrangements for the annual Mennonite Brethren in Christ camp meeting have been completed. An attendance of 5,000 persons is expected. The big gathering is scheduled for the Simon Fetters grove, seven miles southwest of Goshen from Thursday, August 12, to Sunday, August 22. Rev. S. Lambert, of Greenville, O., will be the chief speaker. Members of the ministerial body of the Indiana district will assist. Rev. C. A. Wright, of Atlanta, Ind., will direct the song services.

TWICE, JUST TO MAKE SURE.

Montpelier, Ind., Aug. 11.—Riley Green, employed at the Sam Pugh barber shop, met with an accident while cleaning a .22-calibre rifle. He had just finished cleaning the gun when he raised the stock, and a shell exploded and the bullet struck in the kitchen over the stove. Mr. Green then pulled the pump to be sure that it was not loaded and the second shell went off, lodging in the little finger of the left hand.

WATCH FOR BLIND TIGERS.

Hartford City, Ind., Aug. 11.—Although the officers in this city are keeping a close watch for "blind tigers," none of the illegal places where liquor is dispensed, have as yet been found. When the officers made a raid on the home of Monk Craig, where they suspected that there was a tiger in operation, they found one case of beer, but no conclusive evidence that Craig was violating the law. There was an incident occurred while the officers were there, however, which led them to believe that their suspicions that a blind tiger existed, were correct. An automobile filled with men drove up to the house, but as soon as the officers were sighted, the men "beat it."

FAMILY REUNIONS COMING.

Montpelier, Ind., Aug. 11.—The Worster family reunion will be held at the Warren fair grounds next Sunday. Several members of the family reside in this city. The McKonkey family will meet at Matter's park, Marion, August 22, for their twelfth annual reunion. The Schwartzkopf-Long family will meet at the Schwartzkopf home, August 15, and the Jackson families at the Andrew Jackson home, southeast of this city. The Templeton-Kelley families will meet for their annual reunion in the Frank Kelley grove near Roll, on Sunday, August 15.

HOSPITAL FOR BLUFFTON.

Bluffton, Ind., Aug. 11.—Dr. Fred Metts has rented from J. A. McBride as new quarters the residence property located the first door south of the McBride store on South Main street, and will move from his present office quarters in the Walmer & Engeler block as soon as the McBride property is remodeled for his use. In the remodeling of the McBride property it will be fitted up as a modern physician's quarters, with a fully-equipped operating room and with several bedrooms for use as hospital rooms where Dr. Metts will be able to take care of several patients with every hospital convenience, with a trained nurse in charge all the time.

GETS HER SON IN BLUFFTON.

Bluffton, Ind., Aug. 11.—Mrs. Charles Huffman, of Ashland, Ky., formerly Mrs. George Jones, of Nottingham township, this county, was before Judge Eichhorn here Tuesday morning, to petition for the restoration to her care and custody her son, Oscar Leroy Lindsey, aged 14, who was made a ward of the juvenile court here on May 22, 1908, and who has been furnished a good home with the Henry Schlangenhauf family, east of Bluffton. Mrs. Huffman has been residing with her present husband at Ashland for two years. Judge Eichhorn granted her request and she and her son left for Kentucky.

RETURNS TO THE ASYLUM.

Columbia City, Ind., Aug. 11.—Edward Haas, the Thornecreek township farmer who is at the Longcliff hospital for treatment, and who made his escape from the institution a few days ago, voluntarily returned to the hospital Monday evening, and the family has been notified by the superintendent. It was a great source of satisfaction for them to get the information and they are greatly relieved. The fact that Mr. Haas returned to the hospital would indicate that his condition is improved. Mr. Haas is a very conscientious man and would think it wrong to leave the hospital permanently without notifying the officers.

HOWE HAS ANOTHER BID FOR FIRE.

Kendallville, Ind., Aug. 11.—The town of Howe had another close call from a conflagration, when the gasoline tank of a Saxon car caught on fire. The machine was standing in a livery barn, in a well-settled portion of the business district, and but for the timely assistance of several eye witnesses of the explosion, a serious fire would have resulted. The car, enveloped in flames, was pushed from the barn. The fire was extinguished after some little time. Considerable damage was done to the car.

LIGHTNING DESTROYS BARN.

LaGrange, Ind., Aug. 11.—A large barn belonging to Josiah J. Miller, two miles south and a half mile west of Shipshewana, in Newbury township, was struck by lightning, and burned to the ground, together with all its contents, including twenty-five loads of hay, some farming implements, etc. The barn had recently been moved to its location at that point and remodeled and was without insurance at the time of the fire. The residence of Christian Hostetler, west of LaGrange, was also struck during the same storm and was slightly damaged but not burned.

ELKHART MAN LONG MISSING.

Elkhart, Ind., Aug. 11.—Stephen Zimmerman, who left Elkhart for Benton Harbor last June where he intended to pick berries, has not been heard from since. His son, John Zimmerman, of Warsaw, has asked the Benton Harbor police to help locate his father. Before leaving Elkhart the aged man told a friend that he intended to go to the Michigan town to secure employment during the berry season. He immediately went to his room, secured his clothes and disappeared and nothing has been heard of him since.

BIG YIELD OF WHEAT.

Auburn, Ind., Aug. 11.—George Boren, living at Feagler's corners in Richland township, threshed his wheat Monday, and it averaged 45½ bushels to the acre. In all there were 910 bushels, he having 20 acres out. This is an unusually large yield, and is, perhaps, the largest in the country. Who can beat it?

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED.

Auburn, Ind., Aug. 11.—A very enjoyable party was given Monday evening by Miss Ruth Smurr at the home of her mother, Mrs. Sarah Grate, on Indiana avenue, at which the approaching marriage of Miss Ruth to Jay Olinger, who lives west of Auburn, was announced. There were sixteen of her friends present, and light refreshments were served.

VAN WERT PASTOR GETS CALL.

Van Wert, O., Aug. 11.—At a meeting of the official board of the First Christian church of Greensburg, Ind., a call to the pastorate of that church was extended to Rev. F. Z. Burkette, who, during the past year, has served as pastor of the First Christian church, this city. The announcement came as a shock to the membership of the local church, as Rev. Burkette has become popular with his people and it is with keen regret that they see him leave to serve another pastorate.

WASHED FROM A TRAIN.

Ligonier, Ind., Aug. 11.—A strange man, supposed to be Matthew Brown, from a paper found on him, is unconscious here and believed to be dying from a fractured skull and other injuries received when he was washed from a New York Central train when the locomotive took water between this city and Millersburg. He was found lying on the track by Walter Smalley, an employe at the pumping station, and was brought here. The locomotives take water while running at high speed from a scoop tank and it is believed the water dashed up behind the tender, where the man was riding, and washed him from his position.

SMALL BOY IS DROWNED.

Cromwell, Ind., Aug. 11.—David, 6-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Honeywell, residing on a farm a short distance west of this place, was drowned in Turkey Creek ditch, in Mineral park, near Lake Wawasee, and his body was discovered lying face upward by his little sister, whose hysterical screams to her dead brother to come to her, brought bystanders to the scene, and the body was taken out. How the lad got into the water is not known. Turtles and fish had already begun to eat the flesh from the little victim's face. The boy had been absent from home some hours and his mother sent the little girl to search for him.

WHITLEY PIONEER WOMAN DIES.

Columbia City, Ind., Aug. 11.—The funeral of Mrs. Elizabeth Evans Albright, wife of former County Commissioner Samuel B. Albright, will be held this afternoon at the United Brethren church, in South Whitley, Rev. McCoy, the pastor, officiating. Death occurred at her home, two miles northeast of South Whitley and was due to heart trouble. She was born in Ohio sixty years ago and came at the age of two years with her parents, who settled five miles from Pierceton. She was married in 1878 to Mr. Albright, four of five children born to them surviving with the husband.

WARSAW'S HEALTH OFFICER.

MAY BE ALL RIGHT FOR FATHER ADAM, BUT EDEN'S NO PLACE FOR BASHFUL MAN.

Yonkers, N. Y., Aug. 10.—If the cows didn't look so surprised, and the flies didn't bite so hard, and the grass tickle so much, William Leary wouldn't mind living in Woodland Grove, even as Father Adam lived in Eden.

But as it was, when Leary woke up one morning and found the wind had blown his tent and his clothes away, he decided that he wouldn't offend the cows and he wouldn't feed the flies, and he wouldn't spoil his complexion with the grass, so he bargained with a cow herder to remove his extra pair of overalls and to loan him a quarter, and he wired to Yonkers: "Wind blew clothes away. Send help; I need it." And it came.

The Hard Times Parade that afforded so much wholesome fun to the participants and that proved so attractive to thousands of the park's guests last year will be repeated on Woman's Day on Wednesday, Aug. 18th. The line-up will begin at 4 p. m. in front of the pavilion. When ready for the parade, go to the Bijou building in the grove, where Miss Cora Basteus will provide each participant with a numbered tag. The tag should be worn on the left breast in full view of the judges. Prizes will be awarded by numbers. Any other method would be difficult as it is absolutely impossible for the judges to keep in mind so many and so varied costumes as are worn in the Hard Times Parade. There will be ten grand prizes and it will be the judges' difficult task to select the ten grand prize winners. In addition to the above, the souvenirs that have been on exhibition all summer in the pavilion will be awarded the costumes. It is not the object of the Hard Times Parade to wear either new or expensive material. "Stick to the text" and appear in a hard times costume. The dressing rooms at the theater will be open and those who do not wish to dress at home for the parade may use the theater the same as last year. 8-9-11-14-16

THE SENTINEL'S DAILY SCRIPTURE READING.

Mark 5:1-15.

1 And they came over unto the other side of the sea, into the country of the Gadarenes.

2 And when he was come out of the ship, immediately there met him out of the tombs a man with an unclean spirit,

3 Who had his dwelling among the tombs; and no man could bind him, no, not with chains:

4 Because that he had been often bound with fetters and chains, and the chains had been plucked asunder by him, and the fetters broken in pieces: neither could any man tame him.

5 And always, night and day, he was in the mountains, and in the tombs, crying, and cutting himself with stones.

6 But when he saw Jesus afar off, he ran and worshipped him,

7 And cried with a loud voice, and said, What have I to do with thee, Jesus, thou Son of the most high God? I adjure thee by God, that thou torment me not.

8 For he said unto him, Come out of the man, thou unclean spirit.

9 And he asked him, What is thy name? And he answered, saying, My name is Legion: for we are many.

10 And he besought him much that he would not send them away out of the country.

11 Now there was there nigh unto the mountains a great herd of swine feeding.

12 And all the devils besought him, saying, Send us into the swine, that we may enter into them.

13 And forthwith Jesus gave them leave. And the unclean spirits went out, and entered into the swine: and the herd ran violently down a steep place into the sea, (they were about two thousand;) and were choked in the sea.

14 And they that fed the swine fled, and told it in the city, and in the country. And they went out to see what it was that was done.

15 And they come to Jesus, and see him that was possessed with the devil, and had the legion, sitting, and clothed, and in his right mind: and they were afraid.

The Council and the Mills Ordinance

The action of the city council Tuesday evening in dealing a death blow to the ordinance introduced by Councilman Mills, of the Sixth ward, providing for the removal of screens and other obstructions in order to provide a free view of places where liquors are sold in Fort Wayne, will come as no shock of surprise to the public. It has been clearly apparent from the outset that a majority of the councilmen were personally opposed to any such regulative enactment, and none knew that fact better than did the men who led a sturdy though losing fight for the measure.

The vital phase of the situation is not the present defeat of the Mills measure, for that can be reintroduced, and Mr. Mills has declared that he will renew his fight for it. The point of chief public interest is the decision to flout the well defined expression of desire upon the part of so large a proportion of Fort Wayne citizens whose servants the city councilmen are presumed to be. In the present instance it was evidenced by a petition bearing some 2,500 signatures, by endorsement of the Womans' league and by the presence of a lobby of some hundreds of representative citizens of the city who came to lend the moral force of their presence for the side of moral cleanliness and civic betterment. The situation was almost identical with that of a few weeks ago when in the face of a petition signed by more than 3,000 citizens asking the appointment of a woman on the school board the council summarily declined to countenance any such suggestion.

There will be no disposition to contend that all the people in Fort Wayne are in favor of the elimination of screens from saloon doors and windows. That it had opposition -aside from the majority of the city council—is not to be doubted, but so far as was disclosed in the fight it was not organized opposition. Perhaps, knowing the view of the councilmen, the opposition did not consider it necessary to come out in the open and oppose the Mills ordinance. Public sentiment, so far as it was given crystalization in definite expression, was clearly in favor of the measure. We do not believe, either, that even the opposing councilmen will be disposed to challenge either the numerical strength or the very high standing of citizenship represented by those who were urging the passage of the Mills measure. The fact remains, however, that the majority of the council deliberately elected to turn a deaf ear to the appeal and to line itself up against another wholesome proposition that would have meant a cleaner and a better Fort Wayne. Toward this sort of stewardship the people may be depended upon to register their decisive disapproval at the earliest opportunity that presents itself to make it count effectively.

Announcement is made that General Goethals has tendered his resignation as governor of the Panama canal zone and has asked to be relieved of duties there on November 1, though he will still retain his commission in the United States army. General Goethals has spent seven years in Panama and has accomplished a work that will stand as an enduring monument to his force and his ability to accomplish big things. If any man has earned the relief of release from big cares and great responsibilities, that man is General Goethals.

And now Ex-President Taft is placed in the grandfather class by the arrival of a son at the home of Robert Taft, at Bar Harbor, Maine. This new dignity was denied Mr. Taft somewhat longer than to another of our distinguished ex-presidents, but Mr. Taft is gradually speeding up to the pace of popular attention so long enjoyed almost exclusively by his gingery predecessor in the presidential chair who had hankerings to be Mr. Taft's successor as well.

It now develops that an Ohio man is more than likely to be the successor of George E. Downey, of Indiana, who has just been advanced from Controller of the United States treasury to a place as associate justice of the United States court of claims. Perhaps the Ohio man in politics is not so numerous as aforetime, but he it known that his race is not entirely extinct.

Equal suffragists in Illinois find cause for elation in the decision of the state board of administration which has just decided that women employed in the state institution shall receive the same pay as men where they do the same work. And as a matter of simple justice, why shouldn't they receive it?

There is always this compensation in the Mexican situation: It keeps Uncle Sam from dwelling too long or too deeply on his other troubles.

(Indianapolis Star.)

Calculations have been made showing that Indiana has an automobile to every 35 of its population, while the proportion of cars to the general population of the United States is one to 50. This showing as to Indiana indicates two things—that its citizens are awake to the importance of individual rapid transit as a business proposition, for the automobiles in the state are by no means bought for pleasure alone; and that a prosperity prevails greater than that enjoyed in many other sections of the country.

It has been said complainingly that the extensive purchase of cars takes too much money out of the state, but this is hardly fair, for a large number of the machines in use are the product of Indiana factories, all of these being now crowded with orders from buyers in the state. Moreover, the outside sales of these home factories fully offset the purchase by Indianians of cars made elsewhere, with a corresponding equalization of the money balance.

The coming distribution in Indiana of approximately $2,000,000 by Henry Ford in fulfillment of his promise of from $40 to $60 rebate to each purchaser of one of his cars in the 1915 season, in case the total sales from the factory equaled 300,000, is a return of outgoing funds in another form. Two million dollars is a great deal of money to put into general circulation at one time, and scattered over the state, as it will be, among farmers and business men of all classes, it is a financial item of interest and importance.

Incidentally the fact that out of 45 states so large a proportion of the Ford rebate comes to Indiana is another proof of the appreciation by its citizens of the fact that automobiles are coming to be necessities of life.

AMERICA'S PART BEST.

With business brightening, money moving and credit unimpaired, the United States is playing a comfortably prosperous part in the world tragedy. From a commercial point of view that is her logical role. It was to be expected of the United States.

It is now more gratifying to know that she is doing a finer work too fine to be measured by commercial standards. The Americanization of the treatment of disease in Servia and the Americanization of hospital methods practically has cleared up one of the most pitiably tragic situations that even war could devise. It is reliably said that there were in Servia but a comparatively short time ago, 300,000 cases of typhus fever. Today some of the hospitals in that land are being closed temporarily for want of patients. In one hospital a few months ago there were 1,400 cases of the fever. Today there are but three or four. The work has been centralized under the extraordinarily efficient direction of Dr. Richard P. Strong of Harvard. The inoculation of thousands against cholera, with a proficiency and a rapidity unknown in the previous annals of disease, also has been under the direction of this American.

It is a large and splendid role which this nation can continue and will continue to play in the world war. To do something to lighten the load of inevitable suffering is greater than to fatten comfortably in the process of filling warlike needs.

It is perfectly obvious that where there is a market America will sell. Let it be equally true that where there are broken bodies and broken lives America will do her utmost to heal.

Twenty-Five Years Ago

A. C. Katt and Ed O'Connell left today for an outing at Clear Lake.

Mr. and Mrs. H. N. Ward left this morning for an extensive eastern trip.

M. J. Clear, a photographer of Bluffton, was in the city over Sunday, the guest of M. L. Jones.

Dr. I. M. Rosenthal has received a letter from his son, Dr. Maurice Rosenthal, who is now in Berlin.

Mr. and Mrs. F. R. Barrows have gone to Washington, D. C., where Mr. Barrows will attend the national convention of photographers.

Louis Hirsch has resigned his position with Louis Wolf & Co. to accept one with Victor Wolf and will have charge of the cloak department.

The members of the popular Crow club had a picnic at the Swift resort, on the St. Joe river, north of the city, yesterday. The trip both ways was made in a coach.

Four imprisoned horses were terribly burned and tortured in a burning freight car of a Wabash train at Aboite station yesterday. They were brought here for treatment at the Fred Myers livery stables, on East Wayne street.

The erection of the new Odd Fellows' building at Wayne and Calhoun streets, has been considerably delayed by the non-arrival of a massive pillar of Georgia marble that is to stand at the corner of the structure. It has been lost in transit.

Clinton P. Ferry and daughter, May, of Tacoma, Wash., are in the city to visit his mother, Mrs. Caroline P. Ferry, of 119 East Washington street, and his sister, Mrs. R. D. Boyles, of Miner street. In his home city he is known as the "Duke of Tacoma."

TO PALE, THIN PEOPLE

Druggists Meyer Bros. Co. Offer to Pay for Samose if it Does Not Make Thin People Fat.

Pale, thin people are simply suffering from want of nourishment. They may eat enough, but their food is not properly digested and does them no good.

Samose, the remarkable flesh forming food, should be used by all who are pale, weak and thin. It mingles with the food and aids assimilation, so that when taken for a short time, Nature will soon assert her normal powers, and the food that is eaten will give strength and good flesh.

Weigh yourself before you commence the use of Samose, and you will notice a steady gain. Samose is a scientific flesh-forming food that restores the thin and scrawny to their proper weight and fills the weak and debilitated with vigor and vitality.

Such remarkable results have followed the use of Samose that Druggists Meyer Bros. Co. is willing to pay for the treatment if it does not give the desired results. They make this offer generally and want all who are thin, weak and out of health to get a box of Samose from them on those terms.—Adv.

HISER ROAD HOUSE DESTROYED BY FIRE

What has long been known as the Hiser road house, three miles north of the city on the Goshen road, was destroyed by fire shortly after midnight, Tuesday night, resulting in a loss estimated at $4,000. The property was insured for about one half its value, it is understood.

No one was around the place when the fire broke out, and it had a good start when it was discovered by Clifford South, who lives nearby. South's attention was called to it by the reflection from the flames shining through his bed room window. He immediately gave an alarm, and the auto chemical from No. 3 engine house, in charge of Captain John Stidhat responded, but nothing could be done. In an hour and a half after the fire was discovered the road house was in ashes.

The property had been leased sometime ago from George D. Hiser by Saben Smith, who, with his family, had gone to the northern lakes for a few days' vacation. Smith was recently arrested and fined on the charge of operating a blind tiger.

The cause of the blaze is not known. When South reached the house the entire dance hall was in flames, with the section around the electric piano burning the brightest. This gives rise to the belief that the fire was caused by crossed electric wires.

The flames from the building leaped high into the air, and could be seen for miles around.

AL JENNINGS SAYS:

"There is no honor among thieves. I found that out, for I have been in the legislature, and I'd trust a burglar much quicker than a politician."

* * *

"I've got a lot of sympathy for the burglar and the bandit and the outlaw. I'd like to help them to a better sort of life."

* * *

"I've often said I'd rather steal than go hungry or beg. And I still say so. I don't think I am an anarchist, either."

(By Gertrude M. Price.)

"You bet I obeyed that 'hands up' order, just like the rest of 'em, only I did it quicker!

"I wasn't afraid at all, but mighty sorry for the fellow with the gun, because I know some day he'll get caught and pay. They all do!"

* * *

We were standing in front of the cosy Jennings bungalow at Hollywood. He was telling me what his sensations were when he had the tables turned on him, and two masked bandits held up an electric car, recently, in which he was one of the victims.

"The Rev. Mr. Troy and I had been holding special meetings in Pomona that night," he told me. "I had taken the collection and dropped it into a paper sack. Strange thing for me to say, maybe, but I had a premonition that we were going to be 'held up.'

"It was around 10 o'clock and we had traveled along about a mile. The car stopped, suddenly. I knew in a second by the queer rush of silence and odd expectancy that we were in for it.

"I heard one of the men speak to the conductor. There was that metallic sound in his voice which belongs to the man who has made up his mind and will not be answered 'No.'

"In the brief interval it took him to come in and give the order 'Hands up!' I slipped my paper bag under the seat. When he spoke my hands went up, and I think they were up quicker than anyone's else in that car."

"How did it feel to look down the business end instead of the handle end of a gun?"

"Well, it looked natural, and I didn't take much time to think how I felt. I was too busy obeying directions. I know from my own experiences that when a man goes into that sort of business, he has made up his mind to use the gun he carries, if he finds it necessary to his plan.

"There is a strange sequel to that 'holdup' incident and because of its humanness I'll have to tell you about it.

"A night or two ago a package was sent to me. It contained the little purse which had been taken from me by the two masked men.

"I was glad because it contained a brief note from my old-time friend, O. Henry, and a clipping of a funeral service which I preached over a little girl in Colorado.

"I was mightily touched by that action, for it showed there is some good in the man who sent it back. I have been speaking at a little church down at Ocean Park since the 'holdup' and I think those two men must have been in the audience some night. I honestly believe they will make themselves known to me. I truly hope so. I want to help them."

GIRL STAGE DRIVER IS ALWAYS ON TIME

She pilots an automobile carrying large parties of tourists between San Diego and Los Angeles.

Automobiling is the greatest sport in the world, Miss Grace thinks. It is her belief that many more women might turn to this industry for a livelihood.

"It takes cool-headedness and nerve, sometimes," she affirms. "But women have often demonstrated their possessions of each.

"Confidence and common sense are the two best weapons for a woman whether she be running an auto or yielding the broom."

Miss Jean Grace.

Miss Grace attends to all the ordinary "tinkerings" necessary to the machine. And she can change a tire if occasion demand.

This girl stage driver doesn't make any attempts at record runs. But she does more than many of the men drivers on the same route. She gets there on schedule time!

The only cheap thing about furniture you buy at Foster's is the price.

Sing Sing, Once House of Despair, Has Now Become Hospital of Hope

New York, Aug. 11. I went "up the river" the other day, but unlike the 1,700 other human beings who had taken the gloomy journey to Sing Sing prison, I could and did come back to tell you of the most wonderful experiment in prison reform which has ever been undertaken in this country.

A year ago Sing Sing prison was a human zoo—a menagerie of hopeless men, whose cages were smaller, whose fare was less choice, whose physical well-being was less looked after than if they had been lions and tigers of the jungle—for lions and tigers are worth money—much more money than convicts—and admission can be charged to see them when they are caged.

Today though the physical conditions of Sing Sing are unchanged, that house of despair has become a hospital of hope! Thomas Mott Osborne, the warden, is responsible for this great change.

Mr. Osborne has done so many things for Sing Sing that it is difficult to enumerate half of them in one brief article.

He has abolished the prison pallor: he has silenced for all time the prison whisper the dreadful talking through motionless lips which convicts had invented to be able to communicate with each other in spite of rules.

Mr. Osborne did this by permitting the men to talk at all times and by allowing them two hours daily recreation in the prison yard from 4 to 6 and by giving the freedom of the yard all day Sunday and on every holiday. Formerly the men were locked in their death-dealing cells from Saturday night to Monday morning and Sunday was for them a day of torture.

He has done away with guards in the shops and in the mess hall. And these places, less than two years ago, scenes of riot and anarchy, today hum with industry and conversation. I stood in the knitting shop the other day and watched the men at their looms working and talking pleasantly together.

"You cannot prepare men to resume life in a democracy by making them live under a czar while in prison," the warden said.

"Prison is not a place of punishment or revenge. It is a place of restraint, of cure, of regeneration. It is liberty alone that fits men for liberty as Gladstone wrote when it was said that the Irish were not ready for home rule.

"The old prison system endeavored to make men industrious by driving them to work, to make them virtuous by removing temptation; to make them farsighted by allowing them no chance to exercise foresight; to make them more fit for struggle as individuals by treating them not as individuals, but as large groups without individuality; in short, to prepare them for a successful return to society by compelling them to live under conditions as unlike real society as they could possibly be made."

As we walked from one room to another here and there a convict would leave his loom or abandon the mat he was making to slip a note into the warden's hand. One of these notes was from "Johnny" McFarr, a young fellow, who has just invented a method by which his loom would turn out five mats a day in the time consumed formerly in making one. As the convicts are paid one cent and a half a day for their work, this invention of "Johnny" McFarr must be taken as the triumph of inventive genius over self-preservation. "Johnny's" note thanked the warden for an award of $20 which had been made to him for his invention.

"It is the first money I have had since I came to prison," the convict wrote.

This sum came from a fund of $100 contributed by Adolph Lewisohn for such purposes. Another $20 was given to George Faber, a third termer and the hero of the hour at Sing Sing today.

On July 3, George Faber was placed outside the walls of Sing Sing to catch stray balls from the baseball game going on in the prison yard. All George had to do to escape was to leap into the Hudson river, then thronged with boats.

And George did leap into the river, but it was to save the lives of a young girl and a boy whose boat had capsized. The third term convict dragged the young people ashore and then went around to the prison gate and rang the bell.

"Let me in," he said. "I got to go to my cell and change my clothes."

Three men have escaped from Sing Sing since the honor system was inaugurated, but in the search for these men fifteen or twenty convicts were turned loose outside the prison without guards to hunt for them and every man came back each time.

Today in Sing Sing men may write as many letters as they wish to their wives and sweethearts. If their behavior is good they may receive visitors without intervening screens. They may kiss the women they love in greeting and in good-bye. They may wear their own shirts and collars and neckties. They may receive boxes of food from home, tea, coffee, anything practically that does not come in a closed tin. All these are little things, perhaps, but taken altogether they constitute a great experiment—a splendid hope.

Sing Sing prisoners doing fancy work. Some of them have become experts at weaving and embroidery. Notice the lack of prison stripes and prison gloom.

Scott Brewer, secretary of the state association of real estate dealers, was again present at the regular weekly meeting of the Fort Wayne Real Estate exchange, Tuesday evening, at the Commercial club. He was present for the purpose of aiding in the perfecting of plans for the state convention to be held in Fort Wayne October 20 and 21.

There is much work to be done in arranging for the coming convention, which promises to be the biggest and most largely attended in the history of the state association. Arrangements were made to extend an invitation to real estate men in various towns and cities in Indiana by word of mouth and not depend entirely upon printed invitations. The following committee was named: Louis Moore and Louis F. Curdes will call on the Evansville real estate men; J. S. Peddicord will go to Gary; Clint R. Willson to Kokomo; Frank B. Hilgemann to Elkhart and South Bend, and Eugene Fitch to Lafayette.

Messrs. Cotton, of New York, and S. D. Rider, of South Bend, were present as representatives of the Fort Wayne Morris Plan company and explained in detail the plan under which the company will work.

The exchange went on record as in favor of the St. Joe river dam, which will provide a waterway about six miles long for boating, fishing and bathing. Louis Moore explained that the proposition is not a money making scheme, but a plan by which those who could not go to the lakes can be afforded the same pleasures here at home.

The meeting followed a banquet which was served at 6:30 o'clock. A large attendance was present.

Only 6,000 Europeans are included in the population of the island of Ceylon, which totals well over 4,000,000.

Systematic Canvass on Flood Prevention

Citizens of Fort Wayne who have accepted membership on the ward committees have begun a systematic canvass to procure signatures to the flood prevention petition. At the booster meeting Monday night more than 100 public-spirited Fort Wayne citizens representing every ward of the city pledged themselves to do everything in their power to boost the movement for flood protection. Thus the campaign will be a spirited one until the required number of signatures are procured.

Gentlemen identified with the organization assert that within the next three weeks the petition or powers of attorney will be presented to every freeholder in the city of Fort Wayne and that a very large majority of them will readily sign.

The movement for flood prevention is country-wide. It countenances neither politics, race nor creed. It involves only the best interests of every taxpayer in the community. Everybody realizes that something must be done to protect our city and county from flood water. Few realize, however, that nothing can be done until there is established a flood prevention district. The circulation of the petition and powers of attorney is tantamount to a referendum vote on the question: "Shall we or shall we not take steps to solve the flood problem in the county?" What is your answer, Mr. Freeholder?

WILL MAKE TOUR OF STATE.

Retail Merchants' Officers Plan Long Booster Trip.

Anderson, Ind., Aug. 11.—Ralph W. Clark, of this city, president of the Indiana Retail Merchants' association, today announced that the officers and directors of the association would begin a tour of the state from this city, Monday, September 7. The party will travel by automobile.

A wheat production meeting will be held at the Scipio church, in Scipio township, on Tuesday evening, August 18, at which time J. D. Harper, of Purdue university, will be the principal speaker.

and fair and that he was going to fight for it. If it met defeat at this time, he wanted to warn the council that it would be brought in again at the end of six months, and yet again if necessary.

Strong Minority Report.

The minority report of the committee, signed by Robert John, councilman from the Fifth ward, embraced a strong statement recommending that the ordinance be passed. It was greeted with hearty applause. Councilman Korte, of the Tenth ward, moved that the majority report, signed by Councilmen Jacob Hartman and Frank J. Schlebecker, be concurred in. On this motion the debate was inaugurated and sustained.

Mr. Mills, the author of the ordinance, spoke at some length in support of his measure. He said that public sentiment was for it, as shown by the big petition brought, almost twenty-four hundred names having been procured in a few days. The women were for it, he said, and evidenced the resolutions of the Woman's League, endorsing the ordinance. He said:

"The women don't have any vote on this thing now, but in ten years or less they will. If they could vote they would be for this measure. This measure is not radical or untried. If the saloon business is a fair business there is no reason why it should not be put on a fair basis. Why does it not open its interior to the public view, if all that goes on inside is fit and proper conduct? Why not have the windows open like the confectionery stores and restaurants. There is evil behind these screens as the saloon men know, you know it and I know it."

Mr. Mills quoted some facts from a letter he had received from the police commissioner of the city of Boston, where the anti-screen ordinance has been effective for thirty-five years. The law had worked well there and the commissioner said no one ever proposed making a change in it.

Wanted Colleagues to Uncover.

"I hope the gentlemen of this body will pass this ordinance, but if those who are against it want to be fair they should tell why they are against it. I believe we ought to know the reasons why they vote down so good a measure as this, which means a lot to better moral conditions in Fort Wayne a lot to our boys and girls, who are growing up. It will do good all round to the saloon men as well as anybody. And the saloon men have something to look out for. In ten years they will all be out of business, but they can make the end come more quickly if they oppose good measures of regulation like this."

Mr. Mills' prediction of the end of the liquor business within a decade brought loud applause from the lobby.

Rev. Nipper Pleads For Ordinance.

Rev. James A. Nipper, superintendent of the Fort Wayne Rescue Mission and secretary of the Men's Christian league, was the first outsider to be given the privilege of speaking and announced that he spoke for the league with its membership of over 700 men and for the almost 2,400 citizens who had signed the petition.

"We are not here in any hostile spirit," said Mr. Nipper. "We are not here to attempt to make Fort Wayne dry. We are here to urge the passage of this ordinance, because when it is passed, it will be a good thing—good for the saloonkeepers as well as the people of this city. Take down the saloon screens and let those outside see what is going on inside. If there had been no screens the recent scandals relating to Churubusco boys, with which our newspapers have been filled, would not have taken place. If there had been no screens those boys would not have gone into those places; they would not have been allowed in the Hof Brau and the Edwin. This ordinance will be a good thing—fair to the saloonkeepers and fair to the people and the people want it. We have here the situation of the class and the mass—some 200 saloonkeepers on the one hand, opposed to the measure, and 2,400 citizens whose names are on this petition asking for this measure. Whose voice ought to be heard, whose voice heeded?"

Bayer Speaks For Majority.

President W. A. Bayer, of the council, was the only member to speak at any length for the adoption of the majority report. "It is not in the saloons, the barrooms, from which you want to remove the screens, that you find the girls and the women," said Mr. Bayer. "You find them in the cafes, the cabarets, the winerooms and the annexes, where walls and not screens conceal them. That is what you want to get at, and that condition is up to the mayor and the police who have power to deal with it and abolish it. I do not believe the business men of Fort Wayne want this ordinance," and at this point he was interrupted with cries of "Look at the petitions; there are many of the best business men in Fort Wayne there and right near the top, too." Resuming, President Bayer said he knew many good men who went into the saloons and were not ashamed to have it known, "but they do not want to be put on exhibition when they go in to take a glass of beer."

Councilman Mills replied that President Bayer "does not know everything that is going on. There are a good many things that he doesn't know about." The author of the measure then gave his declaration of war:

"I want to say that if this ordinance is defeated tonight, that will not be the last of it. It is everlastingly right and ought to be passed. I am going to fight for it as long as I am in this body. I will bring it up in six months and again in another six months if necessary. I am not going to quit."

Fred E. Todd, chairman of the Christian League's committee on petitions for support of the measure, spoke briefly, and declared that the men of Fort Wayne were getting tired of what was going on in the saloons of the city behind the screens, and he warned saloonkeepers and their friends to have a care.

President Price Starts Something.

President F. M. Price, of the Men's League, begged the floor for a moment, and said he had been repeatedly informed that the anti-screen ordinance had no chance because the saloons controled the council. "I did not believe, I do not believe that booze is in control of this body of men who represent the people of Fort Wayne in their home government," declared Mr. Price. "We have had the declaration that the Brewers' association of this state was in favor of a law abolishing screens and throwing the saloons open to the gaze of the world. We have taken them at their word, and are here to help them get such a law for Fort Wayne."

Mr. Price concluded his brief address with his declaration that Fort Wayne is getting ripe for a war of extermination against the saloons, and declared further, that if the saloonkeepers would not take the opportunities offered to make their business better and to make it secure, appeal would be made to the voters of Fort Wayne at an option election and "the whole traffic wiped out here."

During the speeches in behalf of the ordinance there was frequent applause of a hearty kind, but when Mr. Price made his threat of an appeal to the voters there was a veritable storm of it.

Vote on Report Decrees Death.

The ayes and nays were then called on Korte's motion to concur in the majority report against the ordinance and the vote was as follows:

Nays—John, Lepper, Mills, Ofenloch—4.

In voting for the report to kill the ordinance, Councilman Charles E. Welch, member-at-large, explained that he believed to remove the screens would mean only to "drive the drinking upstairs."

"We will take care of that" was cried from several parts of the lobby. "Give us the ordinance and we will see to that. Vote no vote no" came from Rev. Nipper.

The break in the ranks of the hostile councilmen shown by the votes of Councilman Charles O. Lepper of the Third ward, and Peter A. Ofenloch, of the Seventh ward, caused some surprise and elicited applause from the lobby.

Some hissing from the body of the chamber followed the announcement of the vote and President Bayer rapped for order and mildly rebuked the outbreak.

Later in the session the screen ordinance was put upon its passage and was defeated by 11 to 4, the councilmen voting precisely as they had on the majority report.

Speculation in arms is an unsavory profit for a few during the war, but it will be a curse for all peaceful American business during the war, as well as after the war. Attend the mass meeting Monday, Aug. 16th, at the Palace theater.

NUDE WOOD NYMPH CAUGHT.

Lacrosse, Wis., Aug. 11.—The mysterious wood nymph has been captured. She drove into Sparta today in the custody of Sheriff Boss and Humane Officer George Manuel. Her bizarre costume of an expansive smile and a beribboned boudoir cap was supplemented by a horse blanket provided by the sheriff.

The officers refuse to give any details of her capture, nor will the girl. She is now in the care of the sheriff's family and has been properly clothed. There are hints that she is a member of a prominent Lacrosse family and has been having the time of her young life in her daily and nightly excursions. She is a decided blonde, with an immense wealth of golden hair. According to the officers, she is very pretty and has a figure that would get her into the first row of any chorus in the country.

Evansville Man Finds Head Wound Due to Flattened Bullet.

Evansville, Ind., Aug. 11.—Fred McDaniels went to a physician for treatment of a wound in the head which he believed was caused by a brick bat. The doctor found a flattened bullet under the scalp.

Thin Men and Women

The trouble with most thin folks who wish to gain weight is that they insist on drugging their stomach or stuffing it with greasy foods; rubbing on useless "flesh creams," or following some foolish physical culture stunt, while the real cause of thinness goes untouched. You cannot get fat until your digestive tract properly assimilates the food you eat.

There is a preparation known to reliable druggists almost everywhere, which seemingly embodies the missing elements needed by the digestive organs to help them convert food into rich, fat-laden blood. This preparation is called Sargol and much remarkable testimony is given as to its successful use in flesh building. Sargol, which comes in the form of a small non-injurious tablet, taken at meals and mixing with the digesting food, tends to prepare its fat, flesh and muscle building elements so that the blood can readily accept and carry them to the starved portions of the body. You can readily picture the transformation that additional and previously lacking flesh-making material should bring with your cheeks filling out, hollows about your neck, shoulders and bust disappearing and your taking on from 10 to 20 pounds of solid healthy flesh. Sargol is harmless, inexpensive. Dreier Drug Co., D. & N. Pharmacy, Family Drug Store and other leading druggists of this vicinity have it and are authorized to refund your money if weight increase is not obtained as per the guarantee found in each package.

NOTE:—Sargol is recommended only as a flesh builder and while excellent results in cases of nervous indigestion, etc., have been reported care should be taken about using it unless a gain of weight is desired.

Daly—Dowling.

A beautiful wedding of Wednesday morning at 8:30 o'clock at St. John's Catholic church at New Haven, was solemnized in the marriage of Miss May Cecelia Dowling, the charming and accomplished daughter of Mrs. Mary Dowling and the late Mr. B. W. Dowling, of New Haven, and Mr. Dennis Comer Daly, of this city. Rev. Father Wendelin, pastor of St. John's, presided over the marriage ceremony and Rev. Father Lange, of LaSalle, Ill., sung the nuptial high mass. The church was prettily decorated with a large number of ferns and huge bunches of golden glow, and with the lighted altar candles made a pretty scene. Members of the bridal party were Mrs. John C. Dowling, of Chicago, sister-in-law of the bride, who acted as matron of honor. Her dress was made of cream white lace and she carried a bouquet of pink tinted roses. Mr. Dowling attended the groom. The bridesmaids were Miss Julia Falvey, of Fort Wayne, and Miss Mary A. Young, of Sidney, Ohio. Their gowns were corresponding and were of white lace over pink messaline and they wore pink hats. Mr. Tom C. Dowling gave the bride away in marriage and Mr. Will Dowling and Mr. Earl Dowling, also brothers of the bride, acted as ushers. The bride's gown was a handsome creation of Brussels lace. She wore a veil of white tulle, caught with orange blossoms and carried a shower of white rose buds. A former choir of which the bride was a member, furnished the music for the mass, with Miss Maud Dell Capes at the organ. Miss Helen Loos, of Fort Wayne, sang the Ave Marie at the offertory, with Miss Helen Clifford accompanist. Lohengrin's wedding march announced the approach of the bridal party. The church was filled with admiring friends of the bride and groom, both from New Haven and this city. An informal reception was held at the home of the bride and the wedding dinner was served at 1 o'clock to about seventy-five guests. The bridal table was decorated with pink and white gladiolas and smilax. The color scheme in the living rooms was entirely pink and white. Later in the afternoon the bride and groom left on their honeymoon, which will include New York city, Boston and Washington and many interesting side trips, with a trip up the Hudson. After October first they will be at home in Woodlawn avenue, Fort Wayne. The bride's going away gown was a blue tailored suit with black and white hat. Mrs. Daly is very popular both in this city and New Haven, where she is very widely known. Her marriage has been preceded with a number of enjoyable prenuptial affairs. She was graduated from St. Augustine's academy and is an efficient officer of the Hibernians. The groom, formerly of Warsaw, but for a number of years a resident of Fort Wayne, has long been with the G. R. & I. Railway company as conductor. He is a member of St. Patrick's parish and is popular with a large circle of friends in this city and employes of the company, with whom he is associated.

Hatfield-Byers Reunion.

The third annual reunion of the Hatfield Byers family was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hatfield, three miles south of Harlan, and a good time was enjoyed. A sumptuous chicken dinner was a feature of the day worth remembering for a long time. At the annual election of officers for the family society, which was held at the disposal of business after dinner, the result was the election of Crate Darling, president; Mrs. Bora Good, secretary; Joseph Flickinger, treasurer. The next annual reunion will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Crate Darling in August, 1916, the date to be announced later. Those present on this occasion were Mr. and Mrs. John Hatfield and children, Herman, Katie, May and Inez; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Flickinger, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hatfield, Mr. and Mrs. Crate Darling and daughters, Ursie and Dessie, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Madden, Mr. and Mrs. J. Johnson and daughter Vivian, of Antwerp; Mrs. Glen Betz and son Forest, of Larwill; Mr. and Mrs. Irven Flickinger and son Wilbur, of Fort Wayne; Mr. and Mrs. Crist Martin, of Woodburn; Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Byers, of Fort Wayne; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Byers and daughter Marie, Mr. and Mrs. George Good and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Mont Mason and children, Virginia and Harold, Charley Miller, Oscar Schafter and son Donald, Joseph Flickinger and children, Lawrence and Flossie, and James Eby, all of Fort Wayne.

Bieber Family Reunion.

The fifth annual reunion of the Bieber family was held at Swinney park on Sunday, August 8. A sumptuous picnic dinner was served at noon under the large pavilion. After the repast the customary business meeting of the society was held and officers elected as follows: President, Frank Boegel, Fort Wayne; vice-president, William H. Smith, Celina, O.; secretary-treasurer, Miss Goldie Bieber, New Haven; temporary committee, Mrs. William Bieber, Mrs. William Mellinger, Mrs. Harver Bieber, Benjamin Mellinger and Allen Bieber. Refreshments were served in the afternoon. One hundred relatives were present. Music was furnished by Frank Goetz, Charles Miller, Benjamin Melligan and George Wageman, all of Fort Wayne. The next reunion will be held at Swinney park on the second Sunday in August, 1916.

Where Man Also Takes Daily Hint.

The high waist line in the new fall coats is what the man fashion designer calls attention to today. This high line is well above the normal waist line and it has just the right curve to give a becoming "swing" from the waist down. Patch pockets with flaps are another new fashion wrinkle, and still another is to leave the last button of the coat open and it's equally good fashion form to leave the last button of the new low cut waistcoat open. A fawn color felt hat with a colored band is a nobby top piece worn by men who study styles

Mary's [illegible], In the days that have gone by

The lamb we most admire
Is the lamb that's on the fire

(By Caroline Coe.)

A hind quarter of lamb of good size is an economical purchase. The chops should be cut off and with the kidney may be broiled and served with fried peaches.

Wash firm peaches and wipe with a coarse towel to remove as much of the "fuzz" as possible. Cut the peaches in half, remove the stone and place the peach, stone side down, in skillet that has a little hot butter in it. Fry until golden brown, being careful not to burn. When brown turn the peach and dust the browned side with a little sugar. Fry the peaches until tender, but not soft enough to lose their shape. Have chops broiled and serve on platter with fried peaches around them. Try it; it's fine.

LEG OF LAMB WITH CURRANT JELLY PASTE.

Wash and wipe a leg of lamb, rub teaspoonful of salt and a dash of pepper into the meat. Put the lamb into a baking pan, turn over it one-half cup of boiling water and set in hot oven and roast, allowing twenty minutes for each pound of meat. When half the time necessary for cooking has passed take the roast from the oven and cover with paste made of one glass of currant jelly mixed with one heaping tablespoonful of flour. Spread the paste all over the lamb and return to oven. Baste the lamb every ten minutes during the rest of the cooking, so as to secure a golden-brown glaze over the meat. Serve on hot platter and turn the contents of the pan over the lamb.

This meat is just as delicious when served cold.

ROAST LAMB COOKED IN MINT SAUCE.

Roast the lamb as usual and the last twenty minutes required for cooking add baste with the following: Pick off leaves from twelve stalks of mint and bruise a little; add three tablespoonfuls of sugar and mix to a pulp, and two tablespoonfuls of vinegar and turn over roast lamb. Return to hot oven and baste every three minutes.

Remove roast to hot platter, make a gravy by adding a spoonful of flour that has been thoroughly blended with a little cold water. Boil the gravy five minutes and serve in gravy boat.

LAMB CUTLETS WITH APPLES.

Take a neck of lamb, divide it into cutlets, trim them neatly and season with salt and pepper. Put them in oven in casserole. Peel and slice six apples; peel and chop three small onions, and put onions and apples over the cutlets. Allow all to cook in the oven three-quarters of an hour or until thoroughly cooked.

Serve in dish in which they were cooked.

CURRY OF LAMB.

Cut into pieces two pounds of lamb from the fore-quarter and roll pieces in one tablespoonful of barley flour. Put pieces in deep sauce pan and with one onion chopped fine and just enough stock or water to barely cover. Set over slow fire and cook slowly till meat is tender; add one teaspoonful of curry powder, allow to heat three minutes and serve with cooked rice.

LAMB HASH WITH PEPPERS.

Use the remnants from the leg for hash. Put the meat through the meat grinder, chop cold boiled potatoes and to each cup of lamb used add two cups of chopped potato.

Seed and chop two small sweet peppers for each three cups of hash. Put the chopped pepper into skillet with two tablespoonfuls of butter. Cook the peppers two minutes but do not brown. Add meat and potatoes and one-half cup of lamb broth or any gravy you have left. Bake in moderate oven an hour—do not brown.

AT THE TEMPLE.

"An injudicious lie is often as bad as the truth" is a bit of philosophy Mark Twain has given us, and well might have he had in mind Bill Fuller, the title character in the laughing farce comedy, "Hello Bill," which the Paycen stock players are presenting to record business this week at the Temple. Bill (Mr. Maurice Jenkins) is nothing if not a prolific liar, but at times he becomes injudicious, for instance when he attempts to tell Miss Dare (Miss Renee North) that "her Ned" (Mr. McLain Gates) is dead. That was over-reaching the mark a bit, as she had just seen "her Ned" alive a couple of minutes before and Bill's story of his heroic death in Cuba three weeks before, spills the beans. Bill you see had been masquerading as General William Fuller, just back from Cuba to explain his absence from his bride, for Bill had been caught in a gambling raid, and, fearing that the judge would give him the usual three months, had prepared his alibi in advance.

AT THE NEW PALACE

The funniest man in the world, Charlie Chaplin, the man who nightly makes millions laugh at his absurd antics, will be at the New Palace Thursday and Friday in another sensational revue of his matchless farce comedies. The repertoire for this week's revue includes "Dough and Dynamite," "His Trysting Place," "Caught in a Cabaret," "The Masqueraders" and "The Rounders," Eight films of Chaplin. That's an entertainment.

Tonight the distinguished actor, William Faversham, will close a two days' engagement in Sir Gilbert Parker's great story, "The Right of Way." Mr. Faversham, who is making his debut before the camera, is being supported in this production by Miss Jane Grey and a superb company of principals.

Saturday afternoon will see all the burlesque fans out to see the famous Star and Garter show, which opens at the Empress. That the Empress is going to give the best that can be had in this line of amusement is only one-half of what will be said after the patrons witness the first show, as they will see the famous Star and Garter show, which will also be the first real Columbia wheel show that has ever played this city. The seat sale opens Thursday morning at 10 o'clock. The attraction will be one of the season's real events when Izzy Weingarten will present his all new fashion plate organization, the "Star and Garter show," in a Marathon mixture of melody, mirth and merriment, entitled "At Saratoga Springs," which is divided into two parts, the action of which occurs at Saratoga, a summer resort, adjacent to New York, and on the boulevard of that "Gay Paree." This season's company is composed exclusively of favorites of the first grade.

"SOLD," A TRIUMPH.

The stirring five-part photoplay will make an indelible impression on the minds of all who witness it. Absolutely true to life, with all of life's little sorrows and gladnesses, hopes and despairs, convincingly expressed, "Sold" becomes more than a drama—it is a dramatic preachment, a slice of life cut out of the world of today and placed on the screen.

All the feminine emotions, with which the characterization teems, and of which Miss Frederick is so completely mistress, are presented on the screen with such force and realism as can come only from histrionic perfection and well-balanced situations and incidents. Carefully produced, with skillfully timed climax and denouement, "Sold" will never be forgotten, both for the intrinsic charm of the subject and the unsurpassable emotional ability of Miss Frederick.

Thursday and Friday, the Jefferson has secured for projection the much-discussed "Island of Regeneration," starring Edith Storey and Antonio Moreno.

Harry D. Carey, idol of New York playgoers, and one of the most gifted actors who ever strode the classic boards of the speaking stage, has fallen like a good many other idols, only in this case we avoid the literal conception of the meaning, for Mr. Carey has only succumbed to the omnipotent "movies," and has deserted the vocal drama long enough to create the heart touching title role in a brilliant picture-drama of his former great success, "Just Jim."

Mr. Frederick Hughes, the tenor soloist, who has created such a sensation with his beautiful singing, will be heard in selected vocal contributions. The Orpheum also wishes to call attention to the fact that the admission price for tomorrow and Friday will be raised to 10 cents in view of the importance of the attractions running on those days. On Friday the Orpheum has arranged to return "Scandal," the epochal morality drama which created so much discussion when shown a few weeks back.

YOUR NEW FALL HAT.

(By Betty Brown.)

If it's white patent leather and sailor size it's correct and up to the last minute in style.

* * *

* * *

The white hats of fall will be followed by velvet and silk hats of rather quiet shades. Belgrade purple, Carpathian green, Garibaldi red and negre, or brown are the colors the milliners are studying.

P. C. TYGER.

In commemoration of his 82d birthday a party of friends of P. C. Tyger, of 1326 Cass street, gave him a pleasant surprise Monday evening. In speaking of the event Mr. Tyger said that he knew that he was 82 years old, but knew nothing of the fact that his friends were going to give a party in his honor until they came rushing into his home.

Mr. Tyger, although advanced in years, has maintained a youthful appearance and seems yet as spry as he was thirty years ago. He keeps well posted on the affairs and happenings of the day, and can converse understandingly on any subject.

Mr. Tyger was born on August 6 in Papack, Somerset county, New Jersey, but came to Fort Wayne when he was 23 years of age, and has resided here since that time. He was employed by the Pennsylvania railroad for many years in the capacity of an engineer, but retired over twenty years ago. He formerly resided on East Lewis street.

He was united in marriage to Miss Louise Bashlier on February 1, 1866, and both are still living and enjoying good health. Plans will be made for the celebration of their golden wedding anniversary for next year.

(By Betty Brown.)

A tennis girl whose up-to-date sport clothes attract attention at Chicago country clubs is Miss Laura Johnson, whose favorite tennis suit is made of white tricot or Italian silk. The coat is made Norfolk style, pockets, belt and all, and the rather full skirt is finished at the bottom with square scallops about two inches deep. It's not at all an impracticable suit, as the silk "washes like a handkerchief" and wears very well. The saucy little satin hat takes its name Chin-Chin hat, from its oriental model, the cap of the East Indian soldier.

DECATUR LINE WILL BE SOLD THURSDAY

Another Effort Will Be Made to Dispose of the Property.

Another effort will be made Thursday at Decatur to sell at receiver's sale the Fort Wayne and Springfield traction line, now operating between Fort Wayne and Decatur.

It is understood that there will be two bidders for the property, Fred A. Dolph, of Chicago, and the stockholders of the company.

A meeting of the stockholders was recently held in Decatur, at which time it was decided, it is understood, to buy in the property and as soon as possible extend the line to Richmond, passing through Geneva, Berne, Bryant, Portland, Ridgeville, Winchester, Lynn and Fountain City. It is believed that if this is done the line can be made a paying proposition.

Niagara Falls Excursion.

Sixty-six tickets were sold out of Fort Wayne for the Niagara Falls excursion Wednesday morning, conducted by the Ohio Electric. Nine tickets were sold at points along the Fort Wayne and Northern Indiana traction line. Excursionists from points along the Union Traction company will arrive in Fort Wayne at 3:50 p. m. to be transferred to the Ohio Electric.

Traction Notes.

Chief Dispatcher Howell, of the Ohio Electric, with headquarters in Lima, O., was a visitor in Fort Wayne Wednesday.

Officials of the Fort Wayne and Northern Indiana Traction company have been asked to assist in advertising the second industrial exposition to be held at Kokomo from September 20 to 26.

FASHION FORECAST.

(By Betty Brown.)

Almost all the new gowns I saw in a tour of the shops the other day were made in one piece. Some of them were girdled and some of them slightly bloused, but almost all of them had the direct, straight line extending from neck to skirt hem and what can you call the straight line gown but a princess.

The redingote with its long, straight lines is also noticeable among the new gowns. The coat costume is a very economical garment as it's a dress and coat in one, and may be worn with only a flounced petticoat.

HOUSEHOLD HELPS.

When food burns quickly seize the kettle or pan from the fire and set into a larger pan of cold water. This will cause the steam to escape from the outside, instead of passing upward through the food.

* * *

A good way to wash the bottoms of pots and pans that have to set over the fire is to rub soap all over them before placing them on the fire. They will then wash clean with very little trouble.

* * *

Littttle Coats for Early Autumn Days

(By Betty Brown.)

I saw a stunning little "creation" of navy blue gabardine voile in the work rooms of Mme. Hosac, of the Fashion Art League of America, recently which is intended for mid-September wear. The severely plain little coat has the postillion back and in the front it's cut in two sharp points. It's semi-fitted at the waist.

FIGHTING TO GAIN HIS OWN CHILDREN

In a legal battle to regain possession of his own children—Gertrude, aged 13, and Catherine, aged 8—William Langohr has begun habeas corpus proceedings in the superior court, charging that the defendant in 1910 forcibly and unlawfully took possession of the little ones and now has them at 415 Pearl street. He charges that she is unlawfully and without right depriving them of their liberty and is keeping them from the custody of the plaintiff. He also alleges that she is without means to properly support them, is not living in a neighborhood that gives the children a good environment, and is not a proper person to have charge of them. Attorney Edward L. Siebold filed the complaint.

She Wants a Divorce.

Agnes E. Davis has brought suit in the superior court against Homer A. Davis for a decree of divorce, alleging cruel and inhuman treatment. She says he called her vile and indecent names and swore at her and gave her no reasonable degree of support for two years. She says she has had to keep boarders to make a living for herself. The defendant is a non-resident. H. Wayeland Kerr appears as attorney for the plaintiff.

Does Not Support Her.

Emma Dunlap, through Attorneys Sommers & Kennerk, has begun suit in the superior court for divorce from Cal Dunlap. They were married in 1899 and have been separated for eleven years. She says that he did not support her for two years prior to the separation and left her with little upon which to get along and she has had to support herself.

Notes of the Courts.

In the superior court, in the suit of Abraham Greenbaum vs. Charles Gruber, judgment has been rendered for the plaintiff on the findings previously made.

The superior court has entered judgment for the defendant in the suit of Dee Weaver vs. the city of Fort Wayne and Frank J. Rahe for $20,000 damages for personal injuries, according to findings by the jury. Before the trial was concluded the court dismissed the complaint as making the city defendant and the trial proceeded only against the defendant Rahe. Weaver was a youth employed in the city forestry department as a tree trimmer and fell from a tree in Lakeside, fracturing his skull. The defendant Rahe had the contract for the work. The jury held that he was in no wise responsible for the accident.

The divorce suit of Arthur Baker vs. Emma Baker has been dismissed from the superior court.

The superior court has granted a divorce to Florence Lesh from Emmett Lesh, given her the custody of a child and allowed her $10 a month for its support.

Somewhere south of Fort Wayne County Commissioners James D. Butt, William C. Schwier and Albert J. Black, Commissioner-elect H. A. Wetzel, County Councilman Valentine Shaffer and County Auditor Will Johnson are stormbound en route home from New Castle, to which place they went Tuesday to inspect the buildings on the state's epileptic farm. In automobiles not of the seagoing kind they made the trip and the rains that began in the early morning Wednesday probably caused them to beat in to some friendly harbor to await abatement of the weather. The party left New Castle for Muncie Tuesday evening and spent the night there, expecting to start for home at 5 o'clock Wednesday morning. They had not arrived at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon and the anxious opinion about the court house was that no milder fate had befallen the party than being marooned in Muncie for the day.

The members of the party were the guests Tuesday of Dr. Van Nuys, superintendent of the state farm for epileptics, and they inspected the buildings of the institution, with which they were much impressed. They will submit a report to the county council recommending that buildings of similar type be erected on the new Allen county farm north of the city.

RUNS AWAY FROM EUROPEAN WAR

Ivan Vladimar Declares He Has Had Enough of Carnage.

San Francisco, Aug. 11.—Ivan Vladimir, nineteen years old, survivor of the European battle front, a soldier, an orphan, a fugitive and finally a man without a family, friend or country.

"We went to Kiev, were accepted and while the men cheered and the women wept we drilled," said Ivan. "Then, as the Prussians were making their great drive into Galicia we were sent to the front. I was separated from my family, my father and two brothers going in one regiment, my other brother in another and myself in a third—the eighteenth. We were among the first to enter the fighting, and it was the deadliest then—at least for the Russians. They put us on the side of a hill to dig trenches.

"For two weeks we worked at this. Shells were bursting around us and I got my first sight of death. Sometimes the shells would strike near us, sometimes far up on the hillside or on the plain in front of us. Further forward there was rifle fire. Thousands of wounded were carried back to the hospitals through our line.

"For a week I spent my days in the trenches and my nights in little dugouts. And I saw many killed.

"One night I heard from the regiment my father was in. It had been almost wiped out, and I learned that all three had been killed. At first it made me sick and then I think I went mad for a time, for before daylight I had torn my uniform blouse from me and started back toward Kiev. I was through with fighting.

"I was now a deserter and decided to come to America. I went back to our farm and got some money which my father had kept hidden for years. Then I made my way 6,000 miles across Siberia.

"I told nobody where I was going and sometimes I pretended I wanted to go to war and sometimes I told people I was a trader. Most of the way I rode. And always there was the fear they were after me.

"It was February when I finally got to the city of Harbin and crossed over the line into China. I had just money enough left to get to Shanghai. There a Russian shopkeeper befriended me, got me a job, and I saved enough money to get to San Francisco."

RUEF'S PARDON SOUGHT.

San Francisco, Aug. 10.—A petition for the parole of Abraham Ruef, former political leader, who was convicted of offering a bribe to a San Francisco supervisor and is now serving a fourteen-year sentence in San Quentin prison, is again before the board of prison directors, it was announced today.

Ruef has served four years and five months, which, with credits for good behavior, constitutes half his sentence. His last petition was denied on the ground that it was against the board's rule to parole a prisoner until he has served at least half his sentence.

OFFICIAL FORECASTS.

WEATHER CONDITIONS.

High pressure overlies the northern districts and there is another high off the north Pacific coast. A trough of low pressure covers the western slope of the Rockies and a moderate storm area is centered in the central Mississippi valley. Fair weather has attended this distribution of pressure in the north and west and rains in the extreme northeast, on the central eastern slope, in the gulf and south Atlantic states and central Mississippi and Ohio valleys. Except in a few localities the changes in temperature during the last twenty-four hours have been unimportant. Practically normal temperature conditions prevail this morning. In the north and west temperatures are somewhat above normal, while in the central valleys there is a slight deficiency in temperature. In central Texas the deficiency is about 10 degrees.

Present conditions indicate unsettled weather in this vicinity tonight, with showers. Thursday will be fair. The changes in temperature will be slight.

AN INTERPRETATION.

BROTHERS' BODIES FOUND.

Charleston, Ill., Aug. 10. — The mangled bodies of Lionel Small, age 19, and Clyde Small, age 18, brothers, were found seven miles west of here on the Big Four railroad. The brothers had been killed by a train. Their mother received their trunk and a letter Thursday, saying they would arrive in Charleston yesterday from a trip through Missouri. Lionel Small was returning to take his bride of two months to a new home in Missouri.

PLOW 110 ACRES IN TWO HOURS.

Champaign, Ill., Aug. 10.—The plowing of a 110-acre stubble field in about two hours by thirty-two engines, pulling from two to six plows each, completed the big tractor demonstration here yesterday. The 100,000 farmers from Illinois and adjoining states, opened their eyes in wonder as they saw the engines accomplish in a short time what it would take teams weeks to do.

The University of Illinois, the Champaign chamber of commerce and other organizations have asked that the tractor demonstrations be made a permanent feature at the university.

The board of works and President W. A. Bayer and Councilmen Ague, Keller, Welch and Schlebecker, the city council's special committee on a new garbage plant will hold their second conference Thursday evening at the city hall. The members of the committee remain steadfast to the council's resolution that a consulting engineer be employed to survey the situation here and make recommendations. There is likely to be submitted to the conference by the committee a new proposition as a substitute for the board's proposal to purchase land in the extreme southwest part of the city as the site for a new garbage crematory. Plans for a central location are under consideration by the councilmen. It is believed that the board and the council will be able to get together on both the issues—the question of location and the employment of an engineer.

APPROVES GARBAGE RESOLUTION.

Mayor Hosey Did Not Veto as Some Expected He Would.

Mayor Hosey notified the city council Tuesday evening that he had given his signature of approval to the resolution passed at the last meeting requesting the board of works to employ a competent engineer for consultation on the best course to pursue in solution of the garbage problem. It had been in some quarters predicted that his hostility to the resolution was such as would actuate him to veto it.

Aside from the fight on the Mills anti-screen ordinance, which was defeated, the session of the council was without special incident and little time was consumed in dispatch of the routine business. The ordinances appropriating the funds for the 1916 budgets and tax levies as prepared by the city comptroller were presented and referred to the committee of the whole, which will be called to meet next Tuesday night to thrash out the financial problems. Mayor Hosey sent in a special message embracing suggestions by following which the council can procure enough money to motorize fire station No. 1, which will require $14,500, and at the same time not necessitate cutting the track elevation levy from 10 cents to 7 cents, as is proposed in the comptroller's estimates. The mayor recommends elimination of the garbage plant levy of 3 cents and cutting down the proposed appropriation of $4,000 for fireproof quarters for the electric fire signal station, which he says motorization of the No. 1 house equipment will make unnecessary.

The rules were suspended and the council passed an ordinance transferring $4,000 from the garbage collection account to the street repair account and also passed the ordinance appropriating $1,000 from the general fund to the new streets intersection account to pay the city's share of paving Wayne trace from New Haven avenue to the Pennsylvania right of way.

Councilman Korte's ordinance fixing a minimum wage for city employes, resurrected from the table two weeks ago, was read a second time and referred to the committees on fees and salaries and finance. It fixes the minimum wage at 25 cents an hour and a nine-hour day. All employes on salary shall receive not less than the equivalent of the minimum.

The council passed an ordinance ratifying a contract with the Dunn Coal company for 1,200 tons of coal for the garbage plant and referred the comptroller's semi-annual report to the committee on finance.

Mayor Hosey sent a communication saying he had approved the weed ordinance, the ordinance appropriating $250 to the contingent account of the legal department, the ordinance appropriating $40 a month from the track elevation funds to pay for additional clerical help in the board of works office and the ordinance ratifying the board of works resolution for grade separation at Coombs street and the Nickel Plate railway.

CONFIRM ASSESSMENT ROLLS.

Park Board Acts on Boulevard Matter at Adjourned Meeting.

At an adjourned meeting of the board of park commissioners, held Wednesday morning, on adjournment from Tuesday afternoon, when a quorum was not present, the assessment rolls for the grading of Anthony boulevard from the Maumee river to State boulevard were confirmed. The final estimates for cement sidewalks on the same boulevard from Lake avenue south were approved and the primary assessment rolls were ordered. The board decided to change the time of its regular meetings from Tuesday afternoons at 3:30 o'clock to Monday afternoons at the same hour and the new schedule will be inaugurated next week. Commissioner Abe Ackerman left immediately after the meeting for a business trip to Cleveland. Commissioner Louis Dorn returned Tuesday afternoon from a vacation trip.

BRET HARTE HEROINE DIES.

Mrs. Josephine A. Barnes Ran Tavern for Forty-Niners.

Oakdale, Cal., Aug. 10.—Mrs. Josephine A. Barnes, tavern-keeper at Knights Ferry during the days when it was a city of 10,000 and the county seat of Stanislaus county, is dead. She was 94, and was one of the best known women in the state in the early days, her hotel, the Washington house, figuring often in the stories of Bret Harte.

Mrs. Barnes ran the hotel for more than a half a century. One of the woman's characteristics was to permit absolutely no criticism of the hotel or of the menu, as many a luckless traveler found out to his sorrow.

VINDICATION OF EVE JOY TO SUFFRAGISTS

New York, Aug. 11.—There was rejoicing in all New York suffragist camps yesterday over the dispatch from Philadelphia to the effect that Old Man Noah, who marched the animals into his ark two by two, was the original sinner, instead of Mother Eve.

"I always suspected that Garden of Eden story, anyway," said Miss Florence M. Harmon, organizer for the Political Equality association. "It sounds too much like the way men talk today. The other night a man said that most of the men in prisons were there because of women, and he mentioned Eve. Now anti-suffragists who lean on the Bible have lost their chief prop."

"Always Suspected Noah."

Miss Laura Ryan, suffragist, said: "I always suspected Noah. Eve was a lady, and is the mother of all the good people in the world. But if you have ever read the ninth chapter of Genesis you will remember that Noah, after the flood and his getting off the water, became a husbandman, planted a vineyard and got drunk on his own vintage. Most of the misery in the world comes through drink, and, if I remember right, Noah was the first person mentioned as liking wine parties."

Miss Clara Savage of the National Women's Suffrage association said: "The suffragists have been expecting for years that Eve would be vindicated, and now that motto they have been flinging at us for so long 'Cherchez la Femme' ('Hunt for the Woman') is disproved by this."

Truth Hidden 5,000 Years.

Mrs. Flora Gapen Charter of the New Jersey equal suffrage committee said: "When I read that dispatch I thought of the awful burden of blame that Eve and her daughters have borne down the centuries. You must give her and them the credit of bearing it smilingly for the most part. Now that women are coming into their own this discovery comes at an opportune time. But to think of the truth being hidden for 5,000 years!"

ANNUAL MEETING OF PIONEERS THURSDAY

Several Fort Wayne people will attend the twenty-first annual meeting of the Elida Pioneer society, to be held in Crites grove, one mile east of Elida, O., Thursday. Dr. C. B. Stemen, of this city, is president of the society, and has presided at each meeting for the past six years.

Governor Frank B. Willis, of Ohio, will be the principal speaker. Dr. Stemen is also on the program for a short address.

The committee in charge announces that there will be excellent speakers, splendid music, plenty of cool shade and an abundance of good cool water.

Society

Two entertainments of beautiful appointment have been given this week to honor Mrs. Reuben S. Patterson, of Los Angeles, who is spending the summer in the city. On Tuesday Mrs. Harry Fletcher gave a garden party which afforded much pleasure to nearly thirty ladies who took their sewing, visited as they sat in the yard or on the porch and sewed, and were served tempting things for refreshment by Misses Katherine Keep, Harriet Lind and Dorothy Fletcher, all of Coldwater, Mich., who are guests at present of Mr. and Mrs. Fletcher. At 1 o'clock today Mrs. Charles E. Crall gave a luncheon for Mrs. Patterson, to which intimate friends were invited to meet her.

SUB-DISTRICT RALLY.

Epworth League Meeting at Union Chapel Saturday, August 14.

A splendid program with games, stunts and lunch will be the features of the sub-district Epworth league rally to be held next Saturday afternoon and evening at Union chapel, south of the city on the Bluffton interurban line. All those who care to attend are asked to take the 3 o'clock car and get off at stop 10. Walk east to the first grove. Another car leaves Fort Wayne at 5 o'clock.

This is the first of the quarterly rallies to be held during the year and at this time the sub-district officers will be elected. This district includes the five Epworth leagues of this city and those at Cossse, Harlan, Hoagland, Monroe, New Haven, Union Chapel and Woodburn.

EXCAVATION IS FINISHED.

Work is Progressing Rapidly on Trinity Lutheran Church.

The work on the building of the church edifice for the Trinity Lutheran congregation on Huffman street is progressing rapidly and the excavation of the basement has been finished. Masons have begun work on the laying of the foundation and if the weather permits, carpenters will begin their part of the work before the end of the week. It is the plan of the contractors to have the building under cover before winter weather sets in. Architect Riedel, who drew the plans, is on the ground daily superintending the construction.

League Gives Social.

The Epworth League of the Simpson M. E. church will give an ice cream social at Reservoir park Thursday evening. Music for the occasion will be furnished by a mandolin club.

Lutheran Delegates Return.

The delegates from this city to the Central district convention held at Cleveland since August 4 have returned home, some arriving Tuesday evening while the remainder came Wednesday. The closing session was held Tuesday afternoon.

Attends Board Meeting.

Rev. J. H. Bosch, pastor of St. John Reformed church, left for Cleveland, O., to attend a meeting of the board of directors of the publishing house of which he is a member. Important business will be transacted.

Speaks at Hoagland Sunday.

Mrs. Martha Ridenour, president of the Allen County Woman's Christian Temperance union will speak to the Sunday school at the Hoagland M. E. church next Sunday morning. She will also address a meeting of the various churches of that place in the evening on the subject of temperance.

Theosophical Society.

The Fort Wayne lodge of the American Section, with headquarters at Krotona, Cal., is holding regular meetings every Wednesday evening in the Art building, corner Webster and Wayne streets. The lodge is studying Annie Besant's "Esoteric Christianity," and other kindred subjects. The public is invited to attend. Meetings at 8 p. m.

Church Notes.

The Ladies of St. Mary's Catholic church will give a pedro party in the hall Friday evening.

BANK TELLER ADMITS ROBBERY TALE FAKE

Cedar Rapids, Ia., Aug. 11.—According to the police, Leo Perrin, paying teller of the Cedar Rapids National bank which was robbed of $21,300 a week ago today confessed that he committed the robbery.

At the time of the robbery Perrin said that he had been held up by a robber who compelled him to hand over the money and then locked him in the bank vault. Perrin was found in the vault in apparently hysterical condition and taken to a hospital. Later the police took him in custody.

E. Ahern

Baseball classes as part of a public school course, diplomas for graduates and instructors paid by the school board, just like other teachers, and the whole thing sanctioned by the school superintendent.

The first class, to start Oct. 1, will be for pupils who want to be umpires. They will be taught by Billy Hart, who just resigned as an umpire in the National league, and Billy Carpenter, who was an indicator man in the Southern league several years.

That proposition looks so good plans are on for public school courses for managers and players, with major and fast minor league players as instructors.

In the umpire class boys who have had some experience must attend the school one year before receiving diplomas. Beginners must attend school for one year, then get a season's experience in games and return to school for finishing touches before getting diplomas.

The course will last twenty weeks and one lesson will be given each week. Then the pupils must pass examinations.

The school, according to Renshaw's ideas, will serve two purposes. It will solve the problem of getting competent umpires for amateur games, which are increasing in number every year, and will serve as a stepping stone to boys who want to break into the professional umpiring game where men like Hank O'Day, Billy Klem and Billy Evans are earning big salaries.

The classes are expected to fit boys for the business of umpiring just as manual training schools fits them for other trades.

This Renshaw, originator of the scheme, is a live wire. He found amateur baseball in Cincinnati in bad shape, organized an amateur association with leading citizens as officers, formed a national commission to decide all disputes over amateur games, took the rowdyism out of the pastime, divided teams into age classes and made amateur games so fast and attractive, owners of the Cincinnati National league club began to say that if it were not for Renshaw their turnstiles would do more clicking.

The Clerk Guaranteed It.

"A customer came into my store the other day and said to one of my clerks, 'have you anything that will cure diarrhoea?' and my clerk went and got him a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, and said to him, 'if this does not cure you, I will not charge you a cent for it.' So he took it home and came back in a day or two and said he was cured," writes J. H. Berry & Co., Salt Creek, Va. Obtainable everywhere.—Adv.

COLORED SPRINTER GIVES UP TRACK WORK.

Springfield, Mass., Aug. 11.—Howard P. Drew, of this city, the track athlete, announced his intention to retire from racing in a signed statement published here yesterday. Telegraphing from the Panama-Pacific exposition field, where Saturday he was beaten in the 100 yard dash event of the senior A. A. U. track and field meet, Drew said:

"I was bothered with my legs a great deal in the race so that I pulled up lame at the finish. I have been in poor physical condition, for I now weigh only 150 pounds, and that is much below my normal. I want to say right here that I am through with open competition after this year."

RAIN JIMS TERRE HAUTE GAME TUESDAY

Following the long stretch of lovely weather extending from Sunday to Wednesday, it rained in Terre Haute yesterday and the Terre Haute-Fort Wayne game had to be called off. The local crew was all set to hand Gilbert's bunch a wallopping, but was required to forego the pleasure till Wednesday. It is hoped that a double-header can be played off this afternoon for this will be the last opportunity to get to Gilbert's Terriers.

Mrs. Clyde Cromwell, who has been ill at her home, 1620 Spy Run avenue, for the past ten days, was taken to Hope hospital Tuesday afternoon where she will undergo an operation.

FOOTBALL HAS ARRIVED.

First football practice of the year has been started at the United States naval academy at Annapolis. Sixty-five athletes are at work under Lieut. Ingraham, new head coach. The middies will be on a cruise later and are compelled to get in their practice early.

University of Pennsylvania may start practice Sept. 1. Other big college players will begin to report for practice Sept. 15.

She's twenty years old, has made twenty-two flights, and her name is Ruby Rutledge.

"I made my first flight a year ago with Aviator T. T. Maroney. I don't remember very much of it. It was over so suddenly that I hardly realized what had happened. Mr. Maroney asked me if I wanted to take a ride and I jokingly answered 'Yes.' When I found he really meant it I couldn't refuse."

Since her first flight she has been studying the subject of aviation.

"When you get up five or six thousand feet, air currents sometimes come from different directions and the plane gets rocked around some."

One of the main reasons some of the big men who are going into the fighting game these days fail to stick is that they have little or no idea of how to care for their hands. Most of them are sent into the ring as soon as someone discovers they are big and strong and they are not given time to learn how to hit. They swing like wild men, trying to land the wallop that will bring notoriety, and crushed bones in their hands are the result.

A fighter with all the knockout steam in the world isn't worth a nickel if his fighting tools are so bunged up he can't put steam into his punches.

Jim Coffey has about as good a chance as anyone for a mill with Jess Willard, the champion, but carelessness is liable to prevent him from punching his way to the top. After Coffey's recent joust with Jim Flynn his hands were badly swollen and several small bones broken.

Willard, on the other hand, has one of the finest pairs of fists ever worn by a ringster. He punches out straight and doubles up his fist properly before landing a punch. Coffey swings wildly, and evidently does not hold his hands the right way.

In the bare knuckle days the old gladiators pickled their hands in brine for several weeks before a bout. Even in later days fighters made it a point to learn how to keep their working tools in good shape. In these "get rich quick" days among the big fellows that important point is being overlooked and the career of many a good prospect is being thrown away.

OH, FOR GOODNESS SAKE, NO!

President Clarence Archibold Geist, of the Seaview golf club of Atlantic City, one of America's wealthiest clubs, draws himself up to his full 5 feet 4 and remarks:

"We must have greater privacy, for we are a very exclusive set. There will be no open house tournaments or matches and absolutely nothing concerning our play will be published. You know an open tourney brings to the club a certain undesirable element that it is painful for our aristocratic members to associate with." Aw, Clarence, go chase yourself.

The Ladies Co-operative society will give a pedro party Thursday afternoon at the hall on Harrison street. Other amusements will be provided and a good time is assured.

BOXER LIKES BASEBALL AS TRAINING STUNT.

"Baseball keeps a fellow on his toes and is great training for the eyes," said Clabby. "Batting makes a fellow a fine judge of distance, and that's important in a ring bout.

"Baseball practice has done me as much good as anything else in my training for bouts."

HEINIE PEITZ MAY BE INDIANA COACH

In looking about for a baseball coach for 1916 the authorities of Indiana university have under consideration Heinie Peitz, a veteran of the American league and the American association. Peitz was in the Central league this season as an umpire but illness compelled him to give up this work. He formerly was a catcher for the Reds, and played with the St. Louis Nationals in the nineties. He then became manager of Louisville and later was assistant manager of Kansas City. He spent several years in the capacity of coach of pitchers for the Cardinals. His varied experience has taught him a world of baseball and he is able to teach it.

LABOR DAY RACE MEET.

The Fort Wayne Amateur Driving club will stage its best races of the season at the Centlivre park track on Labor day, in connection with the Fort Wayne Federation of Labor celebration that will be held at the park. The fastest of the horses that have developed on the local track this season, in addition to the old favorites, will be contenders.

REDS ARE VICTORIOUS.

Three members were initiated Tuesday evening at the regular meeting of Anthony Wayne court, Court of Honor. In the contest for new members the Reds, captained by E. M. Buchanan, were successful. Miss Emma Driskel, recorder, was awarded a silver set by Mr. Buchanan for securing the most members. The Blues, who were defeated in the contest, was captained by Mrs. Letitia Patton. She yill give a gold watch to the winner on her team. The lodge will hereafter meet only on the second fourth Tuesdays in each month. The next booster meeting will be held at the Buchanan home, 639 Anderson avenue.

TURN HAIR DARK WITH SAGE TEA

If Mixed With Sulphur It Darkens so Naturally Nobody Can Tell

The old time mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur for darkening gray, streaked and faded hair is grandmother's treatment, and folks are again using it to keep their hair a good, even color, which is quite sensible, as we are living in an age when a youthful appearance is of the greatest advantage.

Nowadays, though, we don't have the troublesome task of gathering the sage and the mussy mixing at home. All drug stores sell the ready-to-use product called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound" for about 50 cents a bottle. It is very popular because nobody can discover it has been applied. Simply moisten your comb or a soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also produces that soft lustre and appearance of abundance which is so attractive; besides prevents dandruff, itching scalp and falling hair.—Adv.

Gallipoli Peninsula, July 25.—Correspondence of the Associated Press.—There are few houses on the Gallipoli peninsula that have not been wrecked by the severe bombardment incident to the landing of the allied troops last April and there are no houses that are now inhabited.

There are wheat fields waiting for the reaper and vineyards and olive groves where work might be done. In the villages the few remaining shops stand idle. From the harbors along the Dardanelles and Gulf of Saros the boats have vanished, and the nets of the fishermen have dried in the hot sun a long time.

Out on the fields the crude plows and harrows lack oxen. The windmills are ruins or have had their canvas sails stripped by shot and shell.

Town, village and countryside have been deserted by their populations. The picturesque civilian garb of Turk and Greek has disappeared and instead everywhere the dull olive drab and hardly brighter khaki uniform of the Turkish soldier.

The British and French ships have thrown tons of thousands of heavy shells on the narrow strip of land. Maidos and Nonlain have been razed. Kirthia is a heap of ruins and Gallipoli stands as a monument to what modern artillery may do. To these must be added every other town, village, and hamlet on the peninsula, and they are by no means few in number.

The expenditure of artillery and aeroplane ammunition of the British and French has been enormous, and wasteful. This morning a British cruiser threw into the town of Gallipoli, exactly 101 shells—a sort of salute to Czar Mars, because there is nothing in Gallipoli to call for such an extravagance with the taxpayers' money. At another point, nearby, ninety-eight shells were hurled. Both bombardments resulted in a bag of one shepherd wounded.

But the bombardment was a fine exhibition. For the greater part of an hour it kept the echos of the Gallipoli hills busy. Then the cruiser steamed to other parts to one of the islands in the Aegean, where its crew may be enjoying a good rest at this moment.

Not a square foot of ground on the peninsula is safe against the British ship artillery fire, though dugouts help. The British gunners start early about 5:15 o'clock in the morning. Why, nobody knows. Light conditions for them would be best late in the afternoon, when the sun illuminates the hills of the peninsula from the southwest, when, in other words, it is behind, instead of before, the gunner. But modern gunnery is not hampered much by such trifles as light conditions, especially when indirect fire, or "map" bombardments make the eye of the cannoneer almost a superfluous thing.

In the conning tower of the bombarding vessel stands an officer with a map and a few other accessories, and puts the higher mathematics, astronomy, and the reports of aeroplane scouts and observers to good use. Astronomy and artillery may seem unrelated, but at a pinch the artillery officer of the bombarding ship can make splendid use of it. If the land marks on the coast do not suit his purposes well enough, he can establish to a fraction of a geographical second just where he is, measure distance between gun and target on his map, shout certain numbers to his crews in the turret and—bang!

The proceeding is simple enough and the landscape of the peninsula, were it a sentient being, would know it. The peninsula gives the impression of a pest of very large and exceedingly active ticks having visited it—together with a violent earthquake. Seen from an elevation, located anywhere, the hills, slopes and narrow valleys appear to have broken out in a sort of bad rash.

Daily the rash increases. A few days ago the Associated Press correspondent was waked at 5:15 a. m. by having a shell explode inconveniently close—through the canvas wall of the tent in which he slept, or had slept until that moment. Other shells came and before the British cruiser deigned to be silent over eighty shots had landed both far from, and near to, the tent. But by that time the correspondent lay snug in a bomb-proof.

If it isn't artillery that spoils the Gallipoli landscape it is the busy aeroplanist's bomb. The allies have many fliers and all of them are bent upon making life on the peninsula as precarious as possible. Every day these birds of ill omen come, and they all throw bombs, some explode with one bang, others do the trick in three installments—in a sort of ripping crash that makes the sound of striking lightning a poor imitation of what man can do in that line.

The hole left by the aerial bomb is not large. But the landscape suffers nevertheless. Everything within a generous radius of the explosion goes down. The grass vanishes under the hot, withering breath, and bush and tree are snapped like so many dry twigs.

To the British bombarding ships the Turks pay no heed—for good reasons. The bombardments are carried on from so long a range that the Turkish batteries cannot reach these disturbers of the idyllic peace, but the aeroplane can be given at least a little attention. The hum of its motor is hardly heard when certain batteries get ready. But to get an aeroplane down is largely accident, and the aviator knows it. So on he sails and just to return compliments he drops a bomb when he imagines he is over the offending battery—which he hardly ever is, according to two weeks' experience of the Associated Press correspondent.

What goes in the air must come down again. The law of gravity makes no exception, even in the case of shrapnel. So if the bomb of the aviator has missed you, the fragments of the shrapnel may not. It takes Turkish nerves to stand a sojourn on the peninsula for any length of time.

The Turks do not seem to mind the combination, in reality do not mind it at all. Their fatalism is a splendid thing under such conditions. If "Kader" the supreme fate, wills death by any means enumerated, then, "Kader" willed it thus, so they reason hereabout. Of course, a bomb-proof, is a good thing they admit. But fate may reach anywhere, even in a bomb-proof. So, what is the use of a bomb-proof? Lately, however, the men have been considerate enough of their fortune of war to observe the progress of the yellow birds from under the trees.

Splendid summer weather prevails on the peninsula. The sun is hot enough, but the proximity of two large bodies of water keeps the breeze stirring. There are alternate spells of wind to the Black sea and wind to the Mediterranean. It is cool even in the middle of the day under the pines and cypresses, though the shade of the latter is a scant thing and to keep in it one must keep shifting every few minutes. The slender cypress of these parts serves better as the column of a sundial than a parasol. The pine is better, and in addition has the admirable quality of permitting the person resting under its fragrant roof to watch the aeroplanes properly, or at least make sure that the humming noise is not merely that of an industrious, little bumble bee instead of an aeroplane all of which tends to make life on the peninsula less unattractive.

But nature does not mind a few scars. In the pine brakes the aromatic rosin floors and the needles emit their pungent fragrance at the coaxing of a warm sun. On the crest of the hills and against the gentler slopes yellow wheat fields imitate the blue waters of the Dardanelles and the Aegean is showing waves under the impulse of the breeze. Cypresses sway and sigh as heretofore, the birds sing and the grasshoppers chirp—all tokens that nature at least is in status quo.

There are many nightingales on the peninsula—when the sun has set they begin their songs, generally cut short by a renewal of the fighting.

Every night there is fighting with machine guns, rifle, bayonet, knife, hand grenade and life-destroying chemicals. Now and then somebody springs a mine besides. The noise of this sort of battle is not particularly great even at short distances from the two arenas. It moves over the ancient hills softly—spasmodically. The dull and equidistant raps of the machine guns are followed by the sharp and regular cracks of the rifles, while exploding hand grenades punctuate as it were, the sentences of the paragraph of history that is being written.

Thus passes the night and at cock's crow peace comes and lingers until the man in the conning tower can read his map and establish angles and degrees for his large calibres.

Mrs. Mary E. Hart, Noted Club-Woman and Author, Tells Amazing Story of Being Haunted by Specter of Youth.

(By Jack Jungmeyer.)

The fact that Mrs. Hart is not a credulous woman, but one trained in a school of harsh materialism along the Yukon, makes her narrative all the more amazing.

She is a big, capable, masterful "sourdough," who has homesteaded, mined, broken trail and mushed in the wildest parts of Alaska for fifteen years. Three times she has represented the north at world's expositions, and is a notable club woman and author.

"Until now I have always been afraid to tell why I can never go back to Nome," she began. "People today can't credit experiences such as I am about to relate.

"It grew out of my unwilling part in the first legal execution in the territory, the hanging of Fred Hardy, a youth convicted of murdering three prospectors at Dutch Flat.

"I was then reporting for a Nome paper and had been assigned to cover the execution and try for a confession from Hardy, although he steadily maintained his innocence.

"Having won his confidence, and all hope for reprieve having gone, I believed Hardy would admit his guilt to me at the last if he was the murderer. He had but a few hours to live when I spoke to him through the bars of his death cell in the old Nome ice house.

"'You are about to die, Fred,' I said. 'I want you to tell me if you did this thing. Such a confession would mean much to me as a newspaper reporter, and could not harm you now because all your chances are gone.'

"'No,' he said finally; 'I can't do it, Mrs. Hart. I was going to lie to make a story for you. But it would be false. I am not a murderer. I can't lie on the brink of eternity, not even to do you, my only friend here, a good turn.'

"'Mrs. Hart,' he asked, 'do you believe in life after death; do you think the dead can make themselves manifest to the living?'

"'I do,' he continued, 'and I shall return to tell you about death and about the beyond—if I will be welcome?'

"'Yes,' I stammered with creeping horror, 'yes, you'd be welcome, Fred.' What else could I have said to a boy about to die?"

Mrs. Hart told the rest of her story with manifest effort at self-control.

"I was in my office writing the story of the hanging, which I had witnessed.

"It was quiet and I was alone.

"And then Fred Hardy, whom I had seen dashed into eternity, came back—to haunt me for many hideous weeks.

"I sat rigid in my chair, unable to move or speak. It was as though I were being choked to death; as if I were undergoing what that twenty-one-year-old youth must have experienced during his last moment. I am confident I would have died but for an interruption.

"A girl we knew as 'Sunshine' in Nome knocked at the door, entered, touched me on the shoulder, shrieked, 'My God, Hardy is here!' and fell to the floor, alternately fainting and hysterical.

"She spoke in Hardy's voice, describing death torments—'Sunshine' who had not witnessed the hanging, speaking in Hardy's low, peculiar voice? It was frightful beyond words.

"That almost lethal paralysis left my body at the instant 'Sunshine' touched my shoulder, but from that day until I left Nome I was haunted day and night by that inexplicable presence. It was destroying my health. I had to come away. The obsession did not cease until I was aboard the boat, bound for San Francisco, where at least one other person saw this ghostly presence.

Woman's Day, Robison Park, Wednesday August 18th.

The annual Woman's Day will be held at Robison park on Wednesday, Aug. 18. There will be a special prize for the oldest woman, a special prize for the tallest woman and a special prize for the heaviest woman. The old ladies will parade at 2 p. m. Beautiful prizes will be awarded the costumes in the Hard Times Parade. The only object of the Hard Times Parade is good, wholesome fun. The imported German work baskets and the exquisite Limoges china plates that have been on exhibition all summer in the pavilion will be awarded this year only to those appearing in the Hard Times Parade. There will also be ten grand prizes for the best ten costumes typifying the hard times idea. All the women employes of Robison park will be dressed in hard time costumes on Woman's Day.

Hard Times Parade Judges

B. J. Griswold, of the People's Trust building; Mrs. Hugh G. Keegan, of Swinney court, and Mrs. Frank Bond, of West Jefferson street, are the judges who will select the winning costumes in the Hard Times Parade on Woman's day. There will be ten grand prizes for the best ten costumes typifying the Hard Times idea. The beautiful souvenirs that have been on exhibition all summer in the pavilion will also be awarded to those appearing in the Hard Times Parade. The grand total of prizes, therefore, is just one hundred and twenty-nine as there are one hundred and nineteen souvenirs to be distributed. Every one of these will be given away on Woman's day only to those appearing in the Hard Times Parade.

HIS FIRST VISIT AT PENNSY SHOPS

William C. Downing, general superintendent of the Pennsylvania Northwest System, whose portrait appears above, was in Fort Wayne last night and this morning for the first time since his appointment to his present office. He is out on his first inspection trip as general superintendent, and was accompanied over the western division by Superintendent Otto Schroll and the heads of the several departments. Yesterday was devoted to an inspection of the Chicago end of the line and to the shops at Indiana Harbor, coming to Fort Wayne by special train as the second section of No. 8 last night. This morning Mr. Downing inspected the shops and other property of the company in Fort Wayne, leaving at noon for the east.

The special train was abandoned here and Mr. Downing and party went east on a regular train, his private car being attached to No. 40, which left at 12:30 o'clock this afternoon. With Mr. Downing on the inspection trip, in addition to the division officials, are Signal Engineer J. P. Buchanan and Car ervice Man E. W. Parrott, of the general offices at Pittsburg. The local division officials who accompanied Mr. Downing to Crestline were Supt. Otto Schroll, Trainmaster C. L. Hamilton, Division Engineer Guy Scott, Master Mechanic E. E. Griest, Division Operator H. B. Reynolds, Road Foreman of Engines L. R. Colmey and Assistant Road Foreman of Engineers F. E. Wilmore.

Altoona, Pa., Aug. 11. Anticipating a shortage of coal this fall and winter the Pennsylvania railroad is taking steps to protect itself by storing thousands of tons at convenient points along the system. Two big storage stations have been established here.

Since the start of the European war many miners have responded to calls to the colors. As a result coal companies have been obliged to advertise for miners.

One operator in the central Pennsylvania fields stated dealers are making money now for the first time in several years, as the manufacturing of war munitions has created a big demand for coal and most of the mines are working full time.

DID YOU SEE THAT CROWD

CROWDED TO THE DOORS

Gigantic Compulsory Sale!

CROWDS TREMENDOUS! PUBLIC AMAZED!

Colossal! Mighty! Stupendous!

Powerful Money Saving Opportunities Await You on Every Hand.

An Apology to the Public

We are sorry that we could not wait on you, with our floor force of over 88 salespeople, the task was too great. But we will do our utmost to make amends to morrow and the coming week. Despite the tremendous amount of selling done the opening day, our store is still teeming with WONDERFUL BARGAINS in all lines. Don't Wait! Come Early. The biggest and greatest quality and low price sale ever held in Fort Wayne. Such was the assertion heard on every hand, and it's not surprising when you see and realize that never before have such values of "The World's Best Makes" been offered at such low prices. But come and be convinced.

ENTIRE STOCK MUST BE SOLD AT ONCE.

Chicago, Aug. 11.—Rapid harvesting under favorable conditions in the spring crop states caused declines today in all deliveries of wheat except September. That option went to a premium over December for the first time this season. Opening prices, which ranged from a shade to ⅝c lower, were followed by a moderate rally that carried September above last night's level.

Corn showed firmness, the result of an expected falling off in receipts. After opening unchanged to ¼@½c higher, the market tended to harden a little in addition.

THE DAY ON WALL STREET.

New York, Aug. 11.—Standard stocks were again to the fore at the opening of today's market, yesterday's demand for those issues being resumed. Union Pacific was the prominent feature, its initial sale of 1,500 shares being made at an advance of 1¼ points, while St. Paul, Northern Pacific, Atchison and Louisville and Nashville soon rose one to 1¾. United States Steel was inclined to react after a moderate advance and some of the war specialties, notably Bethlehem Steel and Crucible, lost two to three points.

Profit taking caused moderate recessions before the end of the first hour in which time sales exceeded 300,000 shares, U. S. Steel being again the most prominent feature. Trading slackened perceptibly later but prices made another advance under lead of Canadian Pacific, which added four points to yesterday's substantial gain. War industrials continued reactionary, Crucible Steel declining over six points. Studebaker and Willys-Overland were exceptions, scoring new high prices. Bonds were strong.

TWO ARE DECLARED GUILTY.

Chicago, Aug. 11.—The jury in "police graft case" found William Egan and Walter O'Brien, former detectives, guilty of accepting bribes from clairvoyants and fixed the penalty at from one to five years. The verdict was arrived at after twenty-four ballots.

The two detectives were charged with having accepted money from Barney Berische and James and Frank Ryan to protect the clairvoyants from prosecution.

John Northrup, counsel for O'Brien, made a demand for a new trial and Judge O'Connor intimated he would hear a motion to that effect in the near future.

CHICAGO BACHELOR GUEST OF WILSONS

Chicago, Aug. 11.—Frank E. Compton, a Chicago bachelor of 30, arrived yesterday in Cornish, N. H., for a short visit with the family of President Wilson. He is described as "a friend of Miss Margaret Wilson" in the Associated Press dispatches.

Miss Margaret is the last of the three daughters of the president remaining unmarried. More than a vague hint has been made by friends of Mr. Compton, who is a publisher, that he either is betrothed to Miss Margaret or burningly desires to be.

May Leave Wilson Alone.

In the event that an engagement is announced it will mean that the president soon will be left alone in the white house. Bereaved of his wife shortly after his daughter Jessie married Francis B. Sayre a year ago last November, he saw his daughter Eleanor become the wife of William Gibbs McAdoo, secretary of the treasury, in the following May. Miss Margaret alone of the family of five which came to live in the government mansion at his inauguration will remain with him.

And now, with circumstantial probabilities and Mr. Compton's visit as "a friend of Miss Margaret Wilson," the president's most intimate associate will not be surprised if another announcement soon carries with it the president's third daughter's departure from the home circle.

Mr. Compton is president of the F. L. Compton Publishing company. He has a bachelor residence of unobtrusive front in Glencoe and is a member of Skokie Golf club.

He was deeply embarrassed when the report was made known to him shortly before his departure for Cornish.

"Incidentally" was the burden of his explanation regarding his several meetings with Miss Margaret heretofore, which had not attracted public comment.

He agreed that he had met the unmarried Miss Wilson several times "incidentally," knew her "incidentally" and was about to visit her "incidentally."

"But it is a business trip," he hastened to add. "I am going to call on correspondents and representatives of our company in the east."

Denies He's Engaged.

"Are you engaged to Miss Wilson?" was the next blunt query.

Mr. Compton blushed and looked agitated.

"Of course not," he hurriedly answered. "The report is absurd. I am sure it will embarrass Miss Wilson and the president, and, since it has absolutely no foundation of any sort, will you kindly make no mention of it?"

Mr. Compton said he never had met any member of the president's family except Miss Margaret. When asked for details of the first and several meetings with the young white house mistress he said he did not feel free to discuss Miss Wilson's personal comings and goings through the press.

NEW GUARDSMEN ARE IMPROVING RAPIDLY

Indianapolis, Aug. 11.—The practical value of the training given Indiana national guard members was demonstrated beyond dispute at the camp at Fort Benjamin Harrison yesterday, when the men showed marked improvement in parade in the evening. The improvement over the performances of the previous day was so marked that the regular army officers almost without exception congratulated the men on the strides they had made.

Although the men have been at the camp only since early Monday, they have shown a keen desire to increase their military knowledge, and it is to this spontaneous desire to make better records that the advancement is attributed.

The speed with which the men have made improvements in their military appearance is regarded as all the more remarkable because of the fact that about half of the members of the two battalions have had practically no military experience. It was expected that this lack of knowledge would impede the improvement of the troops and the company captains were surprised to find the men taking to their new work as if they had had long previous training.

The regular army officers were free with words of praise after the parade last evening. It is their prediction that by the time the men disband they will have made wonderful strides toward a higher efficiency in the military work.

FRENCH RED CROSS MAKES A PROTEST

Denounces Alleged Measures of Reprisal Taken by Germany.

Paris, Aug. 11.—The Marquis de Vogue, president of the Central committee of the French Red Cross, has sent a formal protest to Gustave Ador, president of the International Red Cross committee at Geneva, against alleged measures of reprisal taken by the German government against French prisoners of war in retaliation for alleged mistreatment of German prisoners. This protest, dated August 4, is based on a report by Baron Danthouard, the plenipotentiary accredited by the French government to represent the French Red Cross at war prison camps.

Baron Danthouard states that a thousand French prisoners have been taken from camps at Erfurt, Ohrdruff, Darmstadt, Friedrichfeld, Munster and Merzburg and sent to the Hanoverian swamps, "a region of notorious unhealthfulness," there to be employed in draining and clearing land. For most of these men, unaccustomed to such work, this is physical and mental torture and killing fatigue in the misery of improvised quarters. This barbarous penalty is cold bloodedly inflicted on innocence with the undisguised purpose to terrorize their families and exercise, through them, moral pressure on French public opinion and government.

To prove that these reprisals are without cause, de Vogue recites a report by the Swiss Colonel Marval, deputed by the Red Cross to examine French camps, wherein Marval says: "Labor conditions surrounding prisoners in both Morocco and France are normal and in conformance with humanitarian laws."

De Vogue says further that the only German prisoners ever interned in Dahomey were those captured in Togoland Kameroun, where the climate is similar to that in Dahomey. All these prisoners, he says, have been transferred to Morocco.

AUTO CRASHES OVER 50-FOOT EMBANKMENT

Cleveland, O., Aug. 11.—One man was killed and five were seriously injured early today when an automobile in which the party was returning from the Griffiths-Sayler fight at Akron, crashed down a fifty-foot embankment after leaping through the rail of a bridge over the Erie railroad tracks several miles southeast of the city. The dead:

George F. Murray, 35, shipping clerk.

Rome, Aug. 10.—(Via Paris, Aug. 11, 3:50 a. m.) Pope Benedict has determined to make a new appeal for peace according to the newspaper Roma which declares the pontiff is resolved to use every means within his power to bring about the desired result. He will ask the help of the episcopate and, the newspaper asserts, is even considering the convocation of a universal council of the church at Rome.

The Roma which does not give its authority asserts it has been informed that the pope will forbid all representatives of the church in belligerent countries, under pain of excommunication, from offering prayers for victory, from asking blessings for the combatants, or even administering the sacraments to those responsible for a continuation of the war.

The same newspaper claims to have information to the effect that the pope has made a personal appeal to the president of the United States, the presidents of Switzerland and of the central and South American republics as well as to the king of Spain and the Scandinavian countries asking them to join with him in an effort to obtain at least a truce preparatory to the opening of peace negotiations.

'TIS A FINE FUTURE I HAVE AHEAD OF ME- NOTHING BUT WORK WORK-WORK TO THE END OF MY DAYS!
I SAY-FAWTHA-I'VE DECIDED TO BECOME A BALLY GOOD AMERICAN-I'VE IMPOSED UPON YOUR GENEROSITY TOO LONG HUH?
SO DOWN WITH EVERYTHING BRITISH AND OFF WITH THESE FAWNCY DUDS-I'M GOING TO WORK!
GOING TO WORK?
YES-WORK! AND THE FIRST THING I'M GOING TO DO IS TO THROW OUT THAT LAZY OLD MAJOR!
YOU DON'T MEAN IT?
DEUCED STRANGE I MUST SAY!
NOT ANOTHER WORD I SAY-BUT GO!
NO-FAWTHA! I FORBID YOU WORKING ANY MORE - I SHALL FILL YOUR PLACE HEREAFTER!
HARD WORK AGREES WITH YOU MY BOY-
IT SURELY DOES I FEEL AS THOUGH I COULD WHIP TEN ENGLISHMEN.
IT'S BEASTLY HUMID-FAWTHA- I MUST AWSK YOU TO MAKE ME A CUP OF TEA-
FAITH-IF I HAD ONE OUNCE OF SENSE I'D HAVE KNOWN I WAS DREAMING!

By grace of the strange circumstances that always heretofore Andy Donnelly, formerly of Baker street, but now of 418 Dawson street, had been arrested for assault and battery or disorderly conduct, it was found impossible to place previous convictions for intoxication against him in the city court, Wednesday morning, and by this fluke of fortune he was spared a long term at the state penal farm. This time he was in on a drunk charge, and the best Judge Kerr could do for him was $5 and costs, and he went to jail for fifteen days. Heretofore Andrew has been in for beating his wife, mauling his daughter, cleaning up on his wife's male boarders or for general deviltry that could be reached by disorderly charges. It fell out, however, that when he was arrested Tuesday evening by Officer Walter Boseker he was merely drunk, though his daughter testified that he had been abusing her and a young lady who stays with her nights since the death of Mrs. Donnelly a few weeks ago. A minute search of the records failed to disclose a previous conviction for drunkenness.

Speeders in Court.

C. W. Wass, an 18-year-old youth residing at 1421 Hurd street, was fined $25 and costs for speeding his motorcycle on Buchanan street a few minutes after the noon hour, Tuesday, when he was hurrying homeward to dinner from the Pennsylvania shops. Motorcycle Officer Dan Kintz, who made the arrest, testified that he had "clocked" young Wass and found he was sailing along at thirty-two miles an hour. Judge Kerr took into account the youth of the offender and abated the rigors of the conventional fine 5.0 per cent and made it $25.

Andrew Kail, a young man whose home is on DeWald street, was arrested by Officers Boseker and Becke shortly before 12 o'clock Tuesday night after he had come down the hill on Lafayette street to Wallace street at a speed of twenty-five to thirty miles an hour. He admitted he was going better than twenty miles. Officer Boseker said Kail tried to run away when commanded to stop, and was halted when he threatened to shoot. Judge Kerr continued the case until August 30, and released Kail on his own recognizance.

Right Back In Jail.

John Dolan, who was released from jail Tuesday morning after doing fifteen days for drunkenness, started right in to celebrate the advent of freedom, and, within four hours, was again locked up. He pleaded for one more chance to get out to the rolling mills, where he was sure a job awaited him, and was told he would get to it after the lapse of fifteen days, and, if he didn't, his next time in would ticket him to the penal farm.

MISTAKE $10 FOR $20.

The police have no great expectation of being able to find the young man who made small purchase at the Reed grocery on East Columbia street Tuesday, and tendered in payment $10 gold piece that looked big enough to Arthur Swope, the clerk, to mistake for a $20 disc and change was given accordingly. The customer left and then Swope discovered his error.

POLICE WILL GET OWNER.

The number borne by an automobile that collided with Albert Brudi, 2414 Gay street, who was riding a bicycle when the smash occurred at Washington and Clinton streets was Indiana 11,216, and the police will identify the owner through the office of the secretary of state. Brudi's wheel was damaged and he received some severe cuts about the face and his right hand was dislocated.

MEETING WITH SUCCESS.

The plan of increasing the quarterly dues from $4 to $5, the extra dollar to be placed in a fund for a new building for the Commercial club, is meeting with almost universal favor among the members of the club.

President Van Perrine stated Wednesday that he had received many answers to letters sent out to each member setting forth the plan and asking for their opinion, and out of all the replies only two have answered unfavorably. Several members favor an even larger assessment.

The plant to raise the money was proposed at the last meeting of the board of directors, it being figured that in five years' time a sufficient amount will have been raised to erect a building that will not only be a credit to the club but to the city of Fort Wayne as well.
